BRITAIN RECALLS TROOPS; CRISIS FEARED

Mail Theft Ring Nation-Wide

BELIEVE GANG HAS INSIDE KNOWLEDGE OF COIN SHIPMENTS

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, April 7.—A nation-wide thieves' organization, whose directing genius has "inside" information of large currency shipments made by Federal reserve banks and whose agents are working under cover in the registry divisions of the country's principal postoffices, has been responsible for registered mail robberies aggregating more than $6,000,000 within the last nine months.

This was the opinion expressed by the postal authorities at Washington following receipt of the details of the Dearborn-street station hold-up which netted five hold-up men more than $500,000 in cash and Liberty Bonds late Wednesday afternoon. Hard on the heels of this report came another of a registered mail robbery at Sullivan, Ind., the home town of Postmaster-General Will Hays.

RECOVER EMPTY SACK.

The evidence that the loss would be large was obtained when the police recovered a mail pouch that had been ripped open, rifled and thrown aside. It contained money wrappers, which showed there had been one package of $100,000 in one-thousand-dollar bills, another of $40,000 in one-dollar bills and a third of $50,000.

The pouch also had contained five sacks, each holding five smaller bags containing currency and consigned to various Federal reserve bank members. Most of the money was consigned to Indianapolis banks.

Local postal inspectors freely express the opinion that Chicago's latest mail robbery was an "inside job," but advance the theory that the currency shipment to Indianapolis banks was tipped off from the Chicago Federal Reserve Bank rather than from the postoffice.

"A large criminal element obtained jobs in the postoffice during the war when there was a shortage of men," declared Chief of Detectives Hughes. "They are still there. They are behind these mail robberies. The government is largely to blame for failing to arm its employees who have charge of the transfer of registered mail pouches containing huge sums of money."

Aside from the disclosure of the $6,000,000 registered mail ring, the outstanding developments in the day's search for the Dearborn-street station robbers were:

PHOTOGRAPHS IDENFIFIED.

Photographs of Eddie McBride and John McVilley, recently accused of the murder of Policeman John Mullen, were identified by witnesses as two of the robbers.

On a tip received by Chief Hughes, nineteen suspects, most of them post-office employees, were taken into custody in a raid on a poolroom at Clark and Van Buren Streets.

Oliver Brown, manager of the Bellevue Garage, from which the mail robbers stole the car used in the hold-up, was taken into custody for questioning by the Federal authorities. Cecil Miller, night watchman, who was asleep when the car was stolen, also was arrested.

"America has returned his services to us a hundred-fold.

"But," he continued, "our relations are not those of creditor and debtor, but those of peoples saturated with the same ideals. The name of America will be blessed in the humblest home of the remotest hamlet of France."

M. Viviani said he had brought as a token from the French government a small Sevres vase, which would be presented to the city.

Martin W. Littleton, speaking at the dinner tonight, said that "while we have paused in front of obligations, concealed in the possibilities of a covenant, we have not turned our backs upon the lofty aim and superb spirit which the covenant tries to express."

SINGLE TAX IS MASKED.

Propagandists Are Busy in Congress.

One Per Cent Levy for "Use" of Land Worth More Than Ten Thousand Dollars.

Bill Would do Indirectly What is Illegal to do Directly.

BY ROBERT B. ARMSTRONG.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, April 7.—The great effort to foist the plan of the single-taxer onto every holder of real estate in the nation as a franchise tax is to be renewed at the coming session of Congress. Efforts are being made to raise a great fund and to initiate an enormous propaganda back of this plan to tax everyone owning more than $10,000 worth of real estate 1 per cent of the value thereof for the privilege of holding such real estate.

Part of the scheme is to flood Congress with a million letters urging this law and attempting by a Federal privilege tax to do what has been defeated in California and many other States, levy a direct single tax on real estate.

John I. Nolan of California, who introduced the bill in the last Congress at the request of some of his friends and constituents, will have nothing more to do with the measure and will not reintroduce it, but some other Congressman has promised to do so, and the campaign in its favor will be as aggressive and vigorous as ever, if not more so, and large numbers of manufacturers and other business men are being enlisted as its champions on the specious plea that such a measure will relieve most business men from the larger part of the burden of internal revenue and income taxes.

BILL IS DENOUNCED.

The bill is denounced by the taxation committee of the National Association of Real Estate Boards in the following language:

"There is pending before Congress this bill, which proposes to tax the right to use, own and occupy land or natural resources in $10,000 units and over annually at 1 per cent. It should be made clear that they do not attempt to tax the land, perhaps on account of constitutional difficulties, but they do attempt to tax the right to use, own and occupy land, which is a hairline distinction in the actual ownership.

"Many people thought this effort of a considerable western group who are backing the bill as impossible. A few weeks ago a letter was received from their committee, and it was stated in the letter that it was one of a million going out to business men, appealing to their selfish interest to shift a $1,600,000,000 of taxes from merchants and manufacturers to the poor, inert, elephantine—you might almost say, dull—owners of real estate. Are we not going to do something to combat this attack upon our interests? I think we are; and we ask Congressmen to kill that bill dead. Everyone interested should take it upon himself to be heard at Washington on this subject.

ENTERING WEDGE.

"This taxation is looked upon as the entering wedge to load off onto real estate Federal taxes which real estate has never paid, being confined in its terrific problems of maintaining the governments of the several States, which it does to the extent of practically 80 per cent, and in a total far beyond the total of Federal taxes—some say double."

Inasmuch as real estate now bears from 60 to 80 per cent of all the taxation of the cities, counties and States this bill seems to have the opposition of the heaviest taxpayers of the country and all that is necessary to do is to have the public recognize the measure as the plain old single-tax in a national guise.

For the benefit of every owner of real estate above the maximum limit of exemption—$10,000—the bill is reproduced in full below. It was referred to the Ways and Means Committee and died there when all legislation of the last Congress expired with the life of the Congress. The committee never held a hearing and the bill never had a chance of passage except through the misinformation and indifference of the public to the real facts.

The measure reads as follow:

TEXT OF MEASURE.

"A bill to provide for the raising of public revenues by a tax upon the privileges of the use and enjoyment of lands of large value.

"Be it enacted by the Senate and

DOVE SOARS UNCERTAIN

Peace Resolution is Up in the Air.

Some Senators Say It Will be the First Business of Congress.

Others Declare That Harding Would Have It Delayed for Awhile.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, April 7.—The "definite indefinite" has been forthcoming in Washington for a week on the Knox resolution for a separate peace with Germany. Half the Senators say that the resolution is to be submitted as soon as the Senate meets and that it is to go through with the President's sanction already obtained.

Other Senators say, and the exact words of one of them are quoted:

"Don't bank too much on immediate action on the Knox peace resolution. President Harding wants it held up for some time until due consideration can be given to possible amendments."

In nearly all the dispatches from Washington it has been said with finality of expression that the Knox resolution will be virtually the first business of the Senate, or at least its first business after it gets through with the Colombian treaty which it is declared is to be sanctioned in order to maintain cordial relations with a country which, in the Roosevelt administration, tried to hold Uncle Sam up and got a black eye for its pains.

SECTION BLUE PENCILED.

When Senator Knox introduced his resolution on June 12, 1919, it had something in it which afterward was struck out. This is Section 5, which was blue penciled:

"That, finally, it shall be the declared policy of our government in order to meet fully and fairly our obligations to ourselves and to the world, that the freedom and peace of Europe being again threatened by any power or combination of powers, the United States will regard such a situation with grave concern as a menace to its own peace and freedom, will consult with other powers affected with a view to devising means for the removal of such menace and will, the necessity arising, in the future carry out the same complete accord and co-operation with our chief cobelligerents for the defense of civilization."

It seems probable today that President Harding desires that the Knox resolution shall be sanctioned by the Senate, but it is not believed by all here that the matter is to be rushed through, many of the Senators, notably the irreconcilables, seem to think.

WANTS SECTION BACK.

There are good reasons to believe that President Harding desires that Section 5, which was omitted from the resolution as it was submitted to the Senate shall be restored and it is thought also that he probably will ask that something stronger be added to prove to our cobelligerents in the great war that this country is in sympathy with them in plans to make Germany pay its indemnity.

There have been suggestions that something of the nature of the Hughes note to Germany on the subject of indemnity shall be incorporated in the resolution. Such a course as this, it is said here, will please both France and England, and especially France.

In the matter of foreign relations, except in so far as his mind has been disclosed by the Hughes note to Germany, President Harding has managed to keep his secrets. The best proof of this is that the Senators today are divided into two camps as to his probable course in connection with the resolution of the Pennsylvania Senator for an immediate and a separate peace with Germany. It has been proved within the last few days that Mr. Harding is inclined to stand with the Allies more stanchly than has been supposed and that especially is he kindly disposed to France and to the endeavors to secure such recompense as is possible for the wrongs committed against her by Germany.

OPINION STRENGTHENED.

The Hughes note, sent, of course, with the full knowledge and consent of Mr. Harding, adds strength to the opinion that there will be additions to the Knox resolution and that even the irreconcilables will accept them because of knowledge that they represent the President's views, and today not even such irreconcilables as Mr. Johnson are willing to enter into a controversy with the administration when opposition would seem

MILLIONAIRE SERGEANT IS SUING WIFE.

Veterans Are Called in Divorce Action to Tell of His Conduct in France.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WARREN (O.) April 7.—Sixteen veterans, members of the company led in France by Thomas H. Wells, "the millionaire sergeant," were brought here today by Mrs. Stacia Welsh Wells to testify in the divorce proceedings brought by Wells, which Mrs. Wells is opposing. They are expected to testify as to Wells's conduct while in France.

Testimony in the case yesterday brought mention of many prominent people, including Mrs. Sam H. Harris, wife of the theatrical producer of New York, Mr. and Mrs. French Miller of Franklin, Pa., visitors to the Wells country home near Youngstown, and De Grimm Renfrew, wealthy Franklin oil man who now lives in Newcastle, Pa. Renfrew was named after he had been referred to as "Mr. D." Servants at the Wells home testified they had seen him embracing Mrs. Wells.

Wells, who gained his nickname as "Millionaire Sergeant" by expenditures for his company in France, has a fortune estimated at $850,000, it was testified, and an annual income of $40,000. He testified that he met Mrs. Wells, daughter of a Youngstown steel worker, when she was a manicurist in New York, and that she proposed to him.

EMPIRE FEARS LABOR CATACLYSM; GLEAM OF HOPE IN DARK HOUR

BY HENRY WALES.

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

PARIS, April 7.—According to information received tonight by the French Foreign Office, Great Britain is recalling troops from all parts of the British Empire to preserve order in England in the event of a serious labor cataclysm.

Following recent withdrawal of four special battalions of infantry machine gunners sent to Upper Silesia during the plebiscite period the British war office today ordered all other troops home from Silesia, leaving the French units as the only garrison in the district.

It also is stated that British troops are being withdrawn from Malta, Mesopotamia and India to strengthen the home forces.

PREMIER HOPES TO AVERT CRISIS.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

LONDON, April 7.—Another day of tense alternations of hope and fear arising from the coal strike ended with one of the Premier's eleventh-hour interventions, bringing renewed prospects that the grave industrial crisis will be averted. He announced in the House of Commons tonight willingness of the government to participate in a conference to discuss pumping before other matters were considered.

Informal conferences continued this evening, moderates seeking to induce the miners to relent on pumping, and it was supposed that the whole question was turning on this slender hope.

Premier Lloyd George, after an absence, returned to the House unexpectedly and informed the members that the government had agreed to a course. It is believed practically certain the miners will accept the calling of a conference of owners and miners to discuss the difficulty relative to pumping the mines before touching on wages and other matters.

HENDERSON STUMPED.

What steps had led up to this change of front were not revealed. Arthur Henderson, who rose to reply to the Premier, was nonplused. He had, he said, to express regret that the Premier had not given notice of such an important statement.

As he had earlier explained, the miners' federation would have preferred to open the conference without conditions.

Organizations composing the triple alliance, held no further meetings tonight. The Board of Trade issued an official report of today's negotiations. The report concludes with a repudiation of the accusation that the government is engaged in a general attack on wages.

"Such a charge is as monstrous as it is unfounded. The government and community alike are desirous

ALL RADIUM IN CHICAGO IS MISSING.

Girl with $50,000 Worth Loses It on Elevated; Finder in Great Danger.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, April 7.—Fifty milligrams of radium, valued at $50,000, the joint property of a group of physicians, is lost somewhere in the city, a constant menace to its finder. It was contained in a golden capsule.

Miss Lillian Brown, custodian of the treasure, had been sent to a hospital to get it for use elsewhere and placed the precious box on a window sill of an elevated train. There was some confusion in the car and when she alighted she forgot the radium. The train was searched later, but the box had disappeared.

This capsule represents practically all the radium owned in Chicago. Physicians have issued warnings to the finder that he is dealing with a living death, and that even in the hands of an expert, radium is a dangerous element. The effects are lasting and may be quickly fatal.

Kalamazoo Lady Police Fight, so Both Are Fired.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

KALAMAZOO (Mich.) April 7.—Feminine jealousies have disrupted the women's squad of the Kalamazoo police department, Chief Taffe declared today in announcing that he had requested the resignation of two policewomen.

"Something had to be done," he said. "The women are supposed to work together irrespective of personalities, but there has been more or less friction for weeks, and cooperation has become impossible. Dismissal was the only solution."

The Chief has not stated whether he will restrict the force in the future to one policewoman, or replace both.

PLEBISCITE OFFICERS WOUNDED BY GERMAN.

PIERRE (S. D.) April 7.—Pending decision by the State Supreme Court on the constitutionality of the South Dakota Sunday blue laws, enforcement of these old statutes will be held in abeyance, it was indicated today at the office of Atty.-Gen. Payne. The State today filed its brief in the test case brought against Allen Goethal, a theater owner of Huron, so that decision can be expedited.

QUICK HELP IS ASSURED

Harding Will Act for Veterans.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, April 7.—President Harding will take immediate steps to end the confusion, inefficiency and inadequacy involved in the present system of care and relief of disabled soldiers and sailors, which have made the discharge of this war obligation little short of a national scandal.

In accord with the recommendations of the Dawes committee submitted to him today, the President will urge Congress to consolidate all of the agencies for soldier care and relief into an independent veterans' service administration under a director immediately under the jurisdiction of the Executive.

Pending such legislation the President will consolidate these agencies so far as is possible under existing law. Mr. Harding indicated that he would make his recommendations in this particular a major feature of his message to Congress next Tuesday, and would press for immediate passage of the necessity legislation.

COMMITTEE'S REPORT.

To work out a plan of adequate care and relief the President appointed the committee, headed by Gen. Charles Gates Dawes. In concluding its report to the Executive the committee says:

"No emergency of war itself was greater than is the emergency, which confronts the nation in its duty to care for those disabled in its service and now neglected."

The committee unanimously and

STICKS TO CONFESSION.

Police Fail to Shake Story of Self-Accused Slayer of Elwell.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

BUFFALO, April 7.—Two hours of questioning tonight by New York newspaper men failed to shake the story of Roy Harris, who last night confessed to the local police that he and a companion murdered Joseph B. Elwell in New York last June.

Except for some minor details, Harris described the arrangement of the rooms in Elwell's home. He told again the story of how he and William Duncan, hired by a mysterious "Mrs. Fairchild," went to the home of Elwell and waited for four hours until he came home. Then, he said, Duncan fired the shot which killed Elwell.

Harris said he had seen published in connection with the Elwell case a picture of a woman who he thought was Mrs. Fairchild. He said he would not divulge her name unless he was certain that the woman of the picture was the woman who, as he said, had hired him and Duncan to murder Elwell.

IS MENTALLY NORMAL.

Dist.-Atty. Moore said Harris told a remarkably well-connected story. Before questioning the man was examined by an alienist, who pronounced him mentally normal.

HOOVER TO AID BUSINESS.

Wants Double Taxes Against American Companies Abroad Removed.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, April 7.—Exemption of the profits of American concerns doing business in foreign countries from the American excess profits and income tax laws was advocated today by Secretary Hoover.

Complaints have been received from American concerns in all parts of the world, Mr. Hoover said, that they were forced to compete with foreign houses who paid only local taxes, while American concerns paid excess profits and income taxes at home, in addition to the dues in the foreign countries.

Mr. Hoover declared that provision should be made to exempt American concerns from that portion of their profits derived from foreign business to enable them to meet competition.

Complaint against the present system was made today, Mr. Hoover said, by representatives of the Federated Chambers of Commerce of Mexico, which included the American chamber there. The representatives from Mexico, he said, discussed the problem of competition which American exporters to Mexico are facing because goods are shipped from Europe at cheaper rates.

They informed him, he said, shipments from Hamburg and Liverpool were being made at $9 and $10 a ton which cost $20 a ton from North Atlantic ports. Mr. Hoover declared German competition was growing rapidly, particularly in such lines as tools. He added, however, most German business was being conducted through government contribution to industry, and expressed the belief that the German manufacturer does not know the cost of his products.

While the Germans can undersell their competitors now, he declared, they are piling up a debt against a day of reckoning.

Taxpayers' Scheme Doomed by Committee.

Senate Passes Bill Aimed at Jap Fishers.

Prohibits Use of California Waters by Aliens.

BY KYLE D. PALMER.
[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SACRAMENTO, April 7. — The cards are stacked to kill in committee the governmental reorganization plan submitted to the Legislature after four years of scientific research by Will H. Fischer of the Taxpayers' Association of California.

Despite a clean-cut, unbiased and wholly impersonal presentation of the taxpayers' plan, which included a convincing arraignment of the inefficiency and insufficiency of the counter-reorganization scheme prepared in the Governor's office, it became a foregone conclusion today that the administration plan will be reported out of committee with a favorable recommendation.

SEEMS LITTLE CHANCE.

There seems little chance that the administration's eight reorganization bills, freighted with patronage and privilege for the Governor's office, will be defeated.

Fischer himself was not prepared tonight to admit the hopelessness of the situation. He issued the following statement:

"We have virtually completed our affirmative presentation of the reorganization bill prepared by our association. I think it must be admitted that we have not been broken down at any point. We have presented a table of savings showing in detail each item of economy which would result from our plan of reorganization.

"This table of savings has been built up in full contemplation of existing laws, and on the basis of accurate statistical information gathered by us during the past four years.

"It has not been and cannot be successfully challenged, although the enemies of economy can attack it, of course, if they so desire. Our table shows that my declaration, made early in the session, that economies amounting to $1,500,000 annually would result from complete reorganization, was not an idle utterance, but was an exact statement of fact.

"We shall now await with interest the presentation of the argument in favor of the Governor's plan and his table of savings. We invite and challenge comparison of the two plans and the savings possible thereunder."

Final action in the reorganization matter will be taken next week, according to plans of the sponsors of the Governor's bills, following which a conference will be held by those opposed to the administration program.

At this conference a decision will be reached as to whether or not the people should be asked to vote on a general State reorganization plan to be submitted as an initiative measure at the general election in November, 1922.

TALKS TEETH OUT.

No business was transacted by the Assembly today, all members joining in a forensic contest on the wet and dry issue. One speaker became so vigorous in delivery that he lost for the moment, both his voice and a set of teeth, but recovered one with restoration of the other and proceeded without embarrassment or diminution of enthusiasm.

In the Senate a bill of considerable moment to the fish canning industry of Southern California was passed after its author, Senator Inman, consented to an amendment delaying enforcement of his act until January, 1923.

Opinion was sharply divided as to the merits of the bill, which was aimed at Japanese fishers, but which according to its opponents, proposes to wipe out Southern California's $7,000,000 fish canneries.

AIMED AT JAPS.

The bill would prohibit fishing in California waters by aliens ineligible to citizenship and if signed by the Governor, it is claimed, would put out of commission a fleet of Japanese fishing boats that now are prepared to supply approximately 90 per cent of the tuna and albicore now canned at Los Angeles Harbor.

Senator Charles Lyon of Venice, who fought adoption of the Inman bill, asserted that 6500 white employees of the canneries affected would be thrown out of work if the bill becomes law.

A communication by B. Houssels, president of the International Packing Corporation of Los Angeles, protesting passage of the bill, was read by Senator Rominger of Long Beach. The letter follows in part:

"We are very much opposed to this bill, as it would absolutely cripple, if not totally annihilate, the entire fish canning industry of Southern California. The members of our association have spent hundreds of thousands of dollars trying to develop American fishermen, and have utterly failed.

"Our canneries depend largely, in fact almost exclusively, upon the catch of albacore for profit and even after these large expenditures in trying to train American fishermen to catch albacore last season's actual figures show that only 3.9 per cent of the catch of albacore was by American fishermen.

"We want it distinctly understood that we are not fighting for the aliens or taking their part in any way, but it is a matter of the protection of our business, just now one of the largest in Southern California, employs more than any other individual business in this section and brings a lot of foreign money into the State."

The bill will be brought up for reconsideration tomorrow when an effort will be made to go more deeply into the economic situation involved.

ADMINISTRATION PANIC.

The State administration, rendered a little panicky by support from the Los Angeles delegation for San Francisco's Harbor bill, is prepared, it is said, to undertake a self-righteous campaign against the pernicious practice of "trading."

San Francisco will not get its harbor as long as the executive veto remains effective, but there is ground for sympathising with the reluctance of an already harassed executive in a very obvious desire to escape the necessity of exercising the veto.

San Francisco and Los Angeles are cynically suspected of "trading" on reapportionment, and also on the indeterminate franchise bill, but such is not the case. The delegations from the two districts, although at one time agreed on reapportionment, now are frankly in opposing camps, and as for the indeterminate franchise, that went over without reference to the harbor issue.

A more accurate estimate of the situation would seem to be that the administration continues to lose its grip on all legislation for which it is not in position to do a little trading on its own account.

SOUTHERN CANNERS AROUSED.
[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN DIEGO, April 7.—Local fish canners were much concerned today over reports from Sacramento that the State Senate had passed a bill directed against Japanese fishermen. Ten local canneries, all of which pack fish caught by Japanese fishermen, are affected by the measure.

Forty Japanese boats operate from this port at normal times, and to man these boats about 200 men are required.

In the latest survey made for the State Fish and Game Commission it was shown that the fishing boats owned here were divided as follows: Ninety-eight American, forty Japanese, twenty-four Italian and fifteen Sicilian.

PLAN TO ERADICATE DEMOCRATIC CAMPS.

CALIFORNIA CONGRESSMEN TO PRESENT REAPPORTIONMENT BILL.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, April 7.—California Congressmen decided today to present a bill to the California Legislature containing three alternate provisions—one for three new Congressmen, one for four and one for five following whichever reapportionment plan is to be adopted by Congress. An endeavor will be made to reclaim the only two Democratic districts in the State for Republican Congressmen and Los Angeles county will get at least one new district and perhaps part of another.

At the close of the conference a committee consisting of Elston Curry, Barbour and Lineberger was appointed to confer on the proposed realignments of the districts in the north to give the present Democratic strongholds such an addition of Republican votes that no Democrat could live through a Congressional election and to suggest a realignment of districts in the south to give Los Angeles its new representation secured by its tremendous growth in population.

In the north the plan is to add to Congressman Lee's district part of Alameda—at least 100,000 population—and all of Marin, Contra Costa and Sonoma. Judge Raker will have an additional handicap to keep his seat when the Republicans add Mendocino, Humboldt, Del Norte, and the mountain counties down to the Upper Sacramento Valley.

In the south no action will be taken until the arrival of Congressman Osborne, who is expected to arrive here tomorrow or Saturday, when plans for cutting a new district or two in the south will be discussed.

So far the only principle outlined in the creation of new districts is to keep each district as diversified as possible. Efforts to carve out districts having but one great industry or interest are frowned upon as detrimental to the district and the whole State and every effort will be made to prevent such a reapportionment result.

DRY BILL IS AMENDED.

Assembly Devotes Time Arguing Over Wet and Dry Issue.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SACRAMENTO, April 7.—Prohibition enforcement engrossed the attention of the Assembly today from 11 o'clock until 6 in the evening, to the exclusion of all else, with the net result that the T. M. Wright prohibition enforcement bill was amended to make an initiative measure out of it, and in that form sent to the printer for revision. This means that it will come again on the floor in a few days, for further consideration of its passage as now amended.

The amendment consisted of a new and final section submitted by Eckward, which reads as follows:

"The above provisions shall not become operative unless adopted by a majority vote of the people of the State of California and will then become effective. That the Secretary of State is hereby authorized to place the above statute on the ballot of indorsement at the next general election."

AFFIRMATIVES FAVOR.

When the amendment was offered, parliamentary procedure required the appointment of a committee of one to draft it; the division came on that motion, and the roll call was as follows, the affirmative vote being in favor of the amendment:

Ayes—Anderson, Badaracco, Beal, Benton, Bishop, Burns, Christian, Cleveland, Crittenden, Eckward, Fellom, Fulwider, Graves, Gray, Greene, Hawes, Hornblower, Hurley, Johnston, Lee, George W.; Lewis, Long, Loucks, Manning, McCloskey, McPherson, Mitchell, Morris, Morrison, Parker, Pedrotti, Pettis, Ream, Rosenshine, Ross, Schmidt, Spencer, Stevens, Warren, West—40.

Noes—Badham, Baker, Bernard, Bromley, Brooks, Broughton, Cleary, Colburn, Coombs, Cummings, Hart, Heisinger, Hughes, Hume, Johnson, Jones Gilbert; Jones, Isaac; Kline, Lee, Ira A.; Lyons, Mather, McDowell, McGee, McKeen, Merriam, Parkinson, Powers, Prendergast, Roberts, Saylor, Smith, Spalding, Weber, Webster, Wendering, White, Windrem, Wright, T. M., and Mr. Speaker—38.

Heck of Bakersfield was absent.

DEMAND CALL OF HOUSE.

When the vote was checked by members, and it was seen that the one missing vote might tie it, demand was made by Weber for a call of the House. The Speaker called for the ayes and noes, and the volume was so equal that a roll call on that point was demanded. It gave just the same alignment, the forty who supported the amendment voting against a call, and the thirty-nine who opposed the amendment voting for the call. It was declared lost and the question then was on the adoption of the amendment, which carried by precisely the same vote. When the voting finished, however, and before it was announced, a dozen or more members changed their votes one way and the other, the final result remaining unaltered; that is, 40 for adoption of the report and 39 against it.

As this gave a bare majority of those voting, the bill was declared amended, which automatically took it off the file and sent it to the printer for revision.

ANOTHER STRUGGLE.

When it comes back, in its amended form, it will be ready for the struggle again if either side sees fit to press it to passage in its amended form; or opportunity to form a new alignment of votes in the interval might, drys said, result in the amendment being knocked out of the bill again, and putting it back as it was originally.

The addition of the section calling for submission of the measure by initiative from the Legislature before it becomes effective, followed hours of oratory on the bill as it was originally drafted. T. M. Wright, as its sponsor, opened the debate, and was followed on the floor by Crittenden, opposing it; during the succeeding debate McKeen, Parkinson, Miss Broughton, Windrem, Bernard and Mather spoke for the bill, and Hurley, Greene, Johnston, Ross, Lewis and Coombs opposed it. Then Eckward offered a long amendment that would have provided very fully for the bill going on the general election ballot in 1922, but that amendment drew fire, from some of those who were inclining to oppose the bill, and after a number of hurried conferences on the floor, the long amendment was withdrawn and one subsequently adopted was substituted.

STORM OF PROTEST.

When the amendment finally took form, there was a storm of inquiry and protest, both wets and drys seeming to want to find out what the ultimate effect would be. Lawyers on the floor questioned its validity, others upheld it. Eckward quoted a decision of the Supreme Court which McDowell—a lawyer—said had been written before California adopted the initiative and referendum and therefore could not control. Crittenden asked that the whole thing go over and got howled down for his pains, and with fifteen or more excited lawmakers waving their arms and talking at once, Speaker Wright played a rapid tempo with his gavel and tried to restore order.

The general debate was also vitriolic in spots, and tempestuous at times. One earnest speaker ejected a complete set of teeth in the excitement of the moment and was temporarily out of the running until he could restore them and his articulation simultaneously.

As a result of the extended debate, nothing else was done in the Assembly today after consideration of the Wright bill began. Before that hour, the second file was advanced to third reading, and some routine work accomplished, but no bills were passed by that house today.

EXTENSIVE DEBATE.

After passing Senator Inman's bill to prohibit aliens ineligible to citizenship from fishing in the ocean waters of California, the Senate today indulged in an extensive debate on amendments to Senator F. M. Carr's bill requiring the University of California to charge tuition to nonresident and foreign students.

It adopted an amendment offered by Nelson to include nonresident and foreign students engaged in graduate work among those to be charged tuition, and rejected, thirteen ayes to fifteen noes, an amendment by Jones to strike out a clause granting the university authority to charge all students tuition if that were deemed advisable. The bill itself was not brought to final vote.

With reference to Jones's proposed amendment, Breed said the university officials contend they have the right under existing laws to impose tuition fees upon all students. It is understood the matter will be brought up in another form later.

AMENDMENTS DEFEATED.

Two proposed constitutional amendments, indorsed by the Commonwealth Club and introduced by Senator Purkitt, were defeated in the Senate. One of these, proposing that Judges in State courts be permitted to instruct juries with respect to questions of fact, was lost, twelve ayes to fifteen noes. The other, which would have made possible, verdicts by juries in criminal cases on three-fourths vote, was defeated, seven ayes to twenty-three noes.

Apparently, the chances of success for the bill to grant wives the right of testamentary disposition of one-half of the community property are dwindling. Senator Lyon, author of the bill, said tonight, nineteen Senators favored the measure, twenty-one being required for its passage. In view of the long time this bill has been on the final reading file, Lyon said, he plans to have it referred back to committee unless further support develops within a few days. This would mean there would be no vote in the Legislature on the measure, Lyon holding that defeat of the bill would be prejudicial to the cause of its proponents.

DELAY DECISION.

Following a committee controversy today on the bill to cede to the United States government certain State lands at Alameda, it was announced a definite decision in the matter would be had next Tuesday by the Senate Committee on Commerce and Navigation. The measure is opposed by supporters of the proposed naval base site at Mare Island.

The Senate adopted and sent to the Assembly King's joint resolution calling upon the Interstate Commerce Commission to hold in California hearings looking to reduction of railroad freight rates.

Senator Rigdon's bill, authorizing increases of certain salaries in the oil and gas division of the State Mining Bureau, passed the Senate, 21 to 2, but Bennett gave notice of a motion to reconsider the vote.

Senator McDonald's bill, forbidding collection of hunting or fishing licenses from children under 18 years old or from former service men, passed the Senate and went to the Assembly.

Senator Shearer's bill providing for a tax upon freight and passenger motor vehicle lines was reported out of the Senate Revenue and Taxation Committee tonight with an amendment that would fix the rate at 2 per cent of the gross receipts. Originally the rate was 7 per cent, and at a recent committee meeting it was cut to 3 per cent.

Koo-Doo and Dik Dik Move Into Field Museum.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, April 7.—The koo-Doo, the Dik-Dik and Herbivorous dinosaur, Apastosaurus Excelsus and a collection of other animals were moved today. The occasion was the transfer from the old museum, built for the world's fair, in Jackson Park, to the new Field museum.

Herby, as the dinosaur is known, is said to have roamed the swamps and marshes and morasses near Grand Junction, Colo., 35,000,000 years ago. So says his discoverer, E. S. Riggs, assistant curator of paleontology of the museum.

Although Herbert was eighty feet long and built more or less like a kangaroo, he traveled like a bird, Mr. Riggs said. He was found in 1901 forty feet underground.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, April 7.—Sam Cardinella, leader of the notorious gang that bore his name, and the man who is said to have planned many murders, must hang on April 15 for the specific killing of Andrew J. Bowman, unless Gov. Small exercises executive clemency.

Antonio Lopez, Joe Constanzo and Sam Ferrari, members of Cardinella's gang, will be hanged on the same day with their chief. The State Supreme Court today denied Cardinella a new trial. Two members of the gang have already been hanged.

WINTER WHEAT YIELD BUMPER.

Final Production is Fourth Largest in History.

Agricultural Department Issues Forecast.

Indicts a Harvest of Over 621,000,000 Bushels.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, April 7.—A winter wheat crop, fourth largest in the country's history, was forecast today by the Department of Agriculture with a total production of [illegible],000,000 bushels. This is 44,000,000 bushels more than harvested last year.

The condition of the crop improved 2.1 per cent from last December 1, the April 1 condition being 81.9 per cent of a normal. The crop of 1919 was the largest of winter wheat ever grown, with 739,000,000 bushels.

The area sown last fall was 40,[illegible] acres and it is believed the abandonment has been small. The 1920 crop was sown on 41,757,000 acres of which 37,773,000 acres were harvested, while the record crop of 1915 was harvested from 49,105,000 acres.

The production forecast is based upon the average planted last fall with the assumption of average abandonment and average influences in the crop to harvest.

The production of rye was forecast as 62,[illegible],000 bushels from a condition of 91.5 per cent of a normal.

Winter wheat condition April 1 last year was 75.6 per cent of a normal, and production 577,763,000 bushels, on April 1, 1919, it was 99.8 per cent and production 729,503,000 bushels, while the ten-year average condition is 83.6 per cent.

Rye condition a year ago was 86.5 per cent of a normal and production last year was 69,318,000 bushels, in 1919 condition was 90.6 and production 88,909,000 bushels and the ten-year average condition is 88.4.

Winter wheat condition by principal producing States was:

TRANSFER OF ACTIVITIES.

"(3.) That pending the passage of such law the Secretary of the Treasury shall issue orders to the director of the Bureau of War Risk Insurance and to the Surgeon-General of the United States Public Health Service transferring to the Bureau of War Risk Insurance all of the activities of the United States Public Health Service, together with the personnel engaged in providing medical services for the beneficiaries of the Bureau of War Risk Insurance and the Federal Board for Vocational Education, with the exception of the hospital and dispensary care.

"(4.) That an immediate extension and utilization of all government hospital facilities be put into effect, together with the mobilization of such civilian medical services as may prove practical.

"(5.) That a continuing hospital building program to provide satisfactory care for the disabled veterans of the World War be entered upon at once. The committee of hospital consultants appointed by the Secretary of the Treasury, in cooperation with the Surgeon-General of the United States Public Health Service, shall submit recommendations as to the type of buildings and the location and name. The necessary appropriations to provide for such permanent program to be passed at the next session of Congress.

"(6.) That in addition to the recognized medical and educational services now provided by the government, such humanizing services be provided in the district offices and in co-operation with private agencies in the homes of the beneficiaries as will give these beneficiaries not only financial aid and the medical and educational services at present provided for by law, but such helpful neighborliness in their contact with the government as will make them feel that the whole nation is intimately concerned in their welfare and habilitation.

"(7.) That the $18,600,000 appropriated by the Sixty-sixth Congress for the building of new hospitals and the enlargement of existing institutions be utilized for these purposes without any delay."

WORK HAPHAZARD.

The committee found that the soldier relief agencies of the government are wholly unco-ordinated and of haphazard development as a result of which the ex-service person finds it extremely difficult to obtain the prompt, generous and sympathetic treatment which the Congress and the country intended he should receive.

To this lack of central control is attributed the confusion and inefficiency.

While the vocational and health services have been decentralized it was impossible under the law to decentralize the War Risk Bureau, which further suffered from the Congressional limitation as to the number and salaries of employees. The committee says that unless these limitations are removed from the Appropriation Act before it goes into effect July 1, "the embarrassment to the service of this bureau will be serious."

that the best wages should be paid in every industry that such industry can afford," it stated.

CAPITAL IS ACCUSED.

The council of the Independent Labor party called on its members to support the miners by every means, declaring the crisis was due to an attempt by organized capitalism to establish the right of unlimited plunder and degrade the standard of living, which must be resisted.

The Premier, in his statement in the Commons, which it is believed will meet miners' objections and bring about a conference tomorrow, said he understood Messrs. Henderson, Clynes and Thomas had suggested the government might call a conference of the miners and mine owners to consider first the question of pumping, which should be disposed of before other questions were entered upon. The government was ready to take steps to summon the parties together, he said.

He still considered that the procedure he had previously urged was best, because conferences between the miners and mine owners were unwieldy. But the government did not desire to stand in the way if the later suggestions would meet the case.

DECISION UNPOPULAR.

A feature of the discussion in the House has been the strong efforts made to dissuade the miners' executives from their extreme attitude and the conciliatory tone shown by the labor members and their evident dislike of the miner's decision. Mr. Asquith said it would be an act of treason to allow stoppage of the industries to continue.

Duncan Graham, in behalf of the miners, took the ground that not only the pumpmen, but the engineers and repairers, were involved, aggregating between 30 and 40 per cent of the men out.

Both the railway and transport men had stated their intention of giving the miners full support, but no intimation was forthcoming as to whether this would mean a nation-wide strike.

The government, on the other hand, continued apace its preparations to meet any emergency with the employment of all the facilities of the Army and Navy.

CROWD RAIDS SHOP.

New disturbances occurred in the town of Cowdenbeath, Scotland, last night. A shop window was broken, and the contents of the place carried away. The police dispersed the crowd with their clubs, according to a Central News dispatch from Dunfermline.

Transport workers of the British fleet in the Firth of Forth have been given sleeping berths on board the battleships Crescent and Rosyth. Double guards have been placed on all caissons in the fourth area.

Reports from many mining centers say that the strikers were adopting a more aggressive attitude to make volunteers cease the work of keeping the collieries free from water. In numerous instances force was used. At Borrowstounness, Scotland, miners today threw bombs at a pit head in order to intimidate volunteer workers. No material damage was done.

NAVY HELD READY.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

QUEENSTOWN (Ireland) April 7.—Naval units here and at other home ports have been instructed, as a result of the strike of British miners, to hold themselves in readiness for emergency service. Shore leave has been curtailed, even officers being requested to return to their ships by 8:30 o'clock in the evening. Naval officials view the situation as being filled with the gravest possibilities.

The question of shifting large numbers of the crown forces in Ireland to England, if disorders ensue, has been fully considered, it is understood, and if such steps should be taken the forces transferred will probably include many auxiliaries regarded as especially qualified by their work in Ireland to deal with elements seeking to stir up trouble. Officials, however, are aware of the possibility that the Irish Republican army may take advantage of the opportunity offered by disorders in England, and military authorities are reluctant to decrease the forces in Ireland.

POORER MEAT CUTS SHOW BIG DECLINE.

POT ROASTS, CHUCK STEAK AND DAMB STEW ARE BARGAINS FOR GOOD COOKS.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, April 7.—The cook who knows how to prepare pot roasts, chuck steak, corned beef and lamb stew, now finds herself in position to obtain unusual bargains in meats, since these varieties are obtainable at very low prices.

Statistics made public today by the Institute of American Packers show that rarely has there been such a widespread decline in price of popular cuts of meat and varieties used in making stews and roasts. It is claimed that wholesale meat prices have declined more than most other kinds.

During the last month from 60 to 65 per cent of the dressed hog carcass was selling at wholesale prices which were less than the average dressed carcass cost, including manufacturing expenses. It has been the same with the forequarters of lamb and beef, the packers claim.

HARRIS STICKS TO CONFESSION.

Bridgeport, Ct., saying that "William Dunkin" had been in a reformatory since 1919, Harris said: "I don't know anything about that. I haven't been in Bridgeport since I was a boy. The man who was with me was named William Duncan."

Detective Sergeant H. P. Oswald of the New York police department arrived tonight to investigate.

POLICE ARE BAFFLED.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, April 7.—Officials investigating the confession of Roy Harris that he and a companion murdered Joseph B. Elwell, wealthy clubman and bridge whist expert, last June, tonight admitted they were baffled. While they said Harris had shown intimate knowledge with many details of the crime, so many of his statements conflicted with the facts that it was almost impossible to believe his story.

Mrs. Elwell, widow of the murdered sportsman, declared she had never heard of Mrs. Fairchild, who was said by Harris to have hired his companion and himself to commit the crime. Mrs. Elwell asserted she "had little interest in seeing the affair revived."

Mrs. Marie Larsen, who was Elwell's housekeeper, also declared she never had heard of a Mrs. Fairchild.

While local police were inclined to doubt the story told by Harris, it was pointed out that Harris may have knowledge as to who actually committed the murder, or he may have heard rumors of it among his associates.

BUDGET BILL IS APPROVED.

McCormick Measure Will be Passed by Congress.

Attorney-General to Pass on One Provision.

Frear Plans to Take Lead in Opposing Sales Tax.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, April 7.—The Harding administration today placed the seal of its approval on Senator McCormick's bill establishing the budget system in the Federal government, and the measure is scheduled to be passed early in the new Congress.

Secretary of the Treasury Mellon notified Senator McCormick of his approval of the measure following his receipt of a report from the treasury experts pronouncing the fiscal and administrative provisions entirely practicable and necessary to the achievement of system and economy in government expenditures.

The only question remaining at issue is whether the Controller-General shall be appointable by the President, but removable by Congress only, as the original bill provided. President Wilson vetoed the bill on the ground that this provision is an unconstitutional limitation of the authority of the Executive. Atty.-Gen. Daugherty now has this point under consideration, and his opinion will determine whether the provision will be retained or eliminated.

Senator McCormick and Representative Good will introduce the bill as soon as Congress meets and ask immediate action.

OPPOSES SALES TAX.

Representative Frear of Wisconsin, a Republican member of the House Ways and Means Committee, who plans to take the lead in opposing a sales tax, started his campaign today by circularizing the House on the proposition.

Mr. Frear sent a letter to all members of the House urging that Congress refuse to repeal any of the present taxes "unless one more just and equitable is to be substituted and that excludes any sales tax."

Secretary of the Treasury Mellon indicated today that his recommendation on tax legislation will be ready for presentation to Congress next week. He held a conference during the day with the tax experts of the Treasury Department at which the entire program was discussed.

MANY POINTS UNSETTLED.

Beyond a recommendation for repeal of the excess profits tax the Secretary of the Treasury stated that many of the points of controversy still were unsettled. He indicated that he did not believe the floating debt should be retired to any great extent out of current revenues and reiterated that the general question of refunding Victory notes and Liberty Bonds would go over for consideration at a later time.

When questioned as to whether the Treasury would recommend an increased flat tax on corporations or a tax on undistributed earnings in order that corporations might not have too great an advantage over individuals after the excess profits tax is eliminated, Mr. Mellon said that no decision had been reached on this point.

ROBBERY OF BANDITS PROVES FINISHED JOB.

STATION AGENT CLEANED OUT OF NEARLY EVERYTHING IN SIGHT.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

STOCKTON, April 7.—Two bandits held up and robbed E. C. Lowe, station agent of the Western Pacific Railroad, at Carbona, four miles south of Tracy. The robbers entered the little office with drawn guns shortly after 3 o'clock this afternoon, and after tying the agent hand and foot and gagging him, they took his watch and fob with a $20 gold piece attached, a mackinaw, automatic pistol, blackjack, suit of clothes and $27.50 from the cash drawer.

One of the robbers donned the suit of clothes purloined, after which they stepped outside the station, cranked up the station agent's automobile, and disappeared in the direction of Tracy. Lowe was found later by a section hand, who released him.

PLYMOUTH ROCK IS MOVED ONCE MORE.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

PLYMOUTH (Mass.) April 7.—For the second time within four months, Plymouth Rock was moved today. On December 21, after the canopy over the rock was was torn down, the boulder was moved about fifty feet. Three guards have watched since.

CONGRESS COMMITTEE GIVES STATE HONORS.

LINEBERGER ON FOREIGN RELATIONS, WITH NOLAN IN GOOD PLACE.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, April 7.—This was a good day for California at the hands of the Committee on Committees of the next House of Representatives. Congressman Lineberger from Long Beach was signally honored for a new man and was appointed to a place on the Foreign Relations Committee of the House—one of the big committees, and Congressman John I. Nolan was made a member of the Steering Committee—one of the most important of all House committees.

The fact that Congressman Lineberger had lived in Mexico many years, was familiar with the Spanish language, and had valuable experience overseas in a military career, had much to do with securing for him his place. In view of the possible questions of delicate character which are likely to arise at any moment in the Pacific, and because of the great and pivotal interest of California in the solution of these questions, Congressman Lineberger's assignment is regarded here as fortunate for California and extremely complimentary to a man just entering Congress.

Congressman Swing of Imperial was named to the Naval Affairs Committee, succeeding Congressman Kettner, and placing him in a position to carry on the work of development of naval bases and projects in Southern California. In view of the projected submarine base at Los Angeles Harbor, the placing of a Southern California man on this committee is of importance to the lower portion of the State and unusually so to Los Angeles and the harbor.

Congressman Osborne, who is one of the most influential members of the Committee on Rivers and Harbors, and who has been acting chairman of that committee for much of the time this last winter, retains his position there and will be able to secure necessary improvements of the harbor and the proper protection against flood damage in the future as in the past.

BADEN REFUSES TO DELIVER BERGDOLL.

WEEKS ADMITS THAT GENERAL'S DEMAND FOR HIS SURRENDER WAS DENIED.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, April 7.—Secretary of War Weeks admitted today that the government of Baden, in Germany, had declined a formal request made by Gen. Allen, commander of American forces in Germany, for the return of Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, American draft dodger, who is a fugitive in Germany.

Secretary Weeks disclosed this information in a letter to Senator Capper of Kansas, who had written urging action on the plea of the Kansas branch of the American Legion that the United States demand Bergdoll's surrender.

"As concerns Grover Cleveland Bergdoll," wrote Secretary Weeks, "as soon as it was ascertained that he was in Germany, Gen. Allen requested the authorities of the Baden government, where he had sought refuge, to return this convict to the United States custody. The government of Baden refused the request on the ground that Bergdoll was not in the class of military offenders whose extradition was provided for by the terms of the armistice.

"As the extradition of Bergdoll is a diplomatic question, and complicated by the fact that we are still in a state of war with Germany, the matter has recently been placed in the hands of the State Department. The War Department will, however, use every effort to have Bergdoll returned to the custody of the United States military authorities."

It was admitted today that the State Department is now co-operating in the matter with the Canadian government, which will seek Bergdoll's return because he entered Germany on false Canadian passports.

AGRICULTURAL POWER RATES ARE AMENDED.

LONG-TIME CONSUMERS ARE GRANTED MATERIAL REDUCTIONS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 7.—San Joaquin Light and Power Company rates for electric power, for agricultural purposes, were amended, mainly by reductions, by the Railroad Commission today, the new schedule decreasing the company's revenue about 5 per cent. The rates were made to apply from April 1.

Only rates for consumers operating for short periods were increased, but consumers operating from eight to twelve months continuously were given a material reduction.

Farmers who will not operate their pumping plants to any great extent this year, though usually year-round consumers, were given the option of operating either under a plan which requires a monthly minimum, or a schedule similar to that of the Southern California Edison Company, made for the benefit of intermittent users of power.

GOV. STEPHENS SIGNS STATE HIGHWAY BONDS

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SACRAMENTO, April 7.—Gov. Stephens today signed $3,000,000 worth of State highway bonds. They must be signed by State Treasurer Richardson and State Controller Chambers before April 14, when they will be put on sale. These securities are the third highway series and bear 5 1-4 per cent interest. Road work now being contracted for by the State Highway Commission will be paid for from funds obtained through the sale of these bonds.

GERMAN ROYALTY WED IN BAVARIA.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

BERLIN, April 7.—Former Crown Prince Rupprecht of Bavaria and Princess Antoinette of Luxemburg were married today at Hohenburg Castle near Toelz in Upper Bavaria, in the presence of the members of the Saxon and other royal families. The church ceremony will be performed by Monsignor Pacelli, the papal nuncio.

SCALP TROUBLES ARE MANY

Specialist Says Different Hair and Scalp Ailments Require Different Treatment.

Prof. John H. Austin of Chicago, who now has offices at Hamburger's, has devoted over forty years to the study of hair and scalp troubles. He has found that only with the aid of a most powerful microscope is it possible to determine the exact trouble with which the hair or scalp is afflicted.

People who really value their hair have come to consider a hair specialist of as much importance as a doctor or dentist, for how can anyone without the knowledge or experience distinguish between such scalp disorders as seborrhea, oleosa, seborrhea sicca, alopecia pityrodes, etc.

Prof. Austin says that the use of mange cures, dandruff cures, hair tonics and vaseline without proper advice is like taking medicine without knowing what you are trying to cure.

Men and women troubled with scalp ailments should see Prof. Austin, and be convinced that the particular trouble must be known before each case can be intelligently treated.

FREE MICROSCOPIC EXAMINATION of the hair and scalp—both men and women invited. Private Office, Second Floor, Hamburger's. Hours, 10 to 12 and 2 to 4.—[Advertisement.

TAXATION REDUCTION URGED BY MONDELL.

DECLARES PEOPLE DESIRE LIFTING RATHER THAN SHIFTING OF BURDEN.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, April 7.—Reduction of the aggregate to be derived from taxation to a level $1,500,000,000 below the $4,000,000,000 estimated by former Secretary of the Treasury Houston to be necessary was urged today by Representative Mondell of Wyoming, Republican leader of the House.

Mr. Mondell declared that in revising revenue laws Congress can safely arrange its income on a basis of meeting ordinary expenditures not in excess of $2,000,000,000. Adding to this amount $1,335,000,000 for the annual interest in the public debt and the sinking fund and $500,000,000 for postal expenditures, this would mean total expenditures of $3,835,000,000, which is substantially the total of the annual appropriation bills for the next fiscal year.

Balancing against this amount postal revenues amounting to $500,000,000, customs revenues totaling possibly $350,000,000 or more, and miscellaneous receipts amounting to $500,000,000, Mr. Mondell's program would contemplate raising about $2,500,000,000 from taxation.

The Republican House leader asserted that the people will not be satisfied unless there is "a lifting rather than a shifting of tax burdens." He indicated that the saving should come by making no large payments on the floating indebtedness from current revenues except from salvage sales. The $4,000,000,000 tax program of former Secretary Houston was designed to make possible the rapid retirement of the floating debt.

In discussing the question of a soldiers' bonus Mr. Mondell said that this should be financed apart from the general tax plan. He suggested that the soldiers' bonus might be raised either by a sales tax or by some arrangement relative to the interest payment on the foreign debt.

Representative Mondell favored the repeal of the excess profits tax, the higher income surtaxes, the soda water and luxury taxes.

GREAT LAKES GOBS TO GET VACATION.

ALL TO RECEIVE THIRTY DAYS WHILE STATION IS BEING REPAIRED.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WAUKEGAN (Ill.) April 7.—A special order has been received authorizing Capt. Daniel W. Wuerthaugh, commandant, to grant every man on Great Lakes Naval Station thirty days leave of absence while extensive repairs are being made throughout the station. No work, drill or other exercises will be possible, so all men will be sent home.

Special money requisitions will be honored for those who haven't sufficient funds. The paymaster has been authorized to advance six months' pay if necessary. The government will make arrangements with the railroads for free travel to any part of the country.

NEW CIVIL SERVICE BILL IS ASSURED.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, April 7.—Senator Sterling of South Dakota, chairman of the Senate Committee on Civil Service, announced today he would introduce next week a bill for reclassification of the civil service on the general plan provided in the Lehlbach bill last session, and which also will be reintroduced in the House.

The bill would fix salaries according to the skill and training required, and would provide appointments and promotions on proved qualifications, removal of inefficient employees, equal compensation and equal opportunity for promotion, irrespective of sex, and transfers between departments at higher rates of pay.

NEW ANGLE IS SEEN IN STILLMAN CASE.

MRS. LEEDS SAID TO HAVE HAD DETECTIVES WATCHING NOTED BANKER.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, April 7.—"Pay or give up the promised appeal," is the next step for James A. Stillman in the marital swamp he has created by the sensational charges of divorce against Mrs. "Fifi" Stillman. Time for the rich banker to pay or appeal the first installment of the $90,000 annual temporary alimony and $47,500 counsel fees and expenses expires tomorrow.

But he has served notice, through his attorneys, on the counsel of the estranged wife, that he intends putting up a fight before making the payment. It is expected that at the last minute the documents will be before the Appellate Court.

Information indicating that Stillman was for some time under surveillance by private detectives in the employ of Mrs. Florence H. Leeds provided the basis for a new line of activity by investigators today. It is hinted that Mrs. Leeds set a watch on the banker when word reached her of rivals. One of these "other women" is declared to have been the subject of a violent quarrel between Stillman and the former chorus girl.

Today's revelations would seem to indicate that Mrs. Leeds continued to be suspicious of rivals, and she had decided to equip herself with information for future use if the occasion arose. It is reported that some of the affidavits now in possession of Mrs. Stillman's attorneys contain very strong hints of the activities of Mrs. Leeds's detectives.

Legal representatives of Mrs. Stillman are in Quebec, Can., rounding up witnesses for her defense. They are trying to induce the witnesses who testified before the referee to Mrs. Stillman's alleged indiscretions at the Stillman camp at Three Rivers, Quebec, in the first hearing, to return to New York for cross-examination.

STUDY AMENDMENTS TO NATIONS' LEAGUE.

QUESTIONS LEFT TO COMMITTEE, WHICH WILL MAKE REPORT DURING MAY.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

GENEVA, April 7.—Examination of amendments to the League of Nations covenant has been begun by the committee of the League appointed to deal with this subject. The committee yesterday discussed amendments offered concerning the permanent court of arbitration, extension of arbitration under the League, relaxation of the unanimity rule in the Assembly and Council, action to be taken as to a member state failing to pay its contribution to the League, the method of the selection of the nonpermanent members of the Council, and attachment to the League of states too small to be full members.

These questions were left to a subcommittee, which is to report in May.

DDIE TELLS IT TO THEM.

bron Rickenbacker Lays Down Law to Drivers.

He'll Look Keenly for Cooling at Speedway.

l is Set at Big Beverly Course for Sunday.

Dido De Palma's Ballot caught fire yesterday while the famous car was practicing on the Speedway for Sunday's races. Flames shot from beneath the hood and, fanned by the rush of air, made a dangerous blaze for an instant. The veteran driver brought his car to a quick stop and with his mechanician, DePaolo, leaped out and extinguished the blaze. Nothing of serious happened aside from the burned wire connections which were quickly replaced.

Eddie Rickenbacker last night called together the drivers and mechanics who are to race at the track Sunday and laid down the law in no unmistakable terms. Following first a speech on the subject of sportsmanship, Rickenbacker talked in plain words that there had been a lot of ugly talk regarding ill feeling between the drivers and that while he took little part in it, he intended to look closely on Sunday, and that any suspicious bit of crowding or wild driving would result in dismissal of the offending pilot.

ALL WORK OUT.

Practically every driver in the field was out yesterday, and some fast time was recorded, although the presence of rival pitmen and mechanicians prevented the drivers from opening their cars wide for any considerable period. Biddle Hearne and Tommy Milton were two of the shining lights of practice and turned wild bursts of speed occasionally, but wouldn't hold them long enough to enable the rail birds to get a good line on them.

MURPHY THERE.

Jimmy Murphy yesterday was in the fight alongside of Ralph De Palma in the position of favorite to win Sunday's five-race program for the big American sprint championship. The official mark of 40⅘s for a mile is sufficient guarantee that he has as much speed as De Palma, and his driving ability is too well known for discussion.

But Jimmy as much speed as the rest of them and he'll give them the fastest ride of their young lives. Thomas, Milton, Sarles and Hearne will be out in order among those who have been watching the practice grinds, and it is generally predicted that the man who wins the fifty-mile heat for the title will be the big bag of mazuma will have to step up an average speed of 110 miles an hour to win.

PATTERSON TIPS MACBETH.

Annandale Golfer Scores Surprising Victory Over Northern Champion.

BY PAUL LOWRY.

Two rounds of match play in the championship flight eliminated twenty-four contenders for the Southern California golf crown at Beverly Hills yesterday, the surprising defeat of Norman Macbeth of the Los Angeles and Wilshire clubs by George Patterson of Annandale being the outstanding feature.

Patterson defeated the holder of the Northern California title by a score of 2 and 1, Macbeth's weak play on the putting greens being responsible for his downfall. Patterson was one down at the turn after being two up at the sixth. Macbeth played his best golf of the day on the seventh, eighth and ninth holes, taking the first two in par and scoring a birdie on the ninth. Both he and Patterson had 41 on their out cards, Macbeth winning the last three holes.

Going to the tenth, Macbeth was in trouble on his drive and Patterson won the hole with a par 4. Macbeth regained his advantage by taking the twelfth, but Patterson squared things by winning the short fourteenth with a birdie two. He won the fifteenth, halved the sixteenth and won the seventeenth in par.

Patterson's play was good without being brilliant, but so was Macbeth's, for that matter. From the tee and through the fairways the work of each man was sound, but the pitiably poor putting of Macbeth tells a good part of the story. Patterson, an "eight" handicap man who has been going wild in the last few months, came strong on the last nine holes and had a four for a 36 par when the match ended on the seventeenth.

Matches in the first round of the championship flight ran true to form. Dr. Paul Hunter disposed of Leigh Guyer by a score of 6 and 5 in the upper bracket of the draw, but in the same half E. S. "Scotty" Armstrong had quite a tussle with Ben Fahy, a rotund young man who a year ago couldn't have broken 90 if his life depended on it. Armstrong won 2 and 1, but when it was over he knew he had been in a battle. Fahy had a five for a 79 after the seventeenth.

LAPHAM OUT OF IT.

San Francisco's two representatives batted .666 for the day, Jack Neville defeating J. T. Gilmer 4 and 3 and C. H. Palmer, Jr., 6 and 5. Roger Lapham, president of the California Golf Association, was defeated by Horace Ingalls of Annandale, 4 and 3 in the morning, and the latter was downed by Nelson Barker of Coronado, 3 and 2 after lunch.

Bob Hunter accounted for R. A. Fowler, 4 and 3, and Bill Campbell of Long Beach, who was going badly, 2 and 1, and Everett Seaver disposed of Jack Cady, 4 and 3, and Frank Tatum, 2 and 1.

Today there will be only one round of match play in the championship flight, but there will be two rounds of match play in every other flight on the boards. This will wipe out match play in all flights except the championship and leave the road clear for the thirty-six holes which the semi-finalists must travel tomorrow.

The championship rivals play their matches at any time today, but the defaulting limit on morning matches in other flights is 10 o'clock and afternoon matches 2 o'clock.

State Champion Dr. Paul Hunter will play George Patterson at 1 o'clock this afternoon in one of the feature matches of the day. Against George Cline yesterday afternoon Dr. Hunter rounded the first nine one under fours, just to prove that there was nothing fluky about his brilliant performance on Wednesday. On his drive to the tenth he landed in the bunker that borders the fairway to the right. His lie was terrible, and he appeared to be in need of a bucket to scoop it out. The champion walked up to the ball, clipped it out after one short glance, and holed out for a 5—par.

"Scotty" Armstrong meets Crane Gartz in Dr. Hunter's half of the draw today and may have quite a battle on his hands, Gartz beat George C. Thomas, Jr., 3 and 2 and

SIWASHES GET WELL CLEANED.

Kenworthy's Gang Should be Very Pure Now.

Having Been Run Through the Wringer Thrice.

Carroll Ruins Eleven-Inning Ball Scramble.

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS.

The great nationwide purity movement proceeded apace yesterday when Los Angeles cleaned Seattle, 4 to 3, for the third consecutive time, and an alleged gambler was pinched for trying to pay off his honest losses.

Lest the Siwashes might still be carnal minded, the Angels allowed themselves eleven innings in which to do a thorough job and knock all the worldly ambition out of them.

FAN PINCHED.

The eleventh was full of action. No sooner had Dixie Carroll, with two out, busted up the pastime with a right field single, which sent Killefer in from third with the winning run, than two cops descended on a scrub in one of the boxes said to be in the act of slipping a roll of government coupons to a neighboring fan.

A severe struggle ensued, during which the man with the roll seemed to insist on paying off all debts or bets, or whatever the transaction. He appeared to feel that he was deeply indebted to somebody, and wanted to set his earthly affairs in order before going to the cooler.

But the officers, who had descended on this lone fish like a pair of stingarees, were not to be trifled with. The wagon was sent for, and departed on schedule. Honesty brings its own reward in the shape of a free ride to the hoosegow.

DO IT AT HOME.

But betting in the ball park doesn't pay in the long run. Gambling should be confined to the family circle.

Two hours and a half Lefty Thomas and Elmer Jacobs puffed and heaved with varying fortunes, with the fickle breaks swinging from one side to the other, until Carroll, with a clout as clean as a cleaver cut, put the Angels on the right side of the count for keeps.

Daily the Siwashes are growing tougher, and adding to the labor of the Angels.

The game was tied and untied

SECOND SAN JOSE CLUB IN LEAGUE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WATSONVILLE, April 7.—A second San Jose club was admitted into the Mission Baseball League at the last preseason meeting of the directors here last night, to take the place of the Monterey club, which failed to post its forfeit. The club admitted tonight is the old O. J. Forman team, which was a member of the league last year, but withdrew after the close of the season. It will be known as the San Jose Merchants. The other member in that city is the San Jose Baseball Club, Inc. The two teams will oppose each other on the home lot in the opening game of the season, Sunday.

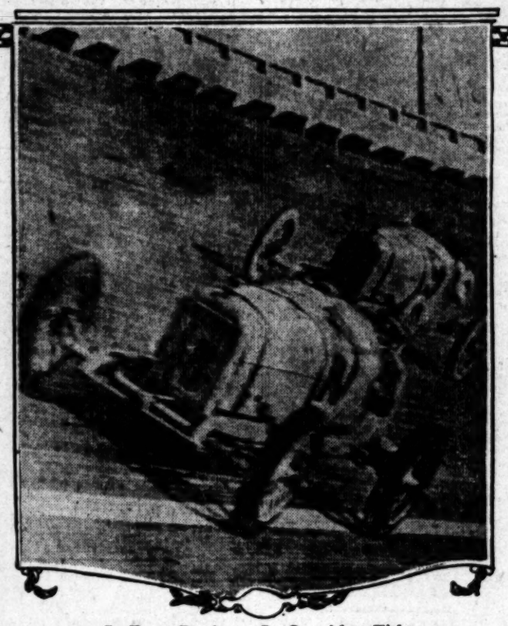
WALTER KNAPP IS SERAPHIC PITCHER.

Walter Knapp has become a member of the Los Angeles pitching staff by the simple expedient of changing names. He joined the club under the moniker of Craig, because he didn't care to have his identity known should he fail to make good. Now that he seems to have won a job for himself he doesn't care who knows that he is old man Knapp's son. Knapp had considerable experience in the International League before going into the Army.

PRATT SIGNS CONTRACT.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

BOSTON, April 7.—Derrill Pratt, coach of the University of Michigan baseball team, has signed a contract to play with the Boston American League club, and will be in a Red Sox uniform for the opening of the league season at Washington, it was announced tonight.



Go-Fasts Ready to Go Out After Title.

Everything seems to be set for the five-race program at the Los Angeles Speedway Sunday when the pick of America's speed kings will boil around the lumber loop in the chase for glory and mazuma. To date Ralph De Palma (left) and Jimmy Murphy (right) share the favorite position. The center photograph shows the Duesenbergs of Sarles and Eddie Pullen warming up their new super-compressed engines.

NEW YORK FOR KILBANE.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, April 7.—Johnny Kilbane is coming to New York at last to cast his title in the ring for those ambitious youngsters to take a shot. John has coveted that pennant as champion of the feathers for many years, and no one ever seemed quite good enough to relieve him of it. John has not flaunted his laurels here since the new Walker law went in, with its provisions governing titles and decisions, however, and many thought that the Clevelander had decided to stay away from these quarters and nurse his championship a little longer.

And now we are to have Johnny, championship and all, in a fifteen-round struggle, to take place next month. The champion's opponent will robably be Sammy Sieger, the rought little East Sider, who has been coming along pretty fast.

No definite date has been selected, but it is believed that May 2 will be the selection, following the circus at Madison Square Garden. This contest will close the season at Tex Rickard's big ampitheater.

CARPENTIER IN EARNEST.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, April 7. — Georges Carpentier, the French champion boxer, has put the quietus on the rumor mongers by having his $50,000 forfeit forwarded right to the United States as a guarantee that he proposes to go through with that little wrangle which has been arranged between himself and one Jack Dempsey for July 2. You can bet something cute that when Georges goes through with those proceedings he has no notion of skipping out on the match to quarrel with Francis Moran, the Pittsburg bruiser, or any of those other rough kids.

For several weeks there have been some queer yarns about Carpentier hurdling the Dempsey fight to box someone in London. Now the damper is on all that gush, and the Frenchman will soon hop to these shores to prepare for Mr. Dempsey.

Tex Rickard was notified today by Robert Edgren, the official stakeholder for the contest, that Carpentier's forfeit of $50,000 has been forwarded by the Morgan-Harjes Bank of Paris to the Central Union Trust Company of New York. Mr. Edgren said that he had received a cablegram from the Paris bank to that effect.

CUTTING TO PLAY GOULD.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

BOSTON, April 7.—C. Suydam Cutting of New York, today won the right to oppose Jay Gould of New York in the challenge round for the national amateur court tennis championship. He defeated his brother, Fulton Cutting of New York, in the final round of the title tournament, 6-5, 6-3, 7-5.

Preps Must Run Heats in Half Mile Thursday.

It was decided yesterday that elimination heats will be necessary in the 100, 220, 440 and 880-yard dashes and the high and low hurdles in the Southern California interscholastic track and field championship meet, which will be held at Housh Field on Saturday, April 16. The large number of entries pouring in makes it certain that the field in these particular events will be record-breaking.

Heretofore the running of heats in the 880 has never been necessary; for that matter heats have scarcely ever been run in the quarter. Owing to the distance which many of the out-of-town athletes have to travel when coming here for the meet it had been decided to run the heats on Saturday morning so that the runners would only have to be in Los Angeles one day.

However, running heats in the 440 and 880 in the morning and finals in the afternoon is scarcely fair to young athletes and it has therefore been decided to run heats in the quarter and half on Thursday and heats in the sprints and hurdles on Saturday morning. All finals will be run off on Saturday afternoon and the attendance is expected to break just as many records as the entry list.

JOE LYNCH TO BOX YOUNG MONTREAL.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, April 7.—Joe Lynch, world's bantamweight champion, today was en route to Cleveland, O., where he will meet Young Montreal of Providence, Friday night.

While in Cleveland, Eddie Mead, Lynch's manager, will convey to Johnny Kilbane, world's featherweight titleholder, an offer of $35,000 by New York promoters to engage in a decision bout with Andy Chaney of New York in an open-air arena.

TO SEND TEAM EAST.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, April 7.—Stanford University will send a two-man tennis team east late in May, it was announced tonight by E. Martin, graduate manager of athletic activities. They will compete in the national intercollegiate championship meets at Haverford, Pa., besides playing a schedule with eighteen universities. They will return in October.

TIJUANA RESULTS.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN DIEGO, April 7.—A big surprise was furnished in the fifth race on the Thursday card, when Ike Harvey was sent over. The distance was one mile, and the 3-year-old was in front all the way. Wonderful Races Promised for Redlands Track Carnival.

MANY ENTRIES IN FIELD MEET.

Big A.A.U. Track Clash Set for Redlands April 23.

Course to be in the Fastest Condition Possible.

Affair to be Largest West of the Mississippi.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

REDLANDS, April 6.—Entry blanks for the A.A.U. track meet to be held in Redlands, under the auspices of the University of Redlands, on April 23 are now being sent out by the committee to athletes. It is expected that the entry list will be one of the largest because of the wealth of material in the south this year.

The Redlands stars will probably be here although it may be that they will go East on the relay team for the big Penn relay carnival. Should the team go this year it will be entered in class A and attempt to take the open championship in the mile.

LEAVE FOR EAST.

The team may compete in the A.A.U. here and then leave immediately for the East, in all probability that will be the procedure in case the faculty consents to the trip.

Already out at the University of Redlands, they are making elaborate and extensive preparations for the big A.A.U. meet, which is to be held Saturday, April 23.

This is the first time that Redlands has had the privilege of staging this meet, and the whole student body is out to make it a huge success.

TRACK IS FAST.

The track has come to be recognized as a fast one during the past few years, and it will be in the best shape it has ever been for this meet. There is no doubt that several of the track records will be broken that day. The best time seen on this track in the 100-yard dash is 9 4-5s.—Made by Kirksey—and in the 220, 21 3-5s, also made by Kirksey. These are good marks for any man to shoot at, but judging from his performances of last Saturday at Berkeley, the titled gentleman from U.S.C., is likely to equal or better these.

The high hurdles have seen 15 flat—but when Yount and Daggs and Otto Anderson get together in this, one of them is likely to have to cut it down to 14 plus to break the tape.

Several times Kilby has cut 50 flat in the 440 on this track, and this race is likely to see a new record for the track set up with 49 something.

SOME MEET.

This meet will, in all probability, be the biggest meet west of the Mississippi River this year. There is a long list of Olympic stars to compete. Paddock, world's champion sprinter, Daggs and Yount, hurdlers of some renown, Corey, high jumper, Anderson, hurdler, Evans and Boyle, discus, are a few of them.

Moreman of Pomona and Knights of Redlands will afford a thrill in the mile.—Knight, although only a freshman, pushed Moreman to a fast four-lap circuit in the conference meet recently, and the mile is likely to go at better than 4m. 30s.

The high jump will bring together such men as Corey, Argue, Voorhees, etc., all of whom clear 6 feet with ease.

To Form Team of Ineligible Ball Players.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, April 7.—Plans are well under way for the formation of a team of ineligible major league players, with five of the indicted White Sox as a nucleus, to play against semipro teams in and around Chicago during the coming season.

Joe Jackson, Hap Felsch, Claude Williams, Swede Risberg, and Fred McMullin are the former Sox players who have been lined up already for the attempt to continue in the game in spite of their banishment from organized baseball.

Chick Gandil, alleged ring leader in the infamous deal of 1919, is another possible member of the new team to enter the local field, and it may be that the services of George Weaver will be enlisted in the scheme.

George K. Miller, an investment broker, is the nominal backer of the new team and three of the players—Jackson, Williams, and Risberg—were in conference with him over the details of the plan today.

POSTPONE GAME ON ACCOUNT OF ILLNESS.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

HAVANA, April 7.—The tenth game in the match for the world's chess championship between Dr. Emanuel Lasker and Jose Capablanca was postponed tonight owing to a slight affection of the eye, from which Capablanca was suffering. The game will probably be played tomorrow night. According to the agreement each player has the privilege of three days' absence from the contests.

RUTH CROWNED WITH LAURELS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, April 7.—"Babe" Ruth, when he arrived at Winston-Salem, N. C., yesterday, with the New York American League team, was crowned with a wreath of Virginia cigarette tobacco and learned that the city fathers had declared a half holiday in his honor.

To show appreciation Ruth tried during the Yankees' game with the Dodgers to corral a few of his famous drives. All he could gather, however, were a triple and a single, the latter coming in the eighth and accounting for the two runs that tied the score and won the game.

KAUFF INELIGIBLE TO PLAY BALL.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, April 7.—Benny Kauff, star outfielder with the New York Nationals, today was declared ineligible to play in organized baseball by Commissioner Landis because of the indictments returned against him in New York charging him with the theft of an automobile.

In rendering his decision, Commissioner Landis said: "Of course, the mere return of an indictment does not imply guilt. But indictment does imply that in the judgment of the grand jurors there is probable cause to believe the accused guilty."

SIWASHES GET WELL CLEANED.

almost as often as an old shoe. Seattle made the first splash with a run in the third, and the Angels knotted the going in the same round. Runs in the fourth and fifth gave Seattle a two-run lead, which the Angels ironed out with the aid of a bad throw by Wisterzil in the sixth. Things went along on a three-all basis until Los Angeles slipped the knot in the eleventh.

IN THE THIRD.

The first flush of success, which wasn't to last, struck Seattle in the third simultaneously with the arrival of Mary Miles Minter, who came to beam her million dollar smile on the Siwashes. Last season Mary acted as honorary mascot for Seattle. But she hadn't been out this year, and the report spread that she had quit the bunch cold, or at least lukewarm. Mary resented the implication that she had left the Siwashes flat on their backs, and hence her third inning arrival.

She greeted the visiting athletes with nine collective nods of her head, and they immediately became uplifted with the news. Rod Murphy lifted his cap, and Billy Lane lifted the ball over the left-field fence for the first run of the game. They scored again in the fourth, and Mary began to look like a modern Joan of Arc who would get smile them to victory. In this inning Eldred walked, counting on singles by Cunningham and Elliott, bracketing an error by Niehoff.

FOZZLED IT.

In the fifth, Lindimore fozzled Wisterzil's drive, and Tex tore around to the plate when Eldred drilled a double over "Wahoo Sam" Crawford's venerable cupola. Thomas then tucked his ears down between his shoulders and pitched two-hit ball for the remainder of the day.

Oscar Stanage gave Los Angeles a run in the third, when he crashed out the first of his three triples, completing the circuit on Killefer's one-base knock and a brace of sacrifices. Singles by Zeider and Griggs, and a force, put two on in the sixth with one gone. Jacobs and Murphy held a consultation over Crawford. This secret diplomacy was too deep for Sam, who whiffed.

Lindimore laid a heavy one down to Wisterzil, whose throw to first pulled Murphy over into a collision with Lindimore. The latter was safe, but out. Carroll scored during the mix-up, and Griggs landed at third. After Lindimore had been lifted back on his feet, and planted in an upright position on the base, Niehoff bounced a baffling hopper over Wisterzil, and Griggs arrived with the tieing run.

QUITE A BID.

Seattle made quite a bid in the eleventh, getting two on and a man around to third with two gone. Billy Lane was through with his uplifting for the day, and retired on a grounder to the box.

Mary's smile, which had followed her to the ball park, seemed now to be losing its hypnotic force. Stanage, first up in the home half of the eleventh, backed Stumpf onto the grass with a strong smash, and left Bill in no position to shoot accurately to first. Oscar arrived safely, and so did Thomas when Jacobs picked up his bunt and delayed throwing to first. Furthermore, Murphy was standing off the base when he caught it, seeking more room for his feet.

FORCES THOMAS.

Killefer forced Thomas at second. Stanage taking third. Zeider cracked a grounder to Elliott, who heaved to Tobin. Stanage was turned back from the plate, and run down, all other hands moving up a base. It was here that Carroll stepped into the narrowing breach, and banged out the single which brought Killefer in with the deciding marker. From this, it shouldn't be inferred that Mary is a jinx. She simply had no spring training. It can hardly be said that she's out of form, but she does need practice.

Carter Elliott kept things cleaned up around second, accepting sixteen chances. The sound of the ball slipping into Griggs's mitt made sweet music. Sandow had twenty-three putouts, and it is estimated half a ton of baseballs were thrown at him. The score:

KELLY LOSES VERDICT.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

KENOSHA (Wis.) April 7.—Pal Moore of Chicago was given the newspaper decision in his ten-round bout with Jimmy Kelly of Chicago tonight. Although Kelly was the aggressor, the shifty Moore proved too shrewd for him.

PADDOCK'S SPIN SHOULD STAND.

Coach Christie Strong on Great Sprinter's Record.

Says Charley Had None the Better of Conditions.

Great Mark of 20 4-5s Was Made on Slow Track.

BY WALTER CHRISTIE.
Track Coach University of California

Charles W. Paddock's record of 20⅘ for the 220-yard dash should stand. The race was on a slow track with the weather a bit cool for such a performance. He was at a disadvantage instead of at an advantage.

It has been said that the track is not level. This, however, is not true, as shown by the original survey in 1915 and a survey made Monday morning by four men in the department of civil engineering.

WIND GOOD.

The wind could not have been bad. Forty minutes before Paddock equaled the world's record of 9⅘ in the 100-yard dash facing this wind. The wind was furthermore tested by Mr. Hugo before the race by throwing dust into the air. The dust fell back upon the track at his feet.

Yes, he ran it, and on the Pomona track with Hutchinson and Kirksey for competition he could do the 220 in 2⅘.

All affidavits will go east to the A.A.U. record committee handled at this end by the P.A.A.

IS CONFIDENT.

What makes him good is his confidence. His form is adapted to his needs and requirements; it suits him to a "T."

He warms up and shows poorly, yet he is a picture of energy and strength. He gets there with a vengeance and in a hurry.

His performance is an object lesson for athletes, college, club and school, for it shows study of self.

STICKS TO IT.

He concentrates and sticks to sprinting. Sprinting is his athletic game. How many are ruined by trying to be champions of all sports.

Today one must concentrate to attain success.

I thank Paddock for the privilege of seeing him run. I thank him more profusely for what he knows in concentration and in competitive surety, energy and fight. He does exactly what I try to coach.

We are all proud of his work and praise his ability.

THE RAH-RAHS.

Announcement was made today by Director of Athletics N. A. Kellogg that William H. ("Lone Star") Dietz, former Carlisle football player and Washington State College coach, has been signed as football coach for Purdue this season.

Dietz coached the Washington State team that defeated Brown University at Pasadena, 14-0, in the first Tournament of Roses game, Jan. 1, 1916.

"Bo" McMillan, Centre's All-American quarterback, and Norris Armstrong, captain of the 1921 football team, will eb back in college at Danville this fall, according to the latest announcements from the Kentucky institution. Both had received flattering offers to play with professional football teams. Their presence in the Centre line-up next season will be invaluable to the team.

If plans now being made by the business men of Boulder, Colo., are adopted, a special train will run to Chicago next fall for the football game between the Universities of Chicago and Colorado. It is believed that a special train would be a big advertisement for the college besides giving Colorado's supporters an opportunity to see the game.

Tulane University of New Orleans, La., has extended an invitation to the University of Washington crew for a dual regatta this spring. The invitation suggests the scheduling of the race if Washington goes East to row at Poughkeepsie. The invitation will not be accepted, however, according to Graduate Manager Meisnest. "The race proposed by Tulane would be impossible for us to fit into our crew schedule," he said.

"Flicker" Parks, baseball captain at the University of Michigan, has resigned as a result of disclosures made by the Chicago Tribune that he played professional baseball with the Portland Club of the Pacific Coast League last summer. Parks was ineligible to play under conference rules and therefore resigned. P. J. Van Boven, second baseman on the varsity, has been elected captain to fill the vacancy caused by Parks's resignation.

Illinois appears to have an edge on the Middle Western Conference colleges for the 1921 outdoor track championship judging from the recent meet held at Evanston. The Indians won decisively with Michigan and Wisconsin following in the order named.

Spring football practice has commenced at Ohio State University. Eighty candidates are out for instruction under Coach Wilce who is drilling them in the rudiments of the game. Thirty of these men have never played football before.

Sixteen Tigers Are Required to Win Game

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SACRAMENTO, April 7.—The Vernon Tigers clawed their way to another victory here today, defeating the Senators 8 to 6 after the local club apparently had sewed up the game with four runs in the sixth inning.

Manager Essick threw sixteen men into the line-up to take the contest. The Tigers fell upon Pitchers Niehaus and Penner for five tallies in the seventh. The score:

ELKS' BALL TEAM DEFEATS REDLANDS.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

REDLANDS, April 7.—The Elks' baseball team of this city defeated the University of Redlands in a practice game here last night by a score of 6 to 4. Art Cram, former star twirler for the university, was on the mound for the Elks and his pitching won the game for the lodge team.

Bradley and Jesse Smith did the twirling for the university, Smith showing up very well. The conference season will start on Saturday with a game on the home grounds, University of California, southern branch, coming here.

The conference season is a long one this year, there being two games each week. There will be a baseball game at the university the day of the big A.A.U. track meet for Whittier is scheduled to come here for a game that day.

PAUL LOWRY IN THE FLIGHT THAT FAILED.

Once more the Morning Glories have proved their athletic supremacy over the Twilight Squirts—this time in golf. Mr. Paul Lowry, representing the Morning Glories in the Southern California amateur golf tournament at the L.A.C.C., was defeated yesterday in the defeated eight flight of the defeated members of the eighth flight.

While this may not sound like any signal victory, it really is, when one considers that Twilight Squirts did not even have a man good enough to be defeated in this rather complicated fashion.

A Shopper's Bull.

Relating her experiences in purchasing presents for Christmas, our next-door neighbor said, "I simply couldn't get into Blank and Blank's on account of the crush—and getting out was worse."

DISPLAY LAUDED BY EASTERNERS.

"Call of Open Road" Settings Show Progressive Spirit.

Big Crowds Make the Rounds of Automobile Row.

Women's Driving Contests at Exposition Park.

The varied scenic settings and decorations employed by the automobile dealers of Los Angeles in visualizing the spirit of "The Call of the Open Road," show the unusual progressive spirit of members of the Motor Car Dealers' Association, according to eastern visitors. "Eastern dealers could come to Los Angeles and gain some valuable pointers," declared one.

Automobile concerns along the "row" have expended many thousands of dollars in turning their showrooms into wooded dells, mountain canyons, deserts and other scenes depicting outdoor that are almost inseparably linked with the motor car.

KEPT INDOORS.

The unusually cold weather that prevailed the beginning of the week, kept many indoors during the evening, but last night, hundreds were making the rounds from 7 o'clock until almost midnight. Moving pictures of cars, of their manufacture, fashion revues with living models, vocal and instrumental music, dancing and jazz, offered a varied program with as many varied scenic effects that made the evening only too short.

Hospitality was at top notch in every establishment, and judging by the crowds in evidence last night, the dealers will have their hands full tonight and Saturday, when red fire will be burned in quantities and a general good time engaged in "by all present."

MANY ENTRIES.

When the entries to the women's driving contest that will be held tomorrow at Exposition Park closed last night at 6 o'clock, there were thirty-one entries. Arrangements for the contest, which is free to the public, have been completed and the event will be pulled off without a hitch, according to Bert Roberts, manager of the Motor Car Dealers' Association.

PATTERSON TIPS MACBETH.

Thomas isn't an easy man to down. He followed this up with a victory over Art Shafer in the afternoon winning 1 up by holing out for an eagle 3 on the eighteenth.

In the lower half Jack Neville comes up against Nelson Barker while Bob Hunter tackles Everett Seaver, the southern champion.

RAH FOR HUGHES.

Many queer incidents marked the pastiming yesterday, but the most outlandish of all was the way in which Dr. West Hughes landed in the championship flight. At the end of the second half of the qualifying Wednesday, Dr. West Hughes, W. C. Davison, Wilbur Mack, William Bohn and E. A. Inglis, were tied with 171 apiece. There was room for one of these men in the championship flight. Yesterday morning they started out from the first tee to settle the question.

Inglis rifled out a drive and a brassie straight down the course and landed on the green in two about twelve feet from the pin. He appeared to have the hole cinched. Everyone else was in trouble. Dr. Hughes's ball was in the barrier—the thick bermuda that guards the front of the green. His mashie shot from this headed straight for the pin, trickled along the ground and hopped in for a three. Inglis missed his putt, and Dr. Hughes had won the honor on one of the most uncanny shots that was ever pulled off.

WILBUR DOES IT.

Though Actor Wilbur Mack lost out in this five-man freeze-out proposition, he later had a chance to cheer jubilantly when he scored a 75—one stroke over par—for the course in his afternoon match. This is Mack's best effort to date, and he had a card to prove it.

Art Shafer had a shot similar to Dr. Hughes when he holed out an approach from the rough on the eleven for a birdie two in his match with Crane Gartz.

The results of yesterday's match play in the championship flight (one round of which will be played today) and the results in other flights (two rounds of which must be played today) follow:

Wonderful Races Promised for Redlands Track Carnival.

MANY ENTRIES IN FIELD MEET.

Big A.A.U. Track Clash Set for Redlands April 23.

Course to be in the Fastest Condition Possible.

Affair to be Largest West of the Mississippi.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

REDLANDS, April 6.—Entry blanks for the A.A.U. track meet to be held in Redlands, under the auspices of the University of Redlands, on April 23 are now being sent out by the committee to athletes. It is expected that the entry list will be one of the largest because of the wealth of material in the south this year.

The Redlands stars will probably be here although it may be that they will go East on the relay team for the big Penn relay carnival. Should the team go this year it will be entered in class A and attempt to take the open championship in the mile.

LEAVE FOR EAST.

The team may compete in the A.A.U. here and then leave immediately for the East, in all probability that will be the procedure in case the faculty consents to the trip.

Already out at the University of Redlands, they are making elaborate and extensive preparations for the big A.A.U. meet, which is to be held Saturday, April 23.

This is the first time that Redlands has had the privilege of staging this meet, and the whole student body is out to make it a huge success.

TRACK IS FAST.

The track has come to be recognized as a fast one during the past few years, and it will be in the best shape it has ever been for this meet. There is no doubt that several of the track records will be broken that day. The best time seen on this track in the 100-yard dash is 9 4-5s.—Made by Kirksey—and in the 220, 21 3-5s. also made by Kirksey. These are good marks for any man to shoot at, but judging from his performances of last Saturday at Berkeley, the titled gentleman from U.S.C., is likely to equal or better these.

The high hurdles have seen 15 flat—but when Yount and Daggs and Otto Anderson get together in this, one of them is likely to have to cut it down to 14 plus to break the tape.

Several times Kilby has cut 50 flat in the 440 on this track, and this race is likely to see a new record for the track set up with 49 something.

SOME MEET.

This meet will, in all probability, be the biggest meet west of the Mississippi River this year. There is a long list of Olympic stars to compete. Paddock, world's champion sprinter, Daggs and Yount, hurdlers of some renown, Corey, high jumper, Anderson, hurdler, Evans and Boyle, discus, are a few of them.

Moreman of Pomona and Knights of Redlands will afford a thrill in the mile. Knight, although only a freshman, pushed Moreman to a fast four-lap circuit in the conference meet recently, and the mile is likely to go at better than 4m. 30s.

The high jump will bring together such men as Corey, Argue, Voorhees, etc., all of whom clear 6 feet with ease.

To Form Team of Ineligible Ball Players.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, April 7.—Plans are well under way for the formation of a team of ineligible major league players, with five of the indicted White Sox as a nucleus, to play against semipro teams in and around Chicago during the coming season.

Joe Jackson, Hap Felsch, Claude Williams, Swede Risberg, and Fred McMullin are the former Sox players who have been lined up already for the attempt to continue in the game in spite of their banishment from organized baseball.

Chick Gandil, alleged ring leader in the infamous deal of 1919, is another possible member of the new team to enter the local field, and it may be that the services of George Weaver will be enlisted in the scheme.

George K. Miller, an investment broker, is the nominal backer of the new team and three of the players—Jackson, Williams, and Risberg—were in conference with him over the details of the plan today.

POSTPONE GAME ON ACCOUNT OF ILLNESS.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

HAVANA, April 7.—The tenth game in the match for the world's chess championship between Dr. Emanuel Lasker and Jose Capablanca was postponed tonight owing to a slight affection of the eye, from which Capablanca was suffering. The game will probably be played tomorrow night. According to the agreement each player has the privilege of three days' absence from the contests.

RUTH CROWNED WITH LAURELS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, April 7.—"Babe" Ruth, when he arrived at Winston-Salem, N. C., yesterday, with the New York American League team, was crowned with a wreath of Virginia cigarette tobacco and learned that the city fathers had declared a half holiday in his honor.

To show appreciation Ruth tried during the Yankees' game with the Dodgers to corral a few of his famous drives. All he could gather, however, were a triple and a single, the latter coming in the eighth and accounting for the two runs that tied the score and won the game.

KAUFF INELIGIBLE TO PLAY BALL.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, April 7.—Benny Kauff, star outfielder with the New York Nationals, today was declared ineligible to play in organized baseball by Commissioner Landis because of the indictments returned against him in New York charging him with the theft of an automobile.

In rendering his decision, Commissioner Landis said: "Of course, the mere return of an indictment does not imply guilt. But indictment does imply that in the judgment of the grand jurors there is probable cause to believe the accused guilty."

SIWASHES GET WELL CLEANED.

almost as often as an old shoe. Seattle made the first splash with a run in the third, and the Angels knotted the going in the same round. Runs in the fourth and fifth gave Seattle a two-run lead, which the Angels ironed out with the aid of a bad throw by Wisterzil in the sixth. Things went along on a three-all basis until Los Angeles slipped the knot in the eleventh.

IN THE THIRD.

The first flush of success, which wasn't to last, struck Seattle in the third simultaneously with the arrival of Mary Miles Minter, who came to beam her million dollar smile on the Siwashes. Last season Mary acted as honorary mascot for Seattle. But she hadn't been out this year, and the report spread that she had quit the bunch cold, or at least lukewarm. Mary resented the implication that she had left the Siwashes flat on their backs, and hence her third inning arrival.

She greeted the visiting athletes with nine collective nods of her head, and they immediately became uplifted with joy. Rod Murphy lifted his cap, and Billy Lane lifted the ball over the left-field fence for the first run of the game. They scored again in the fourth, and Mary began to look like a modern Joan of Arc who would get smile them to victory. In this inning Eldred walked, counting on singles by Cunningham and Elliott, bracketing an error by Niehoff.

FOZZLED IT.

In the fifth, Lindimore fozzled Wisterzil's drive, and Tex tore around to the plate when Eldred drilled a double over "Wahoo Sam" Crawford's venerable cupola. Thomas then tucked his ears down between his shoulders and pitched two-hit ball for the remainder of the day.

Oscar Stanage gave Los Angeles a run in the third, when he cracked out the first of his three singles, completing the circuit on Killefer's one-base knock and a brace of sacrifices. Singles by Zeider and Griggs, and a force, put two on in the sixth with one gone. Jacobs and Murphy held a consultation over Crawford. This secret diplomacy was too deep for Sam, who whiffed.

Lindimore laid a heavy one down to Wisterzil, whose throw to first pulled Murphy over into a collision with Lindimore. The latter was safe, but out. Carroll scored during the mix-up, and Griggs landed at third. After Lindimore had been lifted back on his feet, and planted in an upright position on the base, Niehoff bounced a baffling hopper over Wisterzil, and Griggs arrived with the tieing run.

QUITE A BID.

Seattle made quite a bid in the eleventh, getting two on and a man around to third with two gone. Billy Lane was through with his uplifting for the day, and retired on a grounder to the box.

Mary's smile, which had followed her to the ball park, seemed now to be losing its hypnotic force. Stanage, first up in the home half of the eleventh, backed Stumpf onto the grass with a strong smash, and left Bill in no position to shoot accurately to first. Oscar arrived safely, and so did Thomas when Jacobs picked up his bunt and delayed throwing to first. Furthermore, Murphy was standing off the base when he caught it, seeking more room for his feet.

FORCES THOMAS.

Killefer forced Thomas at second. Stanage taking third. Zeider cracked a grounder to Elliott, who heaved to Tobin. Stanage was turned back from the plate, and run down, all other hands moving up a base. It was here that Carroll stepped into the narrowing breach, and banged out the single which brought Killefer in with the deciding marker. From this, it shouldn't be inferred that Mary is a jinx. She simply had no spring training. It can hardly be said that she's out of form, but she does need practice.

Carter Elliott kept things cleaned up around second, accepting sixteen chances. The sound of the ball slipping into Griggs's mitt made sweet music. Sandow had twenty-three putouts, and it is estimated half a ton of baseballs were thrown at him. The score:

KELLY LOSES VERDICT.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

KENOSHA (Wis.) April 7.—Pal Moore of Chicago was given the newspaper decision in his ten-round bout with Jimmy Kelly of Chicago tonight. Although Kelly was the aggressor, the shifty Moore proved too shrewd for him.

PADDOCK'S SPIN SHOULD STAND.

Coach Christie Strong on Great Sprinter's Record.

Says Charley Had None the Better of Conditions.

Great Mark of 20 4-5s Was Made on Slow Track.

BY WALTER CHRISTIE.
Track Coach University of California

Charles W. Paddock's record of 20⅘ for the 220-yard dash should stand. The race was on a slow track with the weather a bit cool for such a performance. He was at a disadvantage instead of at an advantage.

It has been said that the track is not level. This, however, is not true, as shown by the original survey in 1915 and a survey made Monday morning by four men in the department of civil engineering.

WIND GOOD.

The wind could not have been bad. Forty minutes before Paddock equaled the world's record of 9⅘ in the 100-yard dash facing this wind. The wind was furthermore tested by Mr. Hugo before the race by throwing dust into the air. The dust fell back upon the track at his feet.

Yes, he ran it, and on the Pomona track with Hutchinson and Kirksey for competition he could do the 220 in 2⅘.

All affidavits will go east to the A.A.U. record committee handled at this end by the P.A.A.

IS CONFIDENT.

What makes him good is his confidence. His form is adapted to his needs and requirements; it suits him to a "T."

He warms up and shows poorly, yet he is a picture of energy and strength. He gets there with a vengeance and in a hurry.

STICKS TO IT.

He concentrates and sticks to springtime. Sprinting is his athletic game. How many are ruined by trying to be champions of all sports.

Today one must concentrate to attain success.

I thank Paddock for the privilege of seeing him run. I thank him more profusely for what he knows in concentration and in competitive surety, energy and fight. He does exactly what I try to coach.

We are all proud of his work and praise his ability.

THE RAH-RAHS.

Announcement was made today by Director of Athletics N. A. Kellogg that William H. ("Lone Star") Dietz, former Carlisle football player and Washington State College coach, has been signed as football coach for Purdue this season.

Dietz coached the Washington State team that defeated Brown University at Pasadena, 14-0, in the first Tournament of Roses game, Jan. 1, 1916.

"Bo" McMillan, Centre's All-American quarterback, and Norris Armstrong, captain of the 1921 football team, will eb back in college at Danville this fall, according to the latest announcements from the Kentucky institution. Both had received flattering offers to play with professional football teams. Their presence in the Centre line-up next season will be invaluable to the team.

If plans now being made by the business men of Boulder, Colo., are adopted, a special train will run to Chicago next fall for the football game between the Universities of Chicago and Colorado. It is believed that a special train would be a big advertisement for the college besides giving Colorado's supporters an opportunity to see the game.

Tulane University of New Orleans, La., has extended an invitation to the University of Washington crew for a dual regatta this spring. The invitation suggests the scheduling of the race if Washington goes East to row at Poughkeepsie. The invitation will not be accepted, however, according to Graduate Manager Clement. "The race proposed by Tulane would be impossible for us to fit into our crew schedule," he said.

"Slicker" Parks, baseball captain at the University of Michigan, has resigned as a result of disclosures made by the Chicago Tribune that he played professional baseball with the Portland Club of the Pacific Coast League last summer. Parks was ineligible to play under conference rules and therefore resigned. P. J. Van Boven, second baseman on the varsity, has been elected captain to fill the vacancy caused by Parks's resignation.

Illinois appears to have an edge on the Middle Western Conference colleges for the 1921 outdoor track championship judging from the recent meet held at Evanston. The Indians won decisively with Michigan and Wisconsin following in the order named.

Spring football practice has commenced at Ohio State University. Eighty candidates are out for instruction under Coach Wilce who is drilling them in the rudiments of the game. Thirty of these men have never played football before.

ELKS' BALL TEAM DEFEATS REDLANDS.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

REDLANDS, April 7.—The Elks' baseball team of this city defeated the University of Redlands in a practice game here last night by a score of 6 to 4. Art Cram, former star twirler for the university, was on the mound for the Elks and his pitching won the game for the lodge team.

Bradley and Jesse Smith did the twirling for the university, Smith showing up very well. The conference season will start on Saturday with a game on the home grounds, University of California, southern branch, coming here.

The conference season is a long one this year, there being two games each week. There will be a baseball game at the university the day of the big A.A.U. track meet for Whittier is scheduled to come here for a game that day.

PAUL LOWRY IN THE FLIGHT THAT FAILED.

Once more the Morning Glories have proved their athletic supremacy over the Twilight Squirts—this time in golf. Mr. Paul Lowry, representing the Morning Glories in the Southern California amateur golf tournament at the L.A.C.C., was defeated yesterday in the defeated eight flight of the defeated members of the eighth flight.

While this may not sound like any signal victory, it really is, when one considers that Twilight Squirts did not even have a man good enough to be defeated in this rather complicated fashion.

DISPLAY LAUDED BY EASTERNERS.

"Call of Open Road" Settings Show Progressive Spirit.

Big Crowds Make the Rounds of Automobile Row.

Women's Driving Contests at Exposition Park.

The varied scenic settings and decorations employed by the automobile dealers of Los Angeles in visualizing the spirit of "The Call of the Open Road," show the unusual progressive spirit of members of the Motor Car Dealers' Association, according to eastern visitors. "Eastern dealers could come to Los Angeles and gain some valuable pointers," declared one.

Automobile concerns along the "row" have expended many thousands of dollars in turning their showrooms into wooded dells, mountain canyons, deserts and other scenes depicting outdoor that are almost inseparably linked with the motor car.

KEPT INDOORS.

The unusually cold weather that prevailed the beginning of the week, kept many indoors during the evening, but last night, hundreds were making the rounds from 7 o'clock until almost midnight. Moving pictures of cars, of their manufacture, fashion revues with living models, vocal and instrumental music, dancing and jazz, offered a varied program with as many varied scenic effects that made the evening only too short.

Hospitality was at top notch in every establishment, and judging by the crowds in evidence last night, the dealers will have their hands full tonight and Saturday, when red fire will be burned in quantities and a general good time engaged in "by all present."

MANY ENTRIES.

When the entries to the women's driving contest that will be held tomorrow at Exposition Park closed last night at 6 o'clock, there were thirty-one entries. Arrangements for the contest, which is free to the public, have been completed and the event will be pulled off without a hitch, according to Bert Roberts, manager of the Motor Car Dealers' Association.

PATTERSON TIPS MACBETH.

Thomas isn't an easy man to down. He followed this up with a victory over Art Shafer in the afternoon winning 1 up by holing out for an eagle 3 on the eighteenth.

In the lower half Jack Neville comes up against Nelson Barker while Bob Hunter tackles Everett Seaver, the southern champion.

RAH FOR HUGHES.

Many queer incidents marked the pastiming yesterday, but the most outlandish of all was the way in which Dr. West Hughes landed in the championship flight. At the end of the second half of the qualifying Wednesday, Dr. West Hughes, W. C. Davison, Wilbur Mack, William Bohn and E. A. Inglis, were tied with 171 apiece. There was room for one of these men in the championship flight. Yesterday morning they started out from the first tee to settle the question.

Inglis rifled out a drive and a brassie straight down the course and landed on the green in two about twelve feet from the pin. He appeared to have the hole cinched. Everyone else was in trouble. Dr. Hughes's ball was in the barrier—the thick bermuda that guards the front of the green. His mashie shot from this headed straight for the pin, trickled along the ground and hopped in for a three. Inglis missed his putt, and Dr. Hughes had won the honor on one of the most uncanny shots that was ever pulled off.

WILBUR DOES IT.

Though Actor Wilbur Mack lost out in this five-man freeze-out proposition, he later had a chance to cheer jubilantly when he scored a 75—one stroke over par—for the course in his afternoon match. This is Mack's best effort to date, and he had a card to prove it.

Art Shafer had a shot similar to Dr. Hughes when he holed out an approach from the rough on the eleven for a birdie two in his match with Crane Gartz.

The results of yesterday's match play in the championship flight (one round of which will be played today) and the results in other flights (two rounds of which must be played today) follow:

THRILLING EXPERIENCE.

Venice Youths Tossed About In Heavy Sea Storm.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

VENICE, April 7.—Members of a hunting party composed of Lee Sherwood, George Walker, Walter Ellsworth, Oscar Sprats, Will Porter and Leonard Horsefield, all of Venice, who left San Pedro Saturday night in a thirty-foot gasoline boat, are home today, recovering from three days of exposure and hunger which they experienced, the result of a storm which caught them thirty miles from the island of Santa Cruz.

The party left San Pedro in the "Alert No. 4." The boat went bad a short distance out, but determined to make their trip the adventurers returned and boarded the "Alert No. 1." Early Sunday morning they were caught in a heavy storm and the wash of the furious sea stopped the working of their engine, and the small craft was at the mercy of the heavy waves.

Though they expected to be thrown into the sea at any moment, they managed to keep the boat nosed in the direction of San Pedro, despite the strength of the wind. For three days the boat tossed about. The youths had nothing to eat but a few lemons. Their desperate efforts to keep the craft bottom side down, left them exhausted and sick when they reached San Pedro late Tuesday morning.

SUSPECT FOUL PLAY.

Body of Oxnard Man Washed in by Ocean Waves.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SANTA BARBARA, April 7.—Foul play is suspicioned in the death of Harry Myer, father of the cashier of the First National Bank of Oxnard, who disappeared from a fishing boat here early in March and whose body was recovered last Monday, having floated up on the beach at the Rincoln fish camp, twenty-four miles east of Santa Barbara.

Myer had gone aboard the fishing boat as a guest of the fishermen planning a trip on the following day. Late that night, while the boat was at its mooring, 100 yards east of the commercial wharf here, Myer was heard to call out: "Jerry, help, help!"

Next morning he was missing and persons on the boat claim he must have fallen overboard during the night. He had with him $190 in money and a watch. The money is missing and today the authorities took up an investigation and persons who are supposed to know the circumstances of his fate are said by the officers to tell conflicting stories.

When the body was found it was clothed only in a pair of trousers and an undershirt. Identification was made through a fishing license found in a pocket. The officers believe the man was murdered, robbery being the motive, and that the body was weighted down when thrown over, which the officers declare would account for it not coming ashore for weeks afterward.

AIRCRAFT FACTORY GOES TO ONTARIO.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

ONTARIO, April 7.—This city was assured of another industry today when E. H. Barrett and J. K. Woods of the Pacific Aircraft Manufacturing Company declared their intention of establishing a factory here as soon as they can secure a lease on a site for which they are now negotiating.

The fact that Ontario offers an excellent factory site and flying field combined influenced the company in its decision to establish a plant here.

Messrs. Barrett and Woods met here today with Welles T. Ross, president of the Ontario Chamber of Commerce, Secretary B. W. Spencer, W. A. Freemire, chairman of the Manufacturing Committee of the chamber, Mayor Ball, Charles Latimer and Oscar Arnold, giving the local men assurance of their intention to locate here as soon as the lease is signed and it was reported tonight that arrangements are virtually completed. The company expects to erect a building 50 by 250 feet. The plant will give initial employment to fifty men, the number to be increased to 200 when the factory is in full operation.

Ontario Citizens Protest Against Proposed Morgue.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

ONTARIO, April 7.—With public sentiment aroused by the contemplated conversion of the Mancanita Apartments at 319 North Euclid avenue, into an undertaking establishment, following its sale by Miss Helen Fitzgerald to I. Jay Owen of Pomona, petitions were being circulated tonight requesting the City Council to adopt an emergency ordinance to prevent the establishment of morgues on Euclid avenue.

Dr. G. Ben Henke, whose office and residence at 317 North Euclid avenue adjoins the place on the south, has declared his intention of erecting a twenty-foot board fence between his property and the Mancanita, in the event the latter is to be used as an undertaking establishment.

Contemplated injunction proceedings were delayed this afternoon pending action by the City Council.

Members of the board of directors of the Ontario Public Library, which adjoins the proposed mortuary on the north, are active in the campaign to prevent its establishment, as are residents of the neighborhood and others.

STRANGE MIXTURE CAUSE OF TROUBLE.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

POMONA, April 7.—Raisins, sunflower seeds, sugar and yeast, in the proper combination, contributed to the predicament in which John Olmas now finds himself.

Police raided his home on West Ninth street today and confiscated 127 gallons of alleged wine, which they declare is of his own brew. The police have no evidence that he has been selling the liquid, but made the arrest on a charge of manufacturing spiritous beverages, which is forbidden by a local ordinance. Olmas is in jail pending his hearing and a chemical analysis of the concoction.

NO DAMAGE.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

ONTARIO, April 7.—That no damage whatever resulted to the incoming peach crop in the Ontario and Chino sections by Wednesday morning's touch of winter, when official government thermometers in this district registered a shade under 31 degrees, was the opinion expressed by experts after a careful inspection of deciduous orchards hereabouts.

George P. Weldon, pomologist of the Chaffey College of Agriculture, reported that he had found no damage whatever in the groves visited by him, but that he had heard reports of some slight damage to apricots in a strip at the extreme southeast of the deciduous belt, lying east of Euclid and south of Chino avenues. Present indications are, however, that the peaches were hurt not at all and in most sections hereabouts the apricots have not been touched.

S. P. Ellison, deciduous expert for the Libby, MacNeil and Libby cannery at Chino, after spending a day inspecting orchards in the Chino section, reported some slight damage to "cots" in some districts, but that there was no evidence of any damage whatever to the peach crop.

PHONES RUSHED IN.

Eleven Thousand Listed by Company in Past Three Months.

The Board of Public Utilities yesterday received a report from Commercial Superintendent Powley of the Southern California Telephone Company, showing total installations of 11,217 stations during the first three months of the present year, or a net gain of 5694 new telephones. The company during this period wrote 8358 new orders, showing the continued increase in the population of the city. At the beginning of the year the company had on its books 11,009 unfilled orders, and this number has been reduced to 6000, and is being steadily cut down, the company, Mr. Powley says, "making every effort to complete the orders as rapidly as material is received."

He says he was at his home on the night the safe was robbed, and witnesses were produced who corroborated him.

WARNS ILLEGAL BUSINESS.

Daugherty Says Government Will Countenance No Violations of Law.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, April 7.—A general warning to business that the Department of Justice will countenance no violations of the law was sounded today by Atty.-Gen. Daugherty.

The country, Mr. Daugherty said, should take notice of a new day and a new way and that those who had been guilty of illegal practices should not close their eyes. His statement, he added, was a modest but emphatic warning to those for whom it was intended and could be regarded as an opportunity for any of those who should mend their ways to do so.

Atty.-Gen. Daugherty said the Department of Justice did not intend to harass business in any way, but it did intend to enforce the law. He pointed out that while the profiteering sections of the Lever Act had been declared unconstitutional, the department still could

BUILDING INTOLERABLE.

Mr. Daugherty was discussing specifically the situation in the building materials industry, which he declared reports to the department showed to be "intolerable." He said the Department of Justice would ask for more aid from the outside than it had received heretofore, and that lawyers representing firms should regard themselves as agents of the Department of Justice in upholding the law.

The Attorney-General announced it was the purpose of investigating conditions in the building material trades wherever an inquiry was warranted. Indictments already have been returned in New York and Chicago, he said, and complaints have come from Pittsburg, St. Louis, Cleveland and other cities.

WORK OUT CODE.

Secretary Hoover announced that the Department of Commerce had begun gradual organization of a committee to work out a standardization of building materials and a unified building code for the entire country.

Conflicts in the building codes of different localities, Mr. Hoover explained, cause losses of from 10 to 15 per cent in construction values in a year, which could be avoided by single code.

Efforts are being made, he said, to get the fire marshals of cities and the architects on the one side and the building trades on the other to agree upon a single code.

GARDEN'S NEW TRIUMPH.

Her Fiora is Volcanic in Its Fiery Dramatic Power; "L'Amore" Brilliant Success.

BY EDWIN SCHALLERT.

Pulses were stirred anew, emotions were aroused to fever pitch and an audience thrilled as it has seldom if ever thrilled here before to the spell of Mary Garden in her great portrayal of the role of Fiora in Ltalo Montemezzi's volcanic music drama, "L'Amore dei Tre Re," last night at Philharmonic Auditorium. We have had performances and performances, and operas and operas, but this was one of the most glorious in many seasons, to be rated alongside the first local rendition of "Parsifal" by the Metropolitan more than a decade ago, and perhaps a few other productions by the Chicago in the past.

I do not recall any ovation that equaled in volume that which greeted the artists after the terrace scene in the second act. Again and again were Miss Garden, Giorgio Polacco, the director, Edward Johnson, Virgilio Lazzari and George Baklanoff called before the curtain. They came singly and together, while cheers greeted their every return. Even the huge baskets of American Beauty roses passed unnoticed because of the desire of the audience to behold their operatic idols yet again.

Right from the first notes of the brief prelude it was apparent that the atmosphere of the presentation had changed. Director Polacco insisted, after the Wagnerian mode, on silence before he would beat a measure. It was apparent that the prime importance of the vocalist was to give place to a rightful prominence of all forces.

With an orchestra such as the Chicago has brought, beauties in the score of Montemezzi's opera that are but dimly visioned are allowed their full sweep. The great story of the conflict between love and honor surges with sealike power. The work becomes a veritable Italian "Tristan and Isolde," whose violence approaches the neurasthenic. It is not music that touches the heart, but it causes nerves to tingle with the strangeness of its sensitive potency.

In the second act of "L'Amore" I have much the same feeling as when listening to "Tristan," but without any after-emotion. Its power, while relatively akin, does not strike so deeply. Nevertheless, it is glorious of its kind, and with Miss Garden in the title role becomes sublimated to a hectic intensity.

GARDEN'S GREAT TRIUMPH.

Nobody who follows musical affairs is ignorant of the tremendous triumph, which Miss Garden has achieved in this role during the past several seasons. She has made Fiora a new character, a passion-maddened woman, whose longings for the lover burn away every vestige of devotion she has for the husband.

More keenly than any other interpreter does she in the tower scene bring to my mind that famous picture of Boecklin, the Swiss painter, "The Fires of the Sea." She is maniacal in her succumbing to her primitive desires in the great love scene with Avito. Her struggle to remain faithful to Manfredo as she waves the scarf to the departing hosts is a lost one from its inception.

In her superb emphasis of the weakness of the character does Miss Garden by the adroitness of her plan of action give the interpretation its superlative strength. She dares to let the raging flames of the passion sweep her scarlet-clad being where another actress would affect the mantle of white lest there be any mistaking of the warring impulses and restraints within her soul. In this is Miss Garden probably greater even as Fiora than was Montemezzi's and Sem Benneli's original conception.

POLACCO'S CLIMAXES.

To Polacco belongs also major glories of the evening. Such magnificent straining climaxes have seldom been achieved in any presentation. His brasses assailed the dome with their reverberating clashes of tone. The swelling volume of music from the strings and wood winds was like the rising of a mighty tide on a wind-lashed sea. With singular emphasis did the notes of the tympani thunder forth. Startling crashes these at the end of blazing bursts of dramatic action.

Beside the love scene and the catastrophe where the blind father strangles the wife of the son, the pallid beauties of the third act of Montemezzi's opera assume a deathlike calm. Perhaps this contrast may appeal, but to me it has always been anticlimax. The first act is more lovely in its episodic beauties which are but a prelude to the crimson wonders of the terrace scene.

Archibaldo's theme, a dominating one in the score, with its halting measures for pizzicato strings, is made to mean much through the stage entrances of Virgilio Lazzari. However, I think that Max Rabinoff presented a better interpreter of this role here, although his name at the moment escapes my mind. Still, Lazzari tested the full bigness in the great dramatic scene where he upbraids and finally kills Fiora. It was a powerful bit of interpretation, with fine reserve as its background.

Edward Johnson was an exceptional Avito. He gave the part all its great emotional depth. Stirring, indeed, were his entreaties in the second act, where he prevails upon the heroine to surrender to the spell of their passion. Too, he realized some exquisite beauties with his voicing of the love music. His scene with Fiora was an unforgettably vivid stage picture.

Georges Baklanoff sang with fine dignity the music that is allotted to Manfredo and this represents some of the best vocal passages in the work. His presence and manner give to this character its proper breadth of heroism. The statuesque warrior prevailed entirely over the man of fervid sentiment, yet exemplifying a depth of feeling.

"L'Amore dei Tre Re," especially with the cast and interpretation it had last night, brings to the fore more than ever the desire of the public for the newer works—the great works where music and drama achieve their proper proportion. The applause of the audience was not only a tribute to a superlative interpretation, but to music of significance as well.

Tonight Wagner's "Lohengrin" will be presented, with Edward Johnson in the title role, Raisa as Elsa, Georges Baklanoff as Telramund, and Cyrena Van Gordon as Ortrud. The last noteworthy production of this work locally, was given by the Chicago seven seasons ago.

AVIATOR A STAR.

ELLIOTT SPARLING, WAR HERO, SIGNS FOR FILMS.

By Grace Kingsley.

One of our handsomest war flyers, and a member of the United States Naval Aviation Corps during the late war, is the latest addition to the ranks of motion-picture stars. He is Ensign Elliott Sparling, and he is to be featured in a company just organized by the veteran picture producer, Oliver Sellers, which will be known as the Oliver Sellers Productions.

While he is very modest about the matter, still the fact remains that Ensign Sparling was one of the squadron of the United States naval aviators, who sunk a German submarine off the coast of Cuba just before the signing of the armistice, which feat leaked out at the time and was a matter of sensational comment.

Under the contract signed by Elliott Sparling yesterday, the young actor is to be featured in a series of pictures adapted from the William Leighton western stories, published in the Saturday Evening Post and other magazines. The first of these will be "Life's Little Joker," and will be made at either Universal City or the Brunton studios. Work of casting is going on, and production will be commenced early next week.

It was during the studio showing of some scenes of Clara Kimball Young's picture, "Charge It," in which Sparling plays a small, but significant bit, that Mr. Sellers saw him on the screen, and at once entered into negotiations.

Young Sparling is the son of George A. Sparling of Ashland, Wis., who has wide business interests throughout the State. The boy was prominent in theatricals at Wisconsin State University, and later played a short time in vaudeville and in a small stock company in the Middle West. When the war came along, he at once volunteered and was accepted by the flying service, and remained in service four years, during most of which time he was assigned to southern waters.

Oliver Sellers is one of the best-known figures in the picture world. He was at one time a head official with Universal, later he was with Triangle, and afterward he became a producer with Macaulley Pictures.

BUSTER KEATON GOES EAST TO GET BRIDE.

Of course Buster Keaton never smiles; nevertheless there was a suspicion of a happy grin on his face yesterday. He made the momentous announcement that he had all his grips packed preparatory to fitting to New York today in order to claim his bride, Natalie Talmadge, sister of Norma and Constance.

The wedding is to occur almost as soon as Mr. Keaton arrives in New York, Mr. Keaton says, in order that Natalie may not have a chance to change her mind.

Lou Anger, who accompanies him on his trip, will be best man. The happy pair will return almost at once to Hollywood, as Mr. Keaton now feels it incumbent on him, more than ever before, to make money, and he has a new picture to begin about May 1.

Miss Talmadge has promised on her word of honor she won't ever go on the screen again; so on the strength of that promise, the comedian is going to build a very beautiful home for her, either in Beverly Hills or Hollywood.

Another matter to claim Mr. Keaton's attention on his return home is the purchase of a studio here. Negotiations are under way to that end. So he will have two new homes—a domestic and a professional one.

Will Make "Wandering Jew."

"Passion" would appear to have opened up the way for a number of historical plays. Now comes John Stahl, who makes the Stahl Productions for Louis B. Mayer, and announces not only that he will film a version of "King Lear," but that he is also planning a production of "The Wandering Jew," which in dramatic form, has been making a big hit in London during the past season.

For both these productions, Mr. Stahl will engage special research and costume departments, and there will be no limit set as to time.

"Over the Hill" Soon.

At last the suspense is ended. The place and date of the local showing of William Fox's "Over the Hill" have been fixed. "Over the Hill" is to open at Philharmonic Auditorium May 9.

"Over the Hill," with its simple, homely theme, is rated as one of the greatest successes in the history of picturedom. It has been running in New York for many weeks, with no present evidence of stopping. It is founded on Will Carleton's poem, "Over the Hill to the Poor House," and as a tear-teaser, is said to be positively without an equal among pictures.

Speaking of "Over the Hill," two of the principal players in the cast, Johnny Walker and Edna Murphy, have just arrived in Hollywood. They are shortly to start work on a Fox picture entitled "The Live Wire," with Ed Sedgwick, who came from New York with them, directing. Sedgwick is the brother of the picture stars, Eileen and Josephine Sedgwick.

Another Fox director, Charles Giblyn, lately directing Pearl White in Fox pictures, is also a newcomer at the Fox studios, and will shortly begin production of a picture.

Charlie Murray Happy.

If you meet Charlie Murray, Sennett star, stepping especially high these days, and if he gives you an unusually jubilant smile even for him, you may be sure he has a good reason. The reason is that it has been decided, out at the Sennett studios, that he is too young to play Mabel Normand's father in "Mollie-O." Now, Miss Normand herself is such a kid to look at, that it's no wonder Mr. Murray feels set up over the verdict.

Mr. Murray has just come back from New York, and reports his daughter, whose sickbed he went back East to visit, is quite well, and so, what with the news from the Sennett studio that he's to be starred in a new Sennett feature to be commenced soon, and the fact that he's considered too juvenile looking to play even Miss Normand's father, it's no wonder if he's feeling a bit fit, what?

Ben Turpin Back.

Ben Turpin, of the syncopated gaze, has just come back from New Orleans, his home town, and has begun work in a two-reel comedy at the Sennett studios. He reports, good friends, good food, and good dr— that is good drama,—down there.

"Queen of Sheba" in September.

And while we're on the subject of Fox features, please permit me to announce that the much-discussed "Queen of Sheba," directed by J. Gordon Edwards, and in which Fritz Leiber and Betty Blythe are featured, will be released here in September.

Aimee Torrianni Engaged.

Speaking of "The Queen of Sheba" reminds me that one of the beautiful young players in that spectable, Aimee Torrianni, has been added to the cast of James Young's picturization of Kipling's "Without Benefit of Clergy," which is being made at the Brunton studios.

Richard Dix Honored.

Richard Dix has been chosen for the leading male role in "The Glorious Fool," Mary Roberts Rinehart's first original screen story, which will soon go into production at the Goldwyn studios, under direction of E. Mason Hopper.

Carle Laemmle Leaves

Carl Laemmle, president, and R. H. Cochrane, vice-president of Universal, who have been spending the winter in Southern California, are planning to return to New York at the end of the present week. During the stay of the two officials in the West, they have planned work enough to keep the many U companies busy throughout the summer.

Elmo Lincoln in Tarzan.

Elmo Lincoln, known to screen fans as "Elmo the Mighty," has started on a new serial production for Universal, based on the exploits of Tarzan of the Apes.

HAS IMPERIAL SOUVENIR.

Alice Brady, who is appearing at Clune's Broadway this week in her latest photoplay, "Our Mrs. McChesney," is the possessor of a parasol of rose point lace, which once was the property of the late Empress Eugenie. The handle of the parasol is of tortoise shell and ivory, set with five diamonds. Miss Brady purchased this interesting souvenir from one of the servants of the late Empress.

Some Little Emotional Star, This.

Constance Talmadge,
Whom you find here giving an unsuspected exhibition of temperament, in a scene from "Mamma's Affair" at the Kinema.

BENEFIT FOR KNIGHTS.

The Knights of Columbus are rapidly completing preparations for the benefit performance to be given under the auspices of the order next Friday night to raise funds for the furtherance of their work among wards of the Juvenile Court, at Philharmonic Auditorium. Special music is to be rendered by an augmented orchestra. A. A. Normandin, chairman of the committee on arrangements, was notified yesterday that members of the musicians' union have donated their services for the performance. The show is to be given under the personal direction of Sid Grauman.

BOY SCOUTS ON SCREEN.

Moving pictures taken of the flag-raising ceremony at the Boy Scouts' new camp in the Hollywood Mountains last Saturday morning are being shown at Clune's Broadway Theater this week, and, through the courtesy of W. H. Clune and Manager Frank L. Browne, all Boy Scouts will be given free admittance to the theater tomorrow forenoon between the hours of 11 and 12 o'clock provided they are in uniform. The flag-raising event celebrated the presentation to the Boy Scouts of fifteen acres of land by Col. J. B. Lankershim.

INDIAN CLASSIC TO SHOW.

Following close on the heels of his adaptations of Stevenson's "Treasure Island," Maeterlinck's "The Blue Bird," "Prunella" and other famous classics Maurice Tourneur's screen version of James Fenimore Cooper's "The Last of the Mohican's" will be shown beginning Sunday at the New Symphony Theater. Tourneur, who is preparing to film "Lorna Doone" and other classics which have heretofore been looked upon as impossible screen material, has achieved in "The Last of the Mohicans." It is believed, his greatest photodrama. His cast comprises Barbara Bedford, Wallace Beery, Henry Woodward, George Hackathorne and others. The production will show under the auspices of the Associated Producers, Inc.

REHEARSING DRAMA.

Daily and nightly rehearsals are being held all this week at the Egan Little Theater by The Vagabond Players for "Mrs. Dane's Defense," to be produced under the direction of Lawrence Grant.

It will have the formal opening Monday evening with a cast including Florence Stone, Zeffie Tilbury, Alec B. Francis, Vesey O'Davoren, Helena Byrne, Robert Rolder, Sidney Bracey, Isabel Wilford and Howard Chaldecott.

The Boren-Stewart Company is one of the largest wholesale grocery companies in the Southwest. Mrs. Mahoney's brother, B. N. Boren, founded the concern and with Mrs. Mahoney owns majority of the stock. The 684½ shares in controversy are said to be worth more than $100,000.

SEPARATED AFTER YEAR.

The Mahoneys were married in Dallas seventeen years ago and after about a year of married life in Chicago they separated, and have not lived together for fifteen years.

Mahoney remained in Chicago and Mrs. Mahoney returned to her family in Dallas. It is said that Mrs. Mahoney has made various attempts to get a divorce, but has been unsuccessful because Mahoney has been a "model husband" and has never given his wife adequate cause to bring legal action.

The "cruelty" to be alleged grows out of neglect and refusal to permit plaintiff to enjoy society of defendant.

WASHINGTON NEWS IN BRIEF.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, April 7.—President Harding will urge Congress to consolidate all agencies for soldier care and relief in a veterans' service administration in accord with the recommendations of the Dawes committee submitted to him today.

Atty.-Gen. Daugherty denouncing as "intolerable" price-fixing conditions and other illegal practices in the building material trade throughout the country declared today that the Department of Justice is going to clean up the trade and stamp out the objectionable practices.

Reports have reached the Senate of Cabinet friction over the Harding peace program. Secretary of State Hughes and Secretary of Commerce Hoover are said to be out of sympathy with the Knox resolution and are urging the President to go slow with it.

Republican Leader Mondell of the House urged a lifting, rather than a shifting, of tax burdens.

Representative Frear of Wisconsin sent a letter to all members of the House opposing a sales tax.

Representation is given to agriculture and labor in an enlarged Republican steering committee of the House named by the committee on committees.

Secretary of War Weeks in a letter to Senator Capper admitted that the Baden government in Germany had refused a formal request made by Gen. Allen for the return to custody of United States forces Grover C. Bergdoll, fugitive American draft dodger.

DIVORCE TESTIMONY FAVORS MRS. STOKES.

SAN FRANCISCO ENGINEER CROSSES COUNTRY TO APPEAR AT TRIAL.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, April 7.—Mrs. Helen Elwood Stokes had an inning in court today in defending herself from charges involving love affairs in the divorce suit of her wealthy elderly husband, W. E. D. Stokes. One of the men named co-respondent by Mr. Stokes, Edgar T. Wallace, wealthy oil man and engineer of San Francisco, was the principal witness for Mrs. Stokes. He made the transcontinental trip to testify.

Questioned by his attorney, Henry A. Wise, he admitted having lived from 1913 to 1917 at No. 13 East Thirty-fifth street, where various witnesses have testified Mrs. Stokes often went to see him. He denied that he had ever seen her there or anywhere else since her marriage to Stokes; in fact, that he had never seen her at all since the spring of 1909, which is long before the time of his alleged association with her.

Preceding Mr. Wallace on the witness stand, the Stokes side called Henry J. Jentzen, a detective. Jentzen told of having been retained by Mr. Stokes, and of having found, in a desk in a room occupied by Mrs. Stokes, two keys. The detective found that one of the keys fitted the outer door of the Wallace Apartments on East Thirty-fifth street. This was corroborated by Leslie S. Petrie, secretary to Mrs. Stokes, and Mrs. Hetty Johnson, a colored servant in the Stokes home.

MAKE THEM CLOTHE LIMBS IN CINCINNATI.

Police Keep Argus Eye on "Sun-Kissed California" Chorus.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CINCINNATI, April 7.—"Ain't we got fun," exclaimed Arthur West, comedian, to City Police Inspector Kane and a squad of police as twenty-four "Sun-kissed California Beauties" filed upon the stage of the Grand Operahouse here. The young women passed in review of the police inspector and his men with heads erect and nether limbs clothed.

"Company—halt," cried West, who is the only show person born outside of California, and "the company is formed, captain," he said turning to the grizzled police official, who was scrutinizing the attire of the young females.

And thus it transpired that the "sun-kissed" California maids who learned to dance had their first clash with the law since leaving their western homes. By order of Mayor Galvin the young women were made to don tights in the classic dance number in which they have heretofore been appearing bare-legged.

Police Inspector Kane, although informed that there was but one number in which the young women appeared with the limbs nude, remained with his men throughout the entire performance and repeated his scrutiny every time the chorus appeared on the stage.

"We are not aiming to parade nudeness upon the stage," one of the owners declared. "It is simply that this classic California dance is done in bare feet. Of course, we will comply with the law."

MAKES MOB DEPUTIES AND SAVES PRISONER.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

TAMPA (Fla.) April 7. — The quick wit of Sheriff John Logan of Polk county in swearing in as deputies every member of a mob that had surrounded his automobile in which he had as a prisoner Wilmer Collins, a negro, prevented a lynching near Lakeland yesterday. Collins, who was arrested on a charge of having attacked six white women, was being taken to the Barlow County Jail by the Sheriff and three deputies.

Facing a crowd of 100 men Sheriff Logan declared: "I know every man among you. I swear each one of you in as a deputy sheriff. It is your duty now to escort with us this prisoner to the jail at Barlow." While the crowd stood in surprise, the officer placed his charge in a faster car and sped away to Tampa.

THIS RED HAD ABOUT ENOUGH.

Five Months in Russia All Zucker Could Stand.

Once Had an Idea Soviets Would Save World.

Jailed for Sedition Here; Calls Lenine Rule Tyranny.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

REVAL (Esthonia) April 7.—"The decaying civilization of soviet Russia" was depicted as the worst tyranny in the world by Dr. Morris Zucker, known here as a leader and organizer of the Communist party in the United States and whose home is in Brooklyn, N. Y., on his arrival here today from Moscow after nearly five months in Russia.

"Conditions steadily are becoming worse," he declared. 'What little foreign trade Russia is able to get is of no help to the people who everywhere are the victims of tyranny and go about in a hopeless attitude because of the great constant Red terror."

PARDONED BY WILSON.

Dr. Zucker last June was pardoned by President Wilson after having been sentenced to fifteen years' imprisonment on being found guilty of sedition. He left the United States in September and arrived in Russia in November. Three days after his arrival in Moscow he was imprisoned and spent most of the time he was in Russia in confinement.

Inside the prison walls, Dr. Zucker said he met victims of Bolshevik tyranny, most of whom were there because they had opposed being ruled by the small Bolshevik minority. These included former grand dukes and workmen, whose common ground, according to Dr. Zucker, was their opposition to absolute tyranny.

WILL TELL THE FACTS.

Dr. Zucker, who arrived here with a group of Germans on the way home from Russia, where they were prisoners, said he hoped to return to the United States to relate the facts regarding Russia "to disillusion those who think there is anything like freedom under the soviets."

In prison in Moscow, he said, there still are a number of Americans, some of whom he saw. These included Royal C. Keely, an electrical mechanical expert of New York, who had been in prison eight months; William Flick of Brooklyn, and Dr. Estes, who went to Russia last September to take moving pictures; Mrs. Marguerite E. Harrison, an American newspaper correspondent; Henry J. LaMarc of New York, who long had been a resident of Russia, and remained there to care for his property; Demetrius Kalimatian, an American of Greek parentage, who had been two and one-half years in prison, and Capt. Emmett Kilpatrick of the American Red Cross, who is in concentration camp.

PRISONERS POORLY FED.

These prisoners, like Zucker himself, were very poorly fed, he asserted, most of them being threatened constantly with the "third degree" to exact confessions of guilt for things they never had done. He said Mrs. Harrison, under threat of death and through much ill treatment, had in some way been inveigled into signing a false confession.

Mr. Keely, Dr. Zucker declared, had been invited to Russia, and was feted and traveled on special cars while there. He was given a banquet by Nikolai Lenine, the Bolshevik Premier the night he left Moscow for the Esthonian frontier on his return home, said Dr. Zucker, only to be arrested at the border and returned to a Moscow prison when the Bolsheviki learned his report on Russia would be unfavorable.

PEACE MOST DANGEROUS.

"That's the way they do with everybody," he continued. "Their opponents are imprisoned immediately. The Bolsheviki are finding peace more dangerous than war."

Conditions generally in Moscow were quiet, although under the surface throughout the country nearly everyone hates the Bolsheviki, he declared.

"The present regime will undoubtedly continue a long time, but it must make epochal changes to hold on," he said. "Its power of terror is too great for it to be overthrown now."

Dr. Zucker went to Russia to investigate whether there was a real dictatorship of the proletariat or a dictatorship of a handful. He said he found the latter to be the case. On his arrival in Moscow he was told by Santeri Nuorteva, now controller of foreigners in Russia, that it would be inadvisable to permit him to investigate conditions. Therefore, Nuorteva declared, Dr. Zucker would be sent out of Russia in a few days. Meanwhile, he was informed he was to be detained in prison. His detention continued until March 27, and he left Moscow last Thursday.

CAREER OF ZUCKER.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, April 7.—Dr. Morris Zucker, who arrived at Reval today after several months' imprisonment in soviet Russia, was convicted in Federal court here in 1919 on four counts charging seditious utterances.

The counts were based on an address he delivered here Thanksgiving Day, 1918. He was sentenced to sixty years in prison, fifteen years for each count. On his request, however, he was deported.

COMMODITY PRICES DECLINED IN MARCH.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK CITY, April 7.—Commodity prices in March declined at a rate of 4.1 per cent, Bradstreet's announced today. Fully one-half of all the commodities were lower than in February.

The total decline from the peak point of Feb. 1, 1920, 45.4 per cent, shows that 75 per cent of the rise from the prewar level on Aug. 1, 1914, has been canceled.

POLITICAL CAMPAIGN STIRRING ALL ITALY.

ELECTIONS IN MAY PROMISE TO BE MOST EXCITING SINCE CONSTITUTION GRANTED.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

ROME, April 7.—Italy's general elections, which will be held May 15, will mark the termination of what is predicted will be the greatest political campaign in this country since 1848, when the constitution was granted.

A main feature will be an attempt to reduce the number of Socialist Deputies to something like a real proportion of the strength of that party. At the last general election, which was held in November, 1919, 156 Socialists were returned, more than the one-third strength of the party justified.

A new characteristic of the campaign will be participation of the Extreme Nationalists and the former Legionaires at Fiume, who were led by Gabriel D'Annunzio.

MURDER FARM TRIAL IS OVER.

Defendant is Only Witness; Protests Innocence.

Case Expected to be Given to Jury Today.

Negro Boss is Accused by His Employer.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

COVINGTON (Ga.) April 7.—Presentation of evidence was completed an argument begun late today in the trial of John S. Williams, Jasper county plantation owner charged with the murder of Lindsey Peterson, one of the eleven negro farm hands said to have met death while held in peonage on his place. The case is expected to reach the jury tomorrow.

Williams, testifying today, asserted his absolute innocence of the charge. He was the only defense witness and was not sworn. His testimony was therefore concluded with the direct examination because of a Georgia law which does not permit cross examination of an unsworn defendant. Manning, negro farm boss, for fourteen years on the Williams place and self-confessed accomplice, was pointed to by Williams as the man having a probable motive for the killings. Charles C. King, pleading for Williams's acquittal, told the jury, Manning, ignorant of the penalty for peonage, had become alarmed at the Federal investigation and that the evidence indicated he was the only person who had a motive.

THROWN INTO RIVERS.

Manning had testified for the State that by Williams's orders the negroes were weighted down with rocks and thrown alive into rivers or knocked in the head and buried where they fell. Williams today briefly recited all he said he knew of the deaths of Lindsey Peterson, Willie Preston, and Harry Price, three drowned the same night in Newton county. He is on trial for the murder of Peterson.

These were the first criminal charges ever filed against him, he declared, in his fifty-four years of life, and told proudly that his four grown sons were among the first to answer the country's call to war. He admitted he might have been technically guilty of peonage as he had worked negroes who owed him money. He had so told Federal investigators, he said, and had also declared he always paid and fed the negroes.

PROTESTS INNOCENCE.

"I am absolutely innocent," he said, as he reverted to the murder charge.

The State had rested earlier in the day with introduction of Rena Manning, wife of Clyde Manning, and Sheriff B. L. Johnson, of Newton county, in an effort to corroborate parts of Manning's story. The woman testified the negroes left with Williams, Manning and Charlie Chisholm the night they were last seen alive, as Manning had declared. Sheriff Johnson said Manning identified the three bodies found in Newton county and later confessed and told where the others could be found.

Graham Wright, assistant attorney general, pointed to various testimony as corroboration and said the law left it to the jury to make final decisions on that question. He termed Manning incapable of planning and carrying out the crime.

Manning also will be put on trial for the murders, it was announced today.

DO YOU CATCH COLD EASILY?

HOW TO AVOID IT

Colds are due to germs. No one can prevent the germs from getting into your nose and throat. But you can help keep plenty of strong, vigorous "antibodies" in your blood to fight and kill off the nasty "cold germs" before they do you any harm.

To develop these germ destroying "antibodies" properly, you must have plenty of pure, rich, red blood and a strong, vigorous constitution—in fact, this is the best preventative against almost any disease.

If you are weak, nervous or run down, or subject to colds, take no chances. One day you may develop serious throat, bronchial or lung trouble or perhaps pneumonia and you may go off like a shot. Therefore commence to enrich your blood and fortify yourself against "disease germs" today. To build more and better blood and make stronger nerves, there is nothing superior to NUXATED IRON as it contains organic iron like the iron in your blood combined with a product representing the principal chemical constituent of active living nerve force for feeding the nerves. Nuxated Iron may therefore be said to be both a blood and a nerve food. It often increases the bodily and mental vigor, strength and endurance in two weeks' time.

Over 4,000,000 people are using it annually. It has been highly endorsed by former United States Senators, U. S. Army Generals, many physicians and prominent men. Even the Pope at Rome mentioned it favorably in a communication to the Proprietor of the Pharmacy Normale of Paris.

Satisfaction guaranteed or the manufacturers will refund your money. Beware of substitutes. Look for the word "NUXATED" on every package and the letters N. I. on every tablet. Sold by all druggists.

LAND SALE "DUMMIES" ARE SCORED BY COURT.

SUTTER COUNTY CASE IS REVIEWED IN YUBA CITY; TO FILE BRIEFS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

YUBA CITY, April 7.—Testimony that E. B. McCormick of San Francisco was used as a dummy in the purchase by Fred W. Hollman, a San Francisco real estate man, of land in the Gledhill colony of Sutter county, which subsequently was sold by McCormick, still acting as a dummy, to the U. N. Farms Company, a Japanese concern, was given at the trial here yesterday of the farms company against Leroy Condon, Arthur G. Gledhill and others for possession of the tract. The testimony was given by McCormick and by H. F. Anderson, an agent for Hollman.

During the trial Superior Judge Mahon said: "Using a dummy does not indicate to the court that people are doing business in the open." Anderson, McCormick and Carl K. Nakano, an employee of the farms company, testified that Gledhill and Condon had been given notice to vacate the land, but testimony for the defendants asserted that Anderson and McCormick merely had given notice of the sale to the farms company.

The case was concluded with an agreement to submit the matter on briefs. The tract involved is the subject of an action to escheat the land to the State under the provisions of the antil-alien land law.

REDDING TOWN CLOCK IS ALL JAZZED UP.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

REDDING, April 7. — Painters putting new Roman numerals on the Redding town clock recently mixed the letters and put the "IX" where the "XI" should be and vice versa. When the mistake was discovered, a Redding newspaper told its readers that if they were getting mixed in their time, the trouble was with the clock.

"If you see the hands pointing to 'XI' and 'XII' you will know it is 9 o'clock, and if you see them pointing to 'IX' and 'XII' please be informed that it is 11 o'clock," the paper said.

SKELETON CLEW INVESTIGATED.

Maryland Discovery Recalls Missing Marine.

Lieut. Franklin Was Put Down as a Deserter.

Washington Police Working to Solve Mystery.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, April 7.—The skeleton of a man was discovered in a gully near the Georgetown preparatory school in Maryland, just off the Washington-Rockville pike late yesterday afternoon and efforts are being made to identify it as that of Lieut. Edward W. Franklin, a Marine Corps officer who disappeared September 7, last. Army shoes, shreds of a khaki suit, and buttons bearing the letter "F" are the only clews. Near the body lay a bottle of chloroform and a woman's handkerchief.

Police officers of Washington who investigated the case yesterday doubt if the remains are those of the missing lieutenant of marines who, they think, disappeared with a woman, and is now living with her in some quiet, out of the way place. Franklin quit the marine service on leave in September and his name was dropped from the rolls as a deserter December 13.

NEGRO FINDS BODY.

J. Sheldon Andrews, a negro, who is employed by the Georgetown preparatory school, a feeder for the Georgetown University, found the body of the unidentified man. He was passing through a thicket when he saw a pair of shoes, with toes upturned, sticking out of a gully. Securing help he made a preliminary inquiry and found that the head had been broken from the body and lay near the feet. The body appeared to be that of a man of 40 years, but it was so badly decomposed that it was difficult to be accurate about the age.

The police and the doctors who examined the remains and the scene believe that the man died last summer.

Washington police officers believe that it could have been a case of suicide, and the head broken from the body by some person or lower animal. The teeth were filled with gold and two of them were gold capped and that fact may lead to identification.

MARSHALL (Tex.) April 7.—It is hard sitting these days in the chairs in the offices of the Texas and Pacific Railroad. As a measure of economy an order was recently issued by that road ordering that cushions be removed from all chairs and that the cushions be sent to the central storehouse at Marshall for keeping. Although there was much quiet grumbling on the part of the officials, hard, bare-bottom chairs are now used.

State Would Sell City Hall.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

MILWAUKEE, April 7. — State officials yesterday attempted to obtain a writ of execution against the city of Milwaukee enabling the former to seize the City Hall and sell it to collect a judgment of $15,711.25 obtained against the city by the State. The judgment was awarded on a suit brought by the State to collect interest on money collected by Milwaukee municipal courts for fines in State cases. The confiscation move was defeated by the filing of an appeal by the city.

HUNDREDS DEMANDNG RETURN OF BERGDOLL.

LEGION'S COMMANDER IN WASHINGTON BELIEVES SUCCESS WILL COME.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

INDIANAPOLIS, April 7.—Hundreds of telegrams and letters voicing a sentiment for the return to this country of Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, convicted Phidalephia draft evader, now in Germany, are being received at national headquarters of the American Legion, officials announced here today. The general public is leading the demand for Bergdoll's return, the Legion officers say.

Legion posts on the Pacific Coast have started a fund to further the movement, and Kansas Legionnaires have wired that they will support any plans for bringing Bergdoll back.

F. W. Galbraith, Jr., national commander, telegraphed today from Washington, where he is in conference with President Harding's committee for relief of disabled service men, the following message:

"I am bringing every argument to bear on government officials to hasten the demand for Bergdoll. The Legion cannot rest until this man is once more behind prison bars. I think that the time is not far away."

RAT-KILLING CONTEST IS STAGED IN TEXAS.

WINNING DOG DISPOSES OF RODENTS AT RATE OF TWENTY A MINUTE.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

PLAINVIEW (Tex.) April 7.—One of the most exciting events ever witnessed in West Texas took place here a few days ago. It was a rat-killing contest between the best-trained dogs that could be gathered within a radius of 300 miles. The exhibition was witnessed by several hundred. It proved so successful that similar events are to be held here and in other parts of West Texas at frequent intervals.

Rats were killed at the rate of twenty per minute by the prize-winning dog, a bull terrier owned by Estelle Sargent of Plainview. Other dogs did almost as well and the judges had difficulty in counting the rats as fast as the dogs killed them. Five hundred were killed under the auspices of the rat extermination committee, under whose direction the contest was staged.

The rats were released from barrels five at a time and a dog was turned loose. Only the dog, his owner and the judges were allowed in the arena, which had been constructed on the public square. The arena was 15 by 40 feet and four feet high.

A decided impetus to rat extermination was given by the contest and dozens of boys have ordered terriers to help in the work. Another contest will be held here about the first of May.

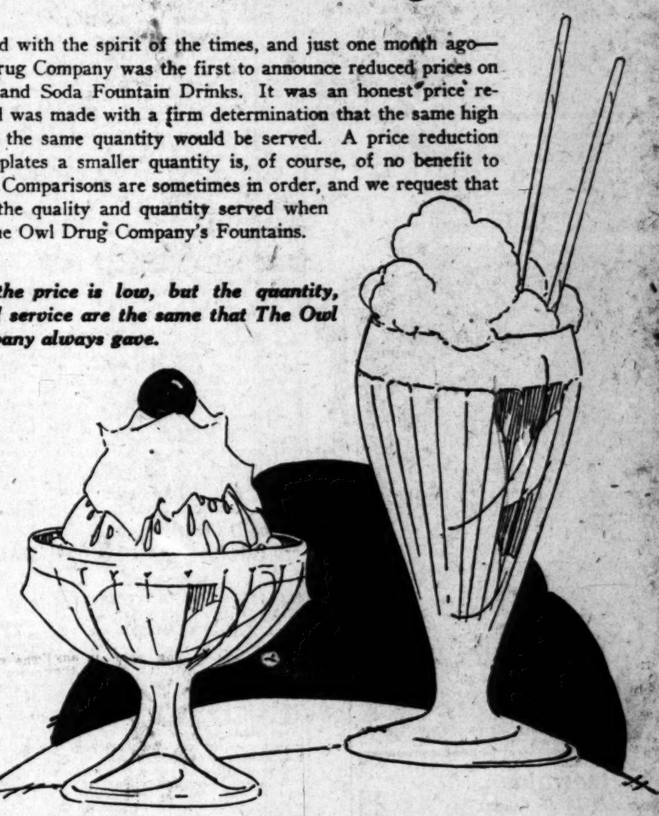
ICE CREAM
QUALITY AND QUANTITY

In accord with the spirit of the times, and just one month ago—The Owl Drug Company was the first to announce reduced prices on Ice Cream and Soda Fountain Drinks. It was an honest price reduction, and was made with a firm determination that the same high quality and the same quantity would be served. A price reduction that contemplates a smaller quantity is, of course, of no benefit to the public. Comparisons are sometimes in order, and we request that you notice the quality and quantity served when you visit The Owl Drug Company's Fountains.

Today the price is low, but the quantity, quality and service are the same that The Owl Drug Company always gave.



ICE CREAM
That Is Different

This is an unusual statement to make, but when we tell you our Ice Cream contains on an average from two to four per cent more butter fat than most ice creams served in Los Angeles, you will agree with us, once you have tried it, that we can truthfully make the above statement. Ice Cream, properly balanced, is a health food, and we are as particular about the purity of the ingredients which enter into its manufacture as the most exacting would be.

We particularly call your attention to four flavors of our Ice Cream that is regularly stocked at all our Owl Fountains.

VANILLA—
With the true flavor of the bean.

STRAWBERRY—
Made from the real fruit.

ORANGE—
Real Orange Flavor, unequaled in quality.

Newest Discovery

Experiments at Dr. Pierce's Hospital in Buffalo, N. Y., for several years proved that there is no other generator of uric acid that can be compared to An-uric (anti-uric acid) Tablets. For those easily recognized symptoms of inflammation—backache, scalding urine and frequent urination, as well as sediment in the urine, or if uric acid in the blood has caused rheumatism, it is simply wonderful how surely "Anuric" acts. The best of results are always obtained in cases of acute rheumatism, gout in joints, in gravel and gout, and probably the pains and stiffness which so frequently and persistently accompany the disease rapidly disappear.

Go to your nearest drug store and simply ask for a package of Anuric Tablets. "Anuric" is manufactured by Dr. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y. You can even write Dr. Pierce for a large trial package (10 cents).

PLAN OF LABOR IS SUBMITTED:

rules could be made national and what matters would have to be settled locally.

DEMANDS OUTLINED.

The statement outlined the twelve points as follows:

"The right to organize and negotiate collectively through representatives of their own choosing.

"The protection of employees against discrimination because of membership in trade unions or because of legitimate trade union activities.

"The right of the majority in each craft on each railroad to determine what organization shall represent them, this organization to have the right to negotiate an agreement, which shall apply to all the workers in the craft.

"The right of the majority of each craft on each railroad to select a committee or representatives, who shall handle all grievances, which may arise affecting all employees of the craft in accordance with the provisions of the agreement.

WANT EIGHT-HOUR DAY.

"Eight hours as the recognized measure of the standard work day.

"As a protective measure, to safeguard the standard work day, payment for time worked in excess of the regular eight hours at proper overtime.

"The beginning and ending of working shifts to be so arranged as to permit of living arrangements by employees and their families.

"Clear and concise definition in the case of each craft of the work to be performed by mechanics and helpers.

"Establishment of apprenticeship reforms so as to develop a sufficient number of mechanics.

"Applicants for employment as mechanics to show that they have served an apprenticeship of four years or performed mechanic's work for a similar period and not to be denied employment when their services are needed, for any reason other than their inability to perform the work for which they are making application.

"Craft point seniority to be recognized.

"Establishment of reasonable safeguards for the protection of health and safety of employees."

McMANAMY TESTIFIES.

There was no increase in the number of men employed following the adoption of the national agreements, but there was an increase following installation of the eight-hour day, when the railroads were under government control, according to Frank McManamy, former assistant director of operations of the mechanical department of the Federal Railroad Administration, in testifying before the Railroad Labor Board here today.

The Railroad Labor Board today announced that a consolidated hearing of all wage reduction petitions would be held on April 18.

Twenty-six roads, which have filed applications for lower wage scales in the last thirty days, are named in the hearing docket today. Other roads, which present similar requests, will also be included in the same hearing.

The decision to act quickly on the wage reduction applications came at the same time that permission was denied the New York Central Railroad to make a provisional cut, effective April 1. The New York Central will be among the roads which are parties to the hearing on April 18, and which will decide whether a permanent reduction in the wages of unskilled labor may be made.

WORKERS REFUSE APPEAL.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 7.—The representatives of the unskilled workers in the maintenance of way department of the Southern Pacific Company declined to join with the company today in an appeal to the Railway Labor Board that it adjust existing wage differences, the company announced. They indicated, however, that they would take no action until the board had decided on such differences.

Several thousand workers are affected by the decision today. The company has scheduled other conferences with the unskilled workers' representatives in its motor transport and other divisions. The total number of unskilled workers in the company's system approximates 10,000.

The refusal of the workers to accept a decrease operates to suspend the company's ruling that such decrease shall go into effect on April 17, according to the provisions of the Transportation Act.

RUSS REFUGEES RUN TEAROOM.

Rome Filled with Exiles of the Better Class.

Princes and Princesses Cut Sandwiches.

Ex-General Superintends the Wine Cellar.

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

ROME, April 7.—Rome is filled with Russian refugees of the better class and whenever the soviet commercial mission attempts to go anywhere, it is met with a chorus of indignation.

Aristocrats, members of the bourgeois class, and Socialists form colonies of refugees, where old rivalries and dissensions are forgotten in the common misery and the bond of hatred of the Bolshevists; princes and Socialist writers, ex-plotters and former Siberian convicts are now the best of friends. These outcasts generally are living on the last remnants of former grandeur. Such money as they can realize from the sales of jewels and properties in Italy, where Russians owned many villas, is fraternally divided.

Some women of the old Russian aristocracy who have renounced their life of luxury with the greatest unwillingness have turned screen actresses, or occasionally act as agents of Bolshevist propaganda, but the majority have set to work.

Two restaurants, and in addition some tearooms, are being run by the women. The former governor of a Russian province is manager, princes and princesses cut sandwiches and a former general superintends the cellar.

Italian patrons find the wine unwatered, and the absence of tipping and the graciousness and intelligence of the service represent advantages to which they are not accustomed. Thus the popularity of these restaurants increases.

A judicial claim has been lodged by a Russian countess over one of the jewels imported by the soviet commercial mission which she recognized and swore was a stolen family heirloom.

KNOX MEASURE IS UNCERTAIN.

to mean undue friendliness to a still enemy country. Not all Americans have foregone their patriotism.

It doubtless is perfectly true that the President has given his last word on the subject of denial of any intention to recommend any kind of connection with the League of Nations. It also doubtless is true that he feels that in repudiating the League he has made good his Iowa speech during the campaign which was taken by the country to mean that the League would be done for if Mr. Harding were elected President; at least done for so far as the United States becoming a partner in the project was concerned.

There was nothing said in any speech of Mr. Harding during the campaign or in any speech since his election which could be construed as showing that he was not entirely in sympathy with everything which the Allies had asked in the way of securing reparations from Germany for the damage which she wrought.

REMEMBERS PARTNERS.

Nor has there been anything in any of his speeches to make it appear that he, even momentarily, has forgotten that the United States fought its fight for civilization with Great Britain, France and other countries as fighting partners.

The press report of the situation on the Knox resolution as it exists today, which seems on its face to bear the imprint of at least near authority, stated that the Senators from whom information was obtained asserted their intention to have the resolution introduced as soon as Congress assembled and that they would urge its prompt adoption.

These Senators, however, were kind enough to add that if President Harding "should request delay in the matter of a vote this doubtless could be arranged."

This means undoubtedly that the President wants time in which to consider some amendments.

EXPLODING EVIDENCE HAS COURT WORRIED.

BOTTLE OF LIQUOR IN DETECTIVE'S POCKET LETS GO AT HEARING.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

NEW YORK, April 7. — New York's night court, busy as a result of the police department's drive at enforcement of the State prohibition law, adjourned temporarily in disorder today when a quart bottle of confiscated liquor exploded in the pocket of a detective. The detective stood before the magistrate supporting a man who, with bowed head, was confessing that he had partaken too freely of the brew that intoxicates.

"Where's the evidence?" asked the court.

The detective's hand moved toward his pocket. Followed a loud report, someone shouted "bomb," and a rush for the exists began. The detective was hurled to the floor as was his prisoner. The magistrate and others in the court gathered outside, returning only when apprised of the cause of the explosion. The next defendant the docket, a father of ten, still trembling as a result of the explosion scare, took a pledge to abstain "forever and ever."

UTAH LOSS IN FRUIT IS REPORTED LARGE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SALT LAKE CITY, April 7.—Fifty per cent of the peach and cherry crops of Utah county, adjoining Salt Lake, has been destroyed by frost, according to a report made to the Weather Bureau tonight.

While this average loss will not be maintained throughout the State, fruit raisers from many sections are reporting heavy losses both in cherries and peaches. Apples and pears have not been hard hit.

SINGLE-TAXERS HAVE NEW PLAN

House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, that for the purposes of this act land is defined to be the surface of the ground, with all easements in, on and over the same, whether covered by water or not, and including water powers and rights, natural growths, if any, of land and including wild forests, natural deposits of coal, minerals of all kinds, oils, gases, peats, waters and other substances, and not including investments the result in whole or in part of the application of labor to land.

IMPOSES LEASE TAX.

"That all persons, firms, associations and corporations owning land in value in excess of $10,000, whether in possession or leased to others, shall be subject to an excise tax upon the privilege of the use and enjoyment of such excess at the rate of 1 per centum. Where land is leased and the value of the lease is in excess of $10,000 such value shall be deducted from consideration in determining the tax to be assessed against the owner, and shall be charged against the lessee. Where the title to land is held in common or by entirety, or in joint tenancies or subject to estates of dower or life estates or otherwise, so that the several ownerships make up the complete legal title and the entire ownership has a value in excess of $10,000, then the several owners shall pay an excise tax based upon their proportionate share in the ownership, and for the purpose of estimating the value of the proportionate share of those owning estates less than an unqualified fee simple, the Commissioner of Internal Revenue shall establish rules based upon average life expectancy or otherwise as the case may be.

"That it shall be the duty of every owner of any interests in land, including those holding an active trusteeship, held either in fee or in lease, the value of the fee or lease of which is in excess of $10,000, to report his interests therein before March 1 of each year to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue on blanks to be prepared by him. Such blanks shall contain, among other things, provisions for the following information:

MUST GIVE DATA.

"Tracts in which an interest is held and nature and extent of interest, price paid by taxpayers, or, if he received the same by gift or inheritance, the amount paid by his predecessor in interest for the entire tract with its improvements, if any; valuation placed upon entire land (or lease or interest herein) by taxpayer; offers received by taxpayer for any parcel of such land or interest therein within the two previous years; price at which taxpayer within such period has offered land or any part thereof for sale; value of improvements upon land and price at which improvements have been reckoned in any offer for sale; amount spent by taxpayer or so far as he knows, any other person in making improvements; net price at which owner would be willing to sell land with and without improvements; assessed value of land for all purposes with separate value of improvements if given separately on tax books. Such return shall not be conclusive of the value of the land, but the Commissioner of Internal Revenue shall determine therefrom and from such other data as he may obtain, the true value of the land holdings of any taxpayer. The return shall be as of date of preceding December 31. But in any proceeding of condemnation or otherwise in which the United States may be concerned said return may be used as evidence of facts therein stated as of the date of the return.

MUST REPORT SALE

"It shall be the duty of the taxpayer in the event of the sale of all or any part of the land of which he has reported himself the owner, or any assignment of lease thereof within the calendar year in which his report is made, to report to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue the price at which said sale or assignment may have taken place.

"That it shall be the duty of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue on or before the first day of June in each year to mail to the taxpayer a statement showing the amount of taxes due and payable by him, but a failure on his part to mail the same or on the part of the taxpayer to receive it shall not invalidate the assessment or relieve the taxpayer of his duty to pay, such payment in all cases to be made before the first day of July following.

"In the event that the payment is not made as herein directed, the taxpayer shall be subject to an additional payment of 5 per cent and an additional payment of one per cent for each month it shall be delayed, and no conveyance made by him shall be admitted to record of date on or after July 1 of any year, unless he shall have first procured from the Commissioner of Internal Revenue and exhibited to the recording officer a certificate, that all taxes under this act are paid, which certificate may be recorded once for all in the office of the recording officer.

"That in so far as practicable, Sections 3173 and 3176 of the revised statutes of the United States as amended, and Sections 17 and 18 as amended by the act of Oct. 3, 1917, and Sections 19, 20, 21, and 22 of the act approved Sept. 8, 1916, shall apply to the terms of this act.

"That the Commissioner of Internal Revenue is authorized to make all rules and regulations necessary to enforce the provisions of this act.

"That this act shall apply to the United States, the Philippine Islands and Porto Rico."

GERMAN THIEVES AND LOOTERS, KAISER'S FRIENDS, DESTROY MONACO'S FAMILY PORTRAITS.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

PARIS, April 7.—Prince Albert of Monaco, who will sail for America to receive the Alexander Agassiz gold medal, awarded in recognition of his scientific mine researches, said today he had "come to believe profoundly in the strength and destiny of the United States and in the necessity of co-operation between Europe and America."

"This will be my fourth visit," he said. "I recall with what vivid interest I first saw your country in 1868. My last visit was in 1913."

Prince Albert's first act will be to pay his respects to President Harding. He is taking with him his aide and his physician. His health is rather delicate, as he is recovering from the grip with complications.

Speaking of the condition in which the Germans had left his chateau at Marchais, he said:

"They plundered the place of everything of value and when they left they had prepared to reduce the castle to dust by blowing it up with miners.

"Gen. Mangin arrived a day before he was expected and the German staff got out hastily. I have had two of the mines preserved, one inclosed in glass, as a reminder of the German mentality. The chateau was occupied only by important persons in the army. The German Emperor was there once. My residence was looted of all its objects of art. I have been able to recover most of them. However, all my dearest personal things were destroyed.

"An eyewitness has related to me how the Germans took portraits of my father and mother and other personal things, including locks of the hair of my father and mother, and burned them in the court yard. I cannot forgive them for that."

TAKEN FROM HOMES IN BELFAST; IRISH BANK ROBBED AND POSTOFFICE LOOTED.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

BELFAST, April 7.—John Weymas, a former policeman, and John Gillingham, a former soldier, were taken from their homes in Loughgiinn and shot dead today.

DUBLIN, April 7.—Dublin Castle tonight reported that at midnight Wednesday masked armed men held up the manager and the assistant manager of the Hibernian Bank in Charlestown, took the keys of the safe and made off with £8000. Simultaneously other persons raided the postoffice and took away all the letters not registered.

WASHINGTON, April 7.—The case of Donal O'Callaghan, Lord Mayor of Cork, is now before the Labor Department, the State Department having concluded an examination of it, and of the plea made by O'Callaghan's counsel that he is a political refugee.

The State Department found that O'Callaghan was in the United States in violation of the American laws, and it is understood that the Labor Department will grant O'Callaghan only a brief period of grace in which to leave this country.

GOVERNMENT ACTS IN SERIOUS DEPRECIATION OF NATIONAL CURRENCY.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

GUATEMALA CITY, April 7. — Proposals for a concession providing for establishment of a bank having a capital of not less than 10,000,000 pesos gold, with the privilege of issuing three times that amount in currency, is made by the Guatemalan government. This plan is a result of the serious depreciation of the national currency.

Approval of the treaty creating the Central American Union was voted by the Guatemalan National Assembly yesterday.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, April 7.—Representative Britten of Illinois, member of the House Naval Affairs Committee, told Secretary of the Navy Denby that he would support the Senate committee naval appropriation bill in preference to the House measure, because it provides for a bigger and better Navy.

DAILY TRADE TALK.

Two Important Days in Banking Circles; National Leaders Visit Los Angeles.

BY CHAPIN HALL.

Los Angeles will be peculiarly honored today by the presence within her borders of the two executive heads of the leading organizations of bankers in the United States, John S. Drum, president of the American Bankers' Association, and Stewart D. Beckley, president of the American Institute of Banking.

Establishing a new record these men will be heard tonight from the same floor at the forum dinner of the A.I.B., given at the City Club at 6:30, when Mr. Drum, who is also president of the Mercantile Trust Company of San Francisco, will discuss the Foreign Trade Financing Corporation. Mr. Beckley, who is cashier of the City National Bank of Dallas, will bring the greetings of the national organization to the Los Angeles chapter, which has grown from a membership of 400 in 1915 to 1530 at the present time and is one of the leading chapters in the country.

Tomorrow night at the Ambassador the annual joint meeting of the Los Angeles County Bankers' Association and Group 5 of the California Bankers' Association, comprising Los Angeles, Ventura and Inyo counties, Mr. John S. Drum will speak on "Current Financial Conditions in the Southwest." Mr. J. B. McCargar, president of the California Bankers' Association, and Mr. James W. Foley, poet-humorist, of Pasadena, will also be heard.

INSPECT GOODYEAR.

Saturday afternoon the bankers will inspect the Goodyear Tire and Rubber plant, which will be in operation for their benefit, and the visit to the tire factory and the cotton mills will be under the direct supervision of the management.

This is expected to be the largest meeting of bankers ever held by Group 5, and much interest is being displayed in the message to be brought by Mr. Drum, who will also direct the attention of the bankers, it is expected, to the importance of the forthcoming national convention of the American Bankers' Association, which will bring to Los Angeles next October many of the most important financiers and investment bankers in the country. The toastmaster will be P. E. Hatch, president of the Long Beach Trust and Savings Bank, who is also president of the group.

The committee on arrangements consists of R. B. Hardacre, vice-president of the Security Trust and Savings Bank, who is president of the Los Angeles county association, and W. W. Gibbs, Jr., vice-president of the Guaranty Trust and Savings Bank. Ralph Day, assistant cashier of the Los Angeles Trust and Savings Bank, is secretary of the county association, and R. D. Judkins, vice-president of the First National Bank of Long Beach, is secretary of Group 5.

THE A.I.B.

Returning to A.I.B., which has the floor today, W. E. Zimmerman of the board of governors, said yesterday that the Los Angeles chapter is now conducting two classes in elementary banking and one each in bonds and investments, accounting, Spanish, business English, political economy, money and banking, beginning and advanced public speaking. Classes are also maintained in Pasadena and Long Beach.

The work has the hearty cooperation of the Los Angeles Clearinghouse, and the classrooms or college occupies the second floor of the building at 721 South Hill street.

BIG CHIEF HERE.

President Beckley told interviewers that he came to Los Angeles because he wanted to see the only white spot on the business map of the United States. He has been in the banking game for sixteen years and has had much to do in the development of the institute to the high plane it now occupies.

The Los Angeles chapter will be represented at the Minneapolis convention in July with a delegation of about twenty-five, who will be pledged to two definite propositions, viz., the election of P. R. Williams of the Commercial National Bank to the executive council, and the selection of Portland for the 1922 convention. George R. Kingdon of the First National, is president of the Los Angeles chapter; Ernest Garrett of the Farmers' and Merchants' National, is vice-president, and John Caphouse of the Los Angeles Clearinghouse Association, is secretary-treasurer. Leo S. Chandler, vice-president of the California Bank, will preside at the meeting this evening.

SPICER REPORTS.

The Spicer Manufacturing Corporation, whose preferred stock was offered in Southern California last year through the local offices of Merrill, Lynch & Co., has issued its report of earnings for the year ended Dec. 31, 1920. This report shows sales amounting to $17,862,929.94. After making deductions for depreciation on plants and equipment, and the deduction of interest for all outstanding indebtedness, the net profits amounted to $1,448,752.79. After further reduction of inventory to cost or market, and provision for Federal taxes, the company showed a net profit of Steward D. Beckley.

MUNICIPAL BORROWING.

Municipal borrowing continues at high mark, and during the last two years many persons of large incomes have sought refuge from heavy super taxes. Some of them estimate that a 4½ per cent tax free bond is as good as a 7 per cent investment for men of incomes beyond $50,000 when incomes become subject to taxes on an ascending scale beginning at 12 per cent and reaching as high as 63 per cent for incomes exceeding $2,000,000.

UNION'S NEW WELL.

Union Oil Company of California is reported to have reached 2900 feet with its Bell well No. 1, at Santa Fe Springs, and is now cleaning out the hole preparatory to bringing in the well. Strong gas showings were in evidence at 2500 feet and the further development of this field is being watched with interest.

ROAD BONDS DELIVERED.

The Board of Supervisors has delivered to Elliott & Horne Co., $75,000 of serial 6 per cent road improvement district bonds covering district No. 166, which comprises highly improved farm and orchard land frontingon the Valley Boulevard between El Monte and Puente.

BIG FRENCH LOAN?

Talk of another big French loan is being revived. Los Angeles investment bankers hear that plans are under way for a possible new flotation to take care of the $50,000,000 City of Paris 6 per cent note maturity of October 15 next. French gold shipments which have aggregated approximately $30,000,000 since the first of the year are supposed to have something to do with the financing plans of the French government.

BOND TENDENCY.

Banks, Huntley & Co., Stock Exchange Building, advance the theory that as commodity prices slowly revert to normal, the price of good bonds will rise close to their previous level. With a large portion of the world's money still in this country, it is not likely, as this firm sees it, that we will experience any serious depression, nor a slackening of business that will endure for any length of time. Commodity prices will gradually approach normal, but this decline will cover an extended period and the fall in prices will not be sudden. Accordingly, a gradual upward trend in the price of bonds is to be expected. Undoubtedly the yield peak has been passed.

NEW TAX FORM.

Brokers who have been seriously annoyed by the complicated form required to be filed with the internal revenue department, welcome a new form, which, it is said, will soon be available to replace the present monthly report.

Regulations 30, revised, relating to the stamp tax on issues, sales and transfers of stock and sales of products for future delivery, says:

"All persons who are wholly or partly engaged in the business of buying, selling or transferring shares of stock, whether at public or private sale, or whether or not they are members of an exchange, including persons engaged in transactions known as 'matched' or 'on order' or 'pass outs' or 'give ups' or settled directly between the seller and buyer, or cleared or adjusted directly through a clearinghouse, or otherwise, or engaged in accepting and procuring the transmission of orders for purchase or sale of shares of stock shall keep a record."

OUR SAVINGS.

The people of the United States bought Federal securities during the war period to the amount of approximately $21,000,000,000. Banks, trust companies, etc., hold about $3,000,000,000. The other $18,000,000,000 is in the hands of the people and represents our war savings. Nearly $170 per capita. More than the combined national wealth of Holland and Belgium, and nearly one-half the national wealth of Japan. Who dares say, in the face of these figures, that the American is not thrifty?

MOVIE FINANCING.

Corporation Commissioner Bellows has given the Vivian Rich Production Company of Los Angeles permission to sell and issue shares of its capital stock.

BERNE BONDS READY SOON.

The investment house of Bond & Goodwin & Tucker, Inc., have been advised by the syndicate manager that the definitive bonds of the City of Berne, Switzerland, 3 per cent bonds will be ready for delivery about April 15, and that the house will be glad to make the exchange for temporary holders.

STRONG GAINS ARE MADE BY BARLEY.

A strong upward trend for all shipments of barley marked the session on the local grain exchange yesterday, despite the fact that the market continued very dull, with support lacking. Transit barley advanced $1 per ton during the call, the track and fifteen-day shipments were 25 cents higher, and other near-by deliveries showed a gain of 50 cents per ton. The future months reflected a strong undegone throughout the session, both the April and May deliveries moving up 75 cents over the ruling quotations of the preceding day. There were no sales transacted during the call.

The New England Oil Refining Co.

is located at Fall River, Mass., within a small radius of which approximately 45% of all the fuel oil used in New England and within a radius of about 30 miles, 30% of the bituminous coal, oil and gasoline used for industrial purposes is consumed.

The properties of the company are appraised at $10,593,377. The low labor factor in operating costs, almost total absence of any "inventory" subject to depreciation, and excellent market for its products place the company in a strong position.

Three Million Dollars

We have recently loaned Three Million Dollars to the Portland Flouring Mills Company and taken for security a First Mortgage on all their assets. The loan is in the form of their First Mortgage 8% Fifteen-Year Sinking Fund Gold Bonds, in denominations of $500 and $1000 each, interest payable February 1st and August 1st of each year, without deduction for any normal Federal income taxes up to 2%. In our opinion we never made a more satisfactory loan.

First, the Security. A closed First Mortgage on all their assets—nearly $9,000,000 of prime security—lands, buildings, equipment, wheat, flour, etc.

Second, their ability to pay principal and interest without loss or delay. Net earnings over three times the maximum interest charges; over eight times the Sinking Fund requirement; nearly two and one-half times maximum interest and sinking fund combined.

Third, the Moral Factor. Successful record for a lifetime—since 1884. Good times and bad the company has gone ahead.

It has paid its debts, it has increased its volume of business, it has increased its capital, it has increased its earnings, it has increased its surplus—its record and condition something to be proud of.

Fourth, Interest Return. We are offering these bonds at par and accrued interest—a yield to the investor of full 8% on his money, payable semi-annually. Since the bond issue was arranged for, the trend of interest rates is downward on all good securities. We are fortunate and our clients are fortunate in this attractive issue at the present time. Naturally, these bonds are selling rapidly.

Fifth, Marketability. The Sinking Fund on these bonds will retire $100,000 annually, thus insuring a steadily increasing marketability, quite in addition to the excellent interest yield, the known character of security and the wide distribution of issue.

We suggest that investors with funds at the moment investigate promptly the desirable Bond. Circular with full details of this issue on request at any of our offices.

Investments to Net 8%

NOT since the period following the Civil War has it been possible to obtain safe, conservative investments to net 8%. Readjustment conditions following upon the World War are largely responsible for the present unusual high interest returns on high grade bonds. NOW is the time to lay the foundation for future income.

Each of the following security offerings, netting the investor 8%, was issued by permission of the Railroad Commission of California and is our recommendation:

Both of these attractive issues are exempt from California property taxes. In each case the Company agrees to pay interest without deduction for Normal Federal Income Tax up to 4%, which it may lawfully pay at source.

GREAT WESTERN POWER COMPANY—General Lien Convertible 8%, 15-Year Gold Bonds. Due 1936. Direct obligation of a Company that can ultimately develop on the Feather River the enormous total of 640,000 h.p.—about what is now generated at Niagara Falls, at present the largest single source of hydro-electric power in the United States.

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, April 7.—The stock market today relinquished a considerable part of the general advance registered earlier in the week, developments favoring the short interest.

London cables stressed an accession of pessimism in financial circles growing out of the more ominous aspects of the British industrial situation and occasioned moderate liquidation here for foreign account, including Holland.

Domestic industrial conditions also became more complicated by the decision of the Railroad Labor Board denying application of the New York Central for immediate provisional reduction of the unskilled labor wage schedule.

Publication of the government crop report, forecasting the fourth largest winter wheat yield in history, failed to stimulate transportation shares, some of which, including Grangers, were decidedly heavy.

Market prices were at lowest averages in the last half hour, when free selling resulted from an unexpected advance in call money from 5½ to 6½ per cent, due, according to reports, to calling of loans by interior banks.

Stocks most affected comprised a number of industrials and specialties whose earnings and dividend prospects are generally classed as doubtful. Chief among these were the leathers and chemicals, together with numerous allied issues. Sales 450,000 shares.

Exchange rates on London and Paris eased only slightly, Dutch, Italian and Scandinavian bills hardening. Remittances to South American points reflected the chaotic trade conditions there.

Liberty Bonds were firm, as also were some of the French municipals, but most other domestic and foreign issues lacked definite trend. Total sales, par value, $11,675,000.

Wise Up on

Richfield-Eastern

OIL COMPANY

Reference to a Richfield map will show you that the Standard, Amalgamated, Fullerton and Selby Root & Hogue companies have had production just a few hundred feet from Richfield Eastern's 90-acre lease for some time. Recent news items from the field indicate a widening of the producing territory immediately adjacent to Richfield Eastern property, and a substantial increase in that section's daily output.

Within a few days, I hope to be able to announce that all arrangements for putting machinery on the ground have been completed. I am bending my energies toward STARTING SOMETHING in Eastern Richfield, and I have every confidence that the results of our operations will be just as successful as other recent Richfield successes in which I had a hand.

My up-to-date map of the field will give you an excellent idea of what is going on. Make it a point to come to my office and see it. If you can't do that, call me on the phone or write. The facts are yours simply for the asking. Make it today, so that you won't miss anything that may happen.

FORECAST STARTS BUYING OF GRAIN.

ADVANCE OF ONE CENT WHICH IS LOST LATER AND THEN REGAINED.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, April 7.—Grain prices have reached a point in their downward course where there is a disposition on the part of trade leaders to be more in wheat than in the coarse grains as there is uncertainty regarding the growing crop and uncertainty tends to keep the traders uneasy and more active in studying the conditions. Outside business is light and between the crop prospects and the export business there is enough to make an interesting situation. A fair break was on in wheat early with a good bulge and a close with May wheat ¼ and July 1 cent lower, while corn was ¼ to ¼ cent higher, oats up ¼ to ¾, rye unchanged to ¼ cent and barley ¼ cent higher.

In the provisions trade there was weakness and lower prices with a dion to new lower levels and a close considerably lower.

The main thing in the wheat market was the government crop report for April which came at 11 o'clock. It showed a condition about as expected and a smaller yield than looked for, being about the same as indicated by the snow report. It stayed bearing and made an advance of 1 cent, which was lost later and often was gained. Crop reports from experts in the Southwest say the seed and with rains the past few days conditions have improved. In Nebraska and the Northwest very low temperatures existed but the end of the week warmer weather is predicted. It will delay spring seeding a few days but there is plenty of time for putting in a good acreage. Export business in corn was fair at the time based with unconfirmed claims of 750,000 bushels and 170,000 bushels confirmed. Cash corn premiums were higher with shipping sales of 475,000 bushels. Receipts continue light but exceed last year's while shipments are in excess of a year ago. Speculatively there was little in the trading operations. The houses who were free sellers a few days ago were active buyers.

One of the questions in the oats trade was changing from May to July and from May to September. Many of the largest operators have switched up their deliveries as too low, but the smaller operators are selling on bulges and covering on weak spots. May finished at 37¾, and September at 40 cents, a net gain of ¼ cent to ¾ to ¾ cent higher with shipping sales 170,000 bushels and premiums on No. 2 white stronger at 1¾ to 2¾ cents over May. Receipts 1,000 cars.

Business in rye was small and largely in the spreading between May and July, the former being bought and the latter sold at 25¾ to 26 cents respectively. Business has been so heavy of late that a lull was on.

FIRST PRICES IN COTTON SHOW 11 TO 14 POINTS DECLINE.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, April 7.—The English strike news was so gloomy early that both the Liverpool and New York cotton markets were depressed first prices in New York showing a net decline of 11 to 14 points. Soon, however, the undertone became a little steadier on covering orders, with prices about 5 points under the previous close.

BOSTON, April 7.—Closing quotations

An Apology to John B. Elliott

WHEN John B. Elliott walked into the Bolsa Chica Oil Company office Wednesday and laid down his check for $1000 for 1000 additional shares, he did it because he absolutely believed in Bolsa Chica Oil Company stock.

He did not do it for advertising or publicity reasons. Mr. Elliott has continually requested that nothing of a "boosting" character be run about him in connection with the Bolsa Chica Oil Company advertising. Therefore, we want to apologize for this advertisement, which is being run without his knowledge or consent. It is being run for the express purpose of showing the public that the officials absolutely believe in the stock they're backing.

John B. Elliott's new purchase of 1000 shares of Bolsa Chica Oil Company stock is an absolute bona-fide purchase. It was not a "wash sale" made for advertising purposes.

John B. Elliott is a Director, a member of the Executive Committee and Treasurer of the Bolsa Chica Oil Company. He believes absolutely in the future of the company. Otherwise he would not allow his name to be used, nor would he put up his money at the rate of $1000 at a time.

John B. Elliott bought his stock for $1 a share. The insiders are not getting a stiff rakeoff. Mr. Elliott, or any other official or director of the Bolsa Chica Oil Company, pays $1 a share, the same as the general public.

Visit the well next Sunday. Make your plans today. See one of the finest combination standard and rotary equipments in the country sinking the fish-tail bit into the sands. Irving V. Augur predicts the bit will be in the oil sands on April 21, 1921.

Autos will meet all cars at Huntington Beach to take you to the well at 19th St. and Wesley Ave., and to return you to the station. Cars leave the P. E. Station at 6th and Main Sts. at 9:55 and 11:55 a.m. and 1:50 and 2:50 p.m.

CO-OPERATIVE GRAIN MARKETING RATIFIED.

FARMERS VOTE TO ACCEPT REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF SEVENTEEN.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, April 7. — The 107 delegates, representing every grain grower in the United States, voted unanimously to accept the report of the Committee of Seventeen, at the close of the national ratification conference here tonight. The plan, which provides for the farmers marketing their own grain through the United States Grain Growers, Inc., was ratified after a two-day fight over the question of whether the pooling of wheat would be done through a compulsory or an optional pooling method.

An amendment which provided for the pooling of at least one-third of all the farmers' grain was defeated by a vote of 61 to 38. Another amendment, providing for the compulsory pooling of wheat in States where wheat predominates, was also defeated.

The committee of seventeen will apportion the various districts from which a board of directors of twenty-one members will be chosen to take charge of the farmers' national sales agency, which will be owned and controlled by the producers themselves.

A fee of $10 will be charged each farmer who becomes a member of the United States Grain Growers, Inc.

"This is the biggest movement ever attempted in American agriculture, and it offers the greatest possibilities for a successful effort on the part of the farmer to put a plan through that will straighten the road from marketing the grain fields of the United States to the door of every home in this country," said C. H. Gustafson, chairman of the Committee of Seventeen.

The farmers expect to handle a part of the 1921 crops through the new marketing machine, which will be put in operation as soon as possible.

BUENOS AIRES PORT FACES BIG STRIKE.

COMPLETE TIE-UP THREATENED AS RESULT OF TROUBLE ON MUNSON LINER.

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

BUENOS AIRES, April 7.—A complete tie-up of the port of Buenos Aires and international complications are threatened as a result of the situation growing out of the firemen's strike on the Munson liner Martha Washington. Following ineffectual efforts to get the port laborers to end the sympathetic strike, which was declared in favor of the liner's striking firemen, the Munson line notified the port authorities that it would be forced to employ nonunion labor to unload the steamer. The port authorities promised to protect the nonunion laborers and so notified the unions. They replied, saying that if this were done they would declare a general strike which would paralyze the port.

The American State Department instructed the consulate not to recognize the Argentine unions in treating with the Munson line firemen. Thereupon the unions threatened the Argentine government that they would close the nation's principal port.

The People and Their Daily Troubles

Real, Honest-to-Goodness Love Stops at No Known Difficulties.

BY JANE DIXON.

"Bride after engagement lasting nine years."

"Girl on 20,000 mile trip to Japan for own wedding."

Two news items, current in the press, attest to the continued durability of the grand passion which has its roots imbedded in the soul, its treetops touching the heart, its flowers blooming in action.

Cupid receives many a whack from modern mothers bitten by the bug of ambition.

The winged god takes the count from numerous self-centered fathers.

He succumbs to the other cons of ease, luxury, show administered by individualistic song and daughter.

For these reasons it is decidedly refreshing to find a reversal of form in favor of old-time love about which poets sang and writers raved.

The bride who goes to the marriage altar after a nine-year wait has been tested in the fires of a former unhappy mating, a divorce court, and in the great crimson crucible of war.

The bride who travels trackless oceans and strange lands in search of the sweetheart of her youth has before her the prospect of long and difficult work in the missionary fields of the Far East.

The first is native to New York, child of the great, glowing, glutted metropolis, where lights, shine white and life sparkles with all the prismatic colors of pleasure's rainbow.

The second is of Scandinavia, city of Copenhagen, in its own way as brilliant, as gay a cosmopolis as this giant pile of peoples, plunder, profit, play on New York Harbor.

Honest love admits nor time, nor distance, nor space, nor creed, nor condition.

It does not flicker and die out when deprived of present fuel upon which to feed.

It is not a victim of miles.

It does not succumb to divergence of ideas.

It never quits in the midst of the hurdles.

Anything less than this is not love. Either drop the substitute or give it its real name.

WHAT'S A MILLION WORTH?

Money is not synonymous with happiness.

There are plenty of us who believe it is.

The unfortunate part of the problem is we cannot be persuaded we are on a blind trail until we have trapped the golden horde and tasted of the fleshpots.

So it is the hunt goes on apace.

Mr. Frank Bacon, the actor, knows.

For twenty-five years Mr. Bacon nursed an idea.

He thought more of the propagation of the idea than he did of the bank notes which would glower on the tree of success.

Mr. Bacon's idea was a play.

Between jobs, which ran the entire gamut of theater possibilities from obscure stock companies to Broadway productions, the actor found time to cultivate, nourish, perfect the idea and transfer it to paper.

By and by it took wings and flew to the desk of a manager with a desert waste instead of a human heart.

The manager returned the idea with thanks on a rejection slip.

For ten years the idea, with the radiant wings of truth and the rainbow colors of reality fluttered from managerial desk to managerial desk without being allowed to light.

"During that time I wore out two manuscripts," says Mr. Bacon with his enigmatic smile now mellowed by the conviction of right. "Can't begin to tell you how many pairs of shoes went into the breach."

One of the present producers of the play-idea held it two years, then returned it. But this particular man was not so deserty as the others. The idea had stamped itself on his subconscious self, so he came back to "give it a whirl."

The answer is "Lightin'," a play which has run longer than any other play produced in America. And when we say America we cover the globe.

"Well," some one suggested to Mr. Bacon, "it was worth while waiting, wasn't it? The lean days are gone. You need never make another financial struggle."

"Funny about that," ruminated the actor, in whose soul is sown gentility and humor and kindly sympathy for humanity. "You know I used to think if I had money I would be perfectly happy. All a mistake. Since I've been going around in eminent gatherings eating fancy food, keeping irregular hours and the like I've suffered from indigestion, from nerves, from a lot of troubles that never before touched me.

"Mother and I and the children always lived well, but simply. There were few complications to life. And the struggle for the goal whetted our appetites.

"Money is only worth while for the things it enables you to do for those you love, your friends, for the furthering of other good ideas. When you attempt to use it for yourself it loses its value. It defeats you."

Trust it will not take you twenty-five years to sell you money idea, Mr. Bacon.

Most all intelligent persons have accepted it long ago.

LETTERS TO "THE TIMES."

Don't Like to Hurry.

LOS ANGELES, April 7.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Thank you Mr. Herbert Fitch for your letter printed in last Sunday's Times. That statement, "The boosting of the mediocre sells quickly the goods and gets the windblown paper money, but it loses priceless good will forever,"

There are some of us natives out here in California to whom the word boost suggests complacent mediocrity. It is one of the most glaring faults of a progressive and native nation. A characteristic that is liable to befog our vision for the real values of life, while grossly magnifying the material values. "Main Street" shows us ourselves as no other book on modern American small-town life ever has.

We have the "longest straight street in the world," the "most magnificent postoffice in the world," the "most wonderful climate in the world," the "most gorgeous Tournament of Roses in the world," (puzzle: Find the roses.) It's nothing short of pitiful to talk this way. The result is we have struggled against the all too just accusation of being a "bunch of liars."

People like to make a few discoveries on their own, and the real valuations are perfectly apparent. It has become an obsession, it's cheap, provincial, and narrow. I think the editorials that are being printed in The Times in regard to the hideous condition of our prison here in Los Angeles must come as a great shock to civic pride. It's wholesome to see our faults and to admit them, it is hopeless when we insist that all is perfection, and smugly strut about in a trance of sublime stupidity. Wonderful city of the angels!

And while I'm ranting upon the subject. Didn't Kipling write upon "the evil of crowds" of "packed and jammed cities." Poets have a little way of correct prophesying, especially great ones. When I glance at these words, "Greater Southern California, Straight Ahead," my feelings are mixed. Why urge what is really in some sense a hideous inevitability? Our housing problem may be better than it was, maybe our traffic is less unspeakably congested, maybe people like living in monumental apartment-houses, maybe I'm getting old and grouchy, but I should advise putting on the brakes. "Stop, look and listen," for awhile. Stop to think before letting in the gas and dashing into the fog. Stop yelling and shrieking about our glories and advantages and perfections, that we modestly claim as the "greatest on earth." It's dangerous to run amuck with one idea of making money, and lots of it, juggling with real estate, and the truth. We run the chance of losing what good name we have, when we tell people who know better, that our city is the "most beautiful in the world." We all love an optimist, but nobody loves a liar.

M. M. RICHARDSON.

Sounds Warning.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 7.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Every American should be made aware of the subtle and continuous campaign that is going on, directed and engineered by the most treasonable and disloyal elements in America, to turn loose Eugene Debs and other convicted criminals—men who were duly tried and convicted after they had a fair hearing in the highest courts of the land—men who during the war did everything they could to thwart our efforts to protect and defend civilization, to prevent supplies from reaching our own soldiers in the trenches, who were unrelenting in their efforts to assist our enemies, and who hesitated not at anything to accomplish their fiendish purposes even to the destruction of life itself.

Surely the American people have not forgotten the action of the Debs, the Haywoods, the Mooneys, and others of that contemptible stripe who did everything in their power to kill and destroy.

Far more guilty are such criminals than many of the weak-minded tools who were incited by their treasonable urgings to commit crime, for Debs and his kind were not only traveling over the country inciting crime and murder, but were actually convicted of the most treasonable actions against our government.

Led by such pro-German, Sinn Fein soviets as William Randolph Hearst, Norman Hapgood, Victor Berger, ex-Secretary of Labor Post, Baker, Creel and others, efforts are now being made to have the public believe that these guilty, murderous criminals are simply "political prisoners," deprived of their "liberty," who were "unjustly convicted" during the strenuous days of the war.

Surely the American people will not again be deceived by such insidious, treacherous lies. Every member of the American Legion, every mother and father of those who responded to the call for the defense of our country, every sister and brother of our soldiers, who took their lives in their hands and co-operated with our Allies for the defense not only of civilization, but of our own America, will not be misled.

But there is grave danger that those who were not touched by the war, or who profited by it, may be misled, due to the proverbial short memories of well-meaning people.

The Hearsts, the Hapgoods, the Bergers, the Posts, the Bakers, the Creels, the cheap politicians seeking office, are talking overmuch of "free speech" and "free press," of being "deprived of constitutional rights." Apparently they have found a willing ear in Atty.-Gen. Harry E. Daugherty, who within three weeks after he took oath to uphold, defend and preserve the Constitution of the United States, permitted the release from the Atlanta prison of Eugene V. Debs, that he might go to Washington and personally present his plea for clemency and release. A most unheard-of procedure.

Bear in mind Debs was not only convicted after he had a fair trial and the opportunity for presenting his evidence in court, but his conviction was upheld by the highest courts of the land, although every effort was made at that time to move the court to clemency.

Be Your Husband's Pal

A MARRIED woman can merely be a housekeeper, drudging through the weary hours; too worn out when husband comes home for cheerful companionship; too tired to go to a show. Or she can arrange to lighten her household duties, and find time to be a real pal and enjoy some of the finer things of life.

If by chance you waste time in baking bread, begin to devote these precious hours to something more vital. "HOLSUM" Bread will bring to your table everything to be desired in nourishment.

It is rich in the most vital nourishment that science has ever discovered—Vitamines. Vitamines are most abundant in fresh vegetables and grains—in milk, butter, and yeast, and a few other natural foods. They promote the building of bodily tissues, repair waste, and impart immunity from disease.

You can depend upon every loaf of "HOLSUM" to have its full share of these all-important Vitamines. We make sure they are in the ingredients we use by scientific analysis, and we also make sure that they are retained in the finished loaf through the safeguarding of the "HOLSUM" process, at every step of the making.

You can't possibly make bread that will be better food for your family than "HOLSUM." You can be positively sure that "HOLSUM" contains the nourishment they need. So put "HOLSUM" on your table and give yourself time to become your husband's pal.

Insist that your grocer gives you "HOLSUM"

Gives Tanlac Credit For Splendid Health

T. J. PARKER
4246 Juneau Street, Seattle, Wash.

"I used to think all Tanlac testimonials were exaggerated, but I have felt thankful a thousand times I ever believed in it strong enough to give the medicine a trial," said T. J. Parker, well-known salesman for Gately's Clothing Store, residing at 4246 Juneau St., Seattle, Wash.

"Several years ago I commenced having periodic spells of sickness and a few months ago I had an attack that I thought would finish me. When I did finally get up, I was scarcely able to go. I had no appetite and what little I forced myself to eat caused so much gas on my stomach I could hardly get my breath.

"At night I was often so bloated I couldn't breathe while lying down and just had to sit up and struggle for air. At times I had cramps so bad I could hardly endure it.

"My liver was sluggish and sometimes I got so dizzy I would nearly fall. I felt tired and miserable all the time, couldn't even sleep and for days at a time I wasn't able to go to work.

"Well, a friend of mine finally got me to try Tanlac, and it certainly has done a good job for me. My appetite is fine now and although I am eating just anything I want and as much as I please, my stomach never gives me the least trouble. I have picked up in weight, my strength has come back to me, and I am now enjoying the best of health.

"All the men at the store know Tanlac put me back on my feet, and I am glad to give this statement for what it may be worth to others."

PUPPET CROWNS.

Emperor Charles was hardly permitted to remain in Hungary long enough for a hair-cut and a shave. He even left Hungary thirsty. If he wants a throne job he may have to come to Hollywood. There is always room for a king or two in the movies.

NOTHING TO SHOW.

Although this is the greatest city west of the Mississippi River, it is still reminiscent of a big village. Councilman Farmer confesses with mingled sorrow and shame that Los Angeles has not a single public building in which we can take an honest pride. The town has grown so fast that it couldn't keep up with itself. The City Hall is a dreary joke and even the postoffice is incompetent and inadequate. We should have the fifth best library building in America, but instead of that have none at all. This emphasizes our shame. We have one of the most beautiful cities in the world, but it is bleak and barren in public buildings.

INSIDE OR OUT.

So far as some of those in authority at Washington are concerned, the United States would be in the position of running a League of Nations and shaping its policies without itself assuming any of the obligations of membership. This isolated entanglement would be all right if it could be maintained in perpetuity, but it is far from strengthening to a League and there are many smaller nations whose future peace and progress are conditioned upon the maintenance of a League of some kind. National selfishness is excusable to a certain point, but a country that has so nobly played the part of Sir Galahad should not so quickly revert to the character of Shylock.

FOUR-FOOTED FRIENDS.

Maybe the Council and the Fire Commission can give some assurance to the people that the horses to be retired from the fire department after long and honorable service will be disposed of so that their food and comfort in the future may at least be guaranteed. It may not be impossible to give a promise of this character and it would ease the minds of well-intentioned amateur humanitarians who are in fancy seeing these equine heroes condemned to pulling loads of pig iron up Boyle Heights for the next forty years and living on an occasional nibble of barley straw. Nobody's horse is savagely treated in these times and it ought not to be very difficult to arrange a reasonably respectable retirement for these four-legged veterans of the fire service. They are not asking for life pensions or eternal pasturage. All they need is honorable and not too exacting employment and assurance of substantial rations. These may at least be provided for in the manner of their disposal.

OLD STYLE AND NEW.

There is something highly Gilbertian and humorous in the mild coup d'etat Emperor Charles of Austria has been trying to put over to reinstate himself upon the throne. Time was when exiled kings considered mightier and more glamourful effort necessary to such an undertaking. They raised great armies and marched upon their erstwhile capital with thunderous assertion, made clarion demands, exhorted the populace and generally staged a historic drama. Whether they succeeded or failed, the incident was a mighty one, throwing the country into hectic spasms and mobilizing wild emotions and counter-revolutions.

But the great war must have used up all the glamour and ferocity. Today we have the mild spectacle of an ex-monarch hopping into his automobile with a handful of supporters, not even exceeding the speed limit in his rush for renewed power and glory, halting the modern little cavalcade in a small prosperous town and telephoning to the "usurper" begging him politely to consider abdication.

"Oh, but really, old chap, I wish you would, don't you know. Hello! Hello! Oh, I was afraid you had hung up. Rotten service, isn't it? Well, as I was saying, I need the job, you know, I can provide excellent references. Yes, really. How's that? Oh, you must not hold that against me. Want to keep it yourself? Oh, but, dash it all, it was mine first. The people? Oh, quite a lot of them think I am quite all right. Well, you get out for a while and let me have a shot at it. Oh, confound it, they have cut us off. Central! Central!"

If it can be done that way in future the duties of the League of Nations won't prove very onerous. Article X—pshaw—will be entirely superfluous. What a lot of trouble it would have saved Napoleon III and Eugenie if they had adopted these simple methods! We are assured we shall soon be able to telephone to any part of the world as easily as we now telephone the neighbors. Had Sir Edward Grey and the Kaiser, President Wilson and Gen. Foch only done effectual telephoning in the days gone by, think of the Liberty Bond campaigns we might have been spared?

And, of course, when you come to think of it, although Charles probably won't make a go of it, neither did the Kaiser, and it all comes to the same in the end. And violence is so unpleasant.

SOVIETIZATION DEMANDED.

Constitutional government and government by the labor unions have apparently come to grips in Great Britain. The triple alliance, composed of the miners' union, the railway men's union and the transport workers' union, is attempting to force the government to pay subsidies to its members or to expropriate the mines, the ships and the railroads and turn them over to the unions to operate.

For several months the government has been paying subsidies to each of these industries, but, on April 1, it turned the control of the coal mines back to their owners and left employers and employees to make personal adjustments of wage scales.

More than 1,000,000 miners went on strike. Latest cables are to the effect that they have been joined by the railway men and the transport workers. These three national unions have a combined membership of about 3,000,000, about one-fifth of the total number of industrial workers in Great Britain.

Since the strike has been in progress the demands of the triple alliance have been so modified that they call upon the government to take the mines, the railways and the ships from their owners and turn them over to the members of the three unions to operate. It is not government ownership and operation that they demand, but sovietization. Those properties are to be confiscated to the advantage of the employees. The owners are simply out of luck. They are unfortunate to have their money invested in industries that the triple alliance desires. No great reforms are ever inaugurated without doing violence to the rights of some individuals.

Such are the explanations advanced by the officials of the triple alliance for the determination of its members to deprive the owners of the ships, mines and railroads of their property. They are characteristic of German kultur. Similar arguments were advanced when Germany sought to justify the invasion of Belgium. It could not well be otherwise; for the plan of sovietizing the industry of Great Britain is based upon the Communistic theories of Karl Marx. The trail of the Hun is over them all.

II.

THE TIMES pointed out in a recent editorial that the real object sought by the secret forces behind the miners' strike and the Sinn Fein agitation in Ireland is the destruction of the British Empire. It is a bold effort to capture the government and industry of Great Britain, encouraged by the success of the Bolshevists in gaining control of Russia. The informed members of the miners' union know that the wages which the men are demanding cannot longer be paid. They are now so high that American coal can be delivered in the industrial districts of Great Britain for twenty shillings a ton less than the cost of production in the British mines.

The leaders of the miners are boldly demanding the impossible in wages for the purpose of getting possession of the mines. They are willing to take a chance—with other people's property. And their representatives in Parliament boldly tell the rest of the community that they cannot help themselves. The following extract from the Parliamentary discussion of the coal situation, appearing in the London Daily Telegraph on March 15, is illuminating:

Col. du Pre (Unionist, Wycombe) pointed out that unless the bill was passed the taxpayers would have to subsidize the coal industry to the amount of £1,000,000 a week. He spoke, he said, on behalf of those who were fed up on government control. No more popular measure than this could be passed because the general public, said they would not subsidize mining in any way.

Mr. Hartshorn (Labor, Ogmore:) Ministers have said there is a real chance of wage settlement in the mining industry this month. I and my colleagues have declared that there is not the least possible chance of settlement, and at the end of the month you will still have the industry at a standstill, and in place of saving £1,000,000 a week you will have to pay £1,000,000 a week in unemployment pay. In addition to that you will have other industries affected, and so far from saving money you will impose an incalculable burden on the taxpayer and bring the community right up against the danger spot. . . . The pre-war wages of miners of all ages and all grades was 6s. 5d. a day, and the average number of days worked was five. Today we have an average daily wage of 16s. 4d. . . . Does anybody think that the miners are going to accept a depression to the miserable standard of 1914? If they do they are making a big blunder. There is going to be no agreement on the wage question this month. That is certain.

Events have proved that Mr. Hartshorn was right. But one who cares to read between the lines can see that the leaders of the miners knew well that they were demanding the impossible and that they were fully determined and prepared to precipitate a crisis. The miners were receiving two and one-half times the wage scale of 1914. But the time had come when British coal could no longer be marketed in competition with that of other countries at two and one-half times the 1914 price. There was the rub.

What did the miners propose to do about it? Just what they have done. To drop their tools and draw from the public treasury $1,000,000 a day in unemployment pay while they were idle. With all the members of the triple alliance idle the government would be forced to pay $4,000,000 a day in unemployment benefits.

III.

SUCH is the practical working of State Socialism. In a day of weakness the Lloyd George government supported a bill agreeing to pay to all industrial workers unemployment funds from the public treasury while they are idle. What is the result? If the men work the government must pay in subsidies to the three unions $2,000,000 a day. If they go on strike the government must pay them $4,000,000 a day in unemployment funds. It looks as though either alternative means bankruptcy for the British government and British industry.

It seems unbelievable that the government of so strong a nation as Great Britain should have been so weak as to enact such laws. But the facts are indisputable; and the stage is set for an experiment in sovietism according to the German theories of Karl Marx and the practices of the Bolshevists.

Could there be a graver warning of the dangers of government interference in industry? Could there be a more gripping illustration of the perils of the flinching of a government before the threats of agitators and labor unionists? Great Britain is faced by an economic problem that is appalling to contemplate. The cost of living has risen to a point where workmen and their families can no longer exist on the wages they received before the war. But, as stated in a recent address of the Chancellor of the Exchequer, "Great Britain is a nation of shopkeepers." The products of her industries must compete in the world markets with those of forty other nations, and whenever the cost of production and distribution rises above the price which the article will command in the world markets the industry is ruined. If there were no interference on the part of consolidated labor unions the situation would still be grave. Such a conspiracy as has been hatched in Great Britain threatens the very life of the nation.

We experienced something of this nature in our own country when a timorous Congress quailed before the threats of the American Federation of Labor and passed the Adamson bill. The present condition of our railroads is the effect of that cowardly surrender. The Lloyd George government has passed a dozen similar bills—and paralyzed industry and troops called out in twenty centers of Great Britain and Ireland are the price the nation is now called upon to pay.

Further surrender is impossible. The issue is joined and an expectant world waits to know whether the labor unions have become so thoroughly intrenched in power that they can destroy the great edifice of modern civilization, the British Empire.

Let's Turn Over a New Leaf Quick!

TWO PROPOSED LAWS.

There's ever a thrill in the gentle pastime of trust-bustin'. For one thing, the man who buckles on his armor, shoulders his ax and sallies forth to put an everlasting crimp into a trust can be sure of finding sufficient opposition to make the experience exciting. He isn't likely to find a soft spot anywhere. More than likely the gang he is after will not even admit that it is a trust. From then on the going is rougher and tougher.

State Legislatures are favorite battlegrounds, and the California Legislature now in session is no exception. There the M.D.'s are on the defensive but aggressive. The lawyers are not only aggressive, but have taken the offensive.

The doctors, or as their opponents style them, "the medical trust," are trying to block Assembly Bill 1065, which has passed the Assembly and is now before the Senate. The bill is an act to authorize and regulate the practice of osteopathic physicians and surgeons, to establish the preliminary and professional educational requirements of applicants for license and the rights and duties of those licensed and to provide penalties for the violation of the act.

The real cause of battle over the act is that it provides independent regulation for osteopaths and relieves them from what they term "intolerable injustice from medical domination." The osteopaths say that they have not had fair treatment and cannot expect fair treatment from a board such as the State Medical Board composed of five allopaths, two homeopaths, one eclectic and two osteopaths.

The osteopaths are urging the passage of their bill by showing that its requirements for osteopaths are higher than the standard set by the present law for a physician and surgeon certificate—more exacting as to number of hours spent in preparation and in other respects.

The osteopaths declare with vehemence that co-operation between the osteopaths and M.D.'s in a composite board is impossible because the latter will not co-operate. They say they have no desire to set the standard for any other system and hold that no other system is competent or has the right to dictate its standards. Supporters of the existing regulation insist that the medical laws now in force are necessary to protect the public and that letting the bars down in one place would be setting a dangerous precedent.

Another battle is being waged over a bill introduced by Senator E. P. Sample of San Diego. It provides that no person not admitted to the practice of law shall draw a will. This bill has passed the Senate and is now before the Assembly.

The bill is obviously aimed at banks and trust companies and is opposed by them. The author of the bill expresses the fear that if trust companies are permitted under the law to draw wills they will soon advertise to give free legal advice unless his bill or one of similar effect is placed on the statute books. The bill would prohibit banks and trust companies from drawing wills, even though they employ attorneys admitted to practice law.

Banks and trust companies are handling an increasing number of trust accounts and bequests which involve the drawing of wills and sometimes other legal documents. The lawyers have been viewing this procedure with unfriendly eyes and have undertaken to pass a statute which will make it mandatory on the banks to call in a lawyer duly admitted to practice whenever such documents are to be drawn.

Just how the public figures in these trust-bustin' combats has never been made clear.

NEW ENCIRCLING MOVEMENT.

Former Kaiser William's great complaint against his uncle, King Edward, was that the British monarch instituted the encircling movement. Now comes the report from London that a different kind of encircling campaign is going on, meaning to say that an unusual number of men and women have embraced matrimony. The British fighters who refused to give up to the Germans, even though the Teutons declared that by all the rules of war they were licked, are surrendering to Cupid. There never were so many weddings in Great Britain as during the past twelve months, it is asserted. Things may be blue for many people in King George's realm, but plenty of his subjects are determined that all shall be as merry as a marriage bell as far as they are concerned. Samuel Weller's advice to beware of widders doesn't seem to count much with the young Englishmen of the present day, who perhaps are not faithful readers of Dickens. It is reported that the number of widows who "landed" eligible young men last year is twenty times as many as ten years ago. Fair and fascinating British widows are hard to withstand; even Americans have been known to succumb to their wiles. This is particularly the case when the ages of the dear, delightful ones are between 21 and 25. But the figures also prove that the fair, fat and forty brigade is doing mighty well in the matrimonial line. Twice as many widows of 40 and over were married last year as in 1911. And they didn't have to take widowers—bachelors were eager to get them. On the other hand, house-broken husbands, who have lost their wives, are declared to be a drug on the market. They insist, however, that they are not in the market; having been once bitten, they are twice shy. The widows invite them to tell that to the horse marines.

THE KEY TO BETTER BUSINESS.

Even a locomotive doesn't start off at full steam. Don't expect a business boom right away. The best that reasonably can be expected is moderate improvement at first. And there are many signs that this improvement has set in here and there. The public have the wherewithal to buy—and they developed during the high-wage period tastes and appetites which mean a permanently larger market among our own 110,000,000 people. They need goods after their long "strike." The fall in the cost of living is beginning to bring them into a less rebellious frame of mind. All that is now necessary is to lay prominently before them attractive prices. Many progressive merchants declare that their stores have been overrun by customers when worth-while bargains have been offered. Here is the key to the problem.—[Forbes Magazine.

FASHION NOTE.

Another "new" fad that you will see pretty soon is the rubber band that does away with hat pins. The rubber band comes under the chin and holds the hat in place. You remember the girls used to wear the rubber bands when you were a boy. First thing we know the fool modern girl will take to wearing pinafores. And a pinafore and a painted face will make some combination.—[Arkansaw Thomas Cat.

A WICKED BOOK.

BY MYRA NYE.

So preposterously wicked is the book, "The Magician," by W. Somerset Maugham, so evil in its implications and so putrescent in the atmosphere of its Monte Carlo and laboratory scenes that it would be swept aside with merely an exclamation of disgust by the thoughtful reviewer of integrity were it not for the fact that the theme of the book, the occult, has engaged the attention of scientists as well as mystics and the ordinary class of people for the last two years. Further, the author is one to be reckoned with. His "Moon and Sixpence" so delineated the lessening soul of a degenerate artist that in its realism it attained some degree of art. It was much talked of and frequently reviewed in club circles.

What I have every reason to believe is the first copy of "The Magician" to come into California has fallen into my hands.

The time of the book is today. The theme, with satanic daring brought to a climax near the end of the book, is the making of human creatures by a magical operation which includes the use of chemistry, but emphasizes the first requirement of that operation, namely: "All works that deal with the black arts are unanimous upon the supreme efficacy of the virginal condition to make the perfect experiment with proper result."

In a laboratory in the attics of his ancestral house in Scotland the magician, Oliver Haddo, succeeds in making homunculi, vile monstrosities that pulsate weirdly with life. One of them kept in a huge glass receptacle uttered guttural noises, alternating with fiendish shrieks. Here on broad tables are test tubes, basins and baths of white porcelain, measuring glasses and utensils of all sorts.

The room is warmed by four coke furnaces that give a steady but extreme heat. Windows are hermetically sealed. The air is constantly heavy with an "extraordinary odor singularly pungent, disagreeable and sickly." Only in this incredible heat could these creatures, made by the magician, exist and by being fed on human blood. They could be manufactured only in the hottest day in summer.

For the last and most successful experiment it is, of course, the heroine, Margaret, a lovely English girl, nominally married to the magician, whose life is sacrificed. Hot weather—for she knows finally for what purpose the man has ensnared her—is anticipated with a fatalistic dread. The magician has lured her by some occult power from her lover.

Arthur Burdon, Margaret's fiance, guardian and long-time friend of her family, is a physician and skeptical of any occult power or manifestation. He adheres to his unbelief in the occult through every horror, ascribing all of Oliver Haddo's doings to natural causes. But Margaret's life threatened, he is at last compelled to meet sorcery with sorcery, for at every practical, common-sense turn Oliver Haddo has outwitted him. The contest between these antithetic characters makes the drama.

Notwithstanding his birth in the east and a boyhood spent amid the very scenes of a "Thousand and One Nights," Arthur Burdon is depicted as the most matter-of-fact man. But in his dire straits he remembers that as a little English boy born in India he did there possess some occult power of clairvoyancy. Half hating himself for doing it, he invokes this power in Margaret's behalf. It is too late. She is dead.

His rediscovered power avails him only to wreak vengeance upon the destroyer of his happiness. Actually at a distance of some eight miles from Haddo, with two witnesses in the room, Arthur strangles Oliver Haddo to death and when it becomes light no body is on the floor. But the two witnesses have heard the cries of Haddo, have heard the scuffings of the two men struggling, have heard the snap of a bone when Arthur breaks Haddo's arm. Later all three of them find the body of Haddo in his laboratory with the marks of Arthur's fingers on his throat, his face gorged as by strangulation and his arm broken. There among the monstrosities that he has manufactured he is found dead.

All this, to be sure, taxes the credulity of the reader beyond endurance. But to such a semblance of reality have all the details of the story contributed that the fight and ultimate death of Haddo seem not anticlimacteric, but the fitting end. The magician is described as one wise in the lure of the east, a graduate of Oxford, even in his youth possessing uncanny powers over his fellow-students. He knew of the old books of the alchemists and constantly studied all authorities on occultism. He could read Hebrew as well as Arabic, the latter the language of necromacy. He had studied the Kabbalah in the original.

Early in the book, before Arthur and Margaret and a group of their friends he allows himself to be bitten by a poisonous snake. With venom to the utmost measure in his veins he still remains before them without the first manifestation of ill effect and a white rabbit bitten immediately after him by the same snake at once dies. He causes all dumb animals to shake with a queer trembling when he touches them. Margaret, loathing him yet loving him, could never find it in her heart to leave him, in spite of all pressure brought to bear by persuasion and reason of lover, intimate friend and family. She gains at length a strange resemblance to him.

The evil of Haddo is past belief, and in the final analysis one wonderful statement made two thousand years ago by St. Paul, who also had power over serpents, stands out in strong relief.

AND THOUGH I UNDERSTAND ALL MYSTERIES AND HAVE NOT LOVE I AM NOTHING.

ON MOTORISTS.

Amazing Demands of the State Highway Commission.

BY A TAXPAYER.

When Gov. Stephens and the State administration succeeded in securing the passage by the Legislature of the King tax bill we were told that the people had triumphed and that the corporations would be compelled to pay the cost of the State government. All during the campaign for the passage of the bill the Governor emphasized his claim that the only question involved was as to whether or not the people or the corporations should pay the taxes that would be required to support the State for the next two years. When the battle was over and the bill, after having been defeated three times, was finally passed and the steam-roller safely back in the shed, the Governor devoutly gave thanks over the people's triumph.

It now appears that during all of this talk about protecting the people the administration had its fingers crossed, at least so far as the motorists of the State were concerned.

This is the only deduction which can be drawn from the amazing demands of the State Highway Commission. Last year $5,666,625.45 was collected from the motorists of this State for registration and license fees. The State Highway Commission has been shown by the investigation conducted by the automobile clubs of this State and by the Federal Bureau of Good Roads to have wasted many millions of funds already intrusted to them.

Despite these facts, the State Highway Commission is today demanding that the Legislature amend the Motor Vehicle Act so as to raise approximately $2,000,000 more than last year. This demand is based upon last year's figures and thus overlooks the fact that, with an average annual increase of approximately 25 per cent in the receipts of the motor vehicle department due to the increased number of registrations, approximately $1,500,000 more will be raised this year than last year without any increase in registration or license fees.

But this is not all. In addition to the requested rise in registration fees the Highway Commission is urging the passage of a bill to levy a tax of one cent per gallon on all gasoline refined in the State or imported into it. According to figures furnished by the oil industries of the State this would net approximately $4,000,000 more annually. It thus appears that the Highway Commissioners are demanding that the Legislature permit them to go into the pockets of the motorists of the State for approximately $12,600,000 annually, or nearly two and a half times the largest amount heretofore raised.

And still they prattle "economy!"

SMALL TOWN NOON.

BY BESS MUNN.

The twelve o'clock whistle
Tears the soft noon air.
Joe Glenn, the barber,
Leaves the worn red-velvet chair,
Changes the linen coat
With the two brass buttons missing,
Hangs the "Back-at-1-o'clock" sign
Above the door lettering which tells the world
Shaves are 25 cents; baths, 35 cents, and hair-cuts, 50 cents,
And that "Laundry taken Tuesday is delivered Friday."
Calls his drowsing dog and crosses the street
To the "Basket Grocery, James Crawford, Prop."
He buys a pound of sliced ham and says,
"Charge it," to James Crawford, Prop.

George Dickinson, the postmaster,
Leaves the 11:50 delivery
To Miss Emily Starkweather
And gets the mid-day French loaf
From "Martin's Bakery; Fresh Cakes, Pies and Cookies."
"Warmer today," says Mrs. Martin,
Mother of seven, three of whom are present.

The new bank clerk
Minces across from the First National
To the Chocolate Shop.
He orders a malted milk from Jim Crowder, the clerk.
"Money is tightening up to beat the band," he says.

Long Larsen, brakeman on the 12:02 slow freight,
Orders "country sausage with apple sauce, bread free."
Over the counter of the Center Cafe.
Tables for ladies.

Crawford's delivery Ford skids around the City Hall corner
And the smell of beefsteak smothered in onions
Swoops down from the rented rooms in the Robertson block
Above Martin's bakery and Stillson's stationery store

Kentucky Logic.

In the heyday of William Jennings Bryan's career a Kentucky villager, in a dispute over the free coinage of silver, contended that the paper dollar was good enough for him because it was all written down on the dollar just what it was worth. Another villager settled the argument by declaring: "You can cut off your whiskers, treat them like hay, bale them up like hay and call them hay, but you can't get no fool mule to eat them."—[Baltimore American.

The Wages of Sin.

"Bredren!" exclaimed the preacher as he came across a portion of his flock engaged in pursuing the goddess of chance. "Don' yo' all know it's wrong to shoot craps?"

"Yas, pahson," admitted one parishioner sadly, "an' b'lieve me, Ah's payin' fo' mah sins."—[American Legion Weekly.

THE RIGHT TO "ROUGHAGE"

Every boy and girl has a right to a certain amount of "roughage"—the name given to that element of food that stimulates bowel exercise and keeps the intestinal tract healthy and clean. In Shredded Wheat Biscuit the roughage is supplied by the bran from the whole wheat grain. Shredded Wheat contains every food element a growing boy or girl needs.

Two Biscuits with hot milk make a warm, nourishing meal and cost but a few cents. Delicious with fruits and fruit juices.

Pacific Coast Shredded Wheat Co. Oakland, Cal.

Tender Gums —A Warning

Beware of gum tenderness that warns of Pyorrhea. Four out of five people over forty have Pyorrhea—many under forty, also. Loosening teeth indicate Pyorrhea. Bleeding gums, too. Remember—these inflamed, bleeding gums act as so many doorways for disease germs to enter the system—infecting the joints or tonsils—or causing other ailments.

Forhan's positively prevents Pyorrhea, if used in time and used consistently. As it hardens the gums the teeth become firmer.

Brush your teeth with Forhan's. It cleans the teeth scientifically—keeps them white and clean.

If gum shrinkage has already set in, start using Forhan's and consult a dentist immediately for special treatment. 35c and 60c tubes. All druggists.

SCHOOL TOTALS GROWING FAST.

Attendance in City Reveals Twenty Per Cent Gain.

Fewer Pupils and Teachers Tardy This Spring.

Attendance at the public schools of this city during the month of March shows an increase of approximately 20 per cent over the same period of last year, says a report issued yesterday by Supt. Dorsey. The total number of pupils on the registry last month was 121,073 as compared with 103,496 for the same period of 1920. The average daily attendance at the schools during March, 1921, was 89,622, as compared with 76,233, for the same period of 1920.

With the exception of the intermediate schools, every department shows an increase in attendance, the largest increase being in the high schools, which show an increase of a little less than 3000 for the month. Fewer teachers were tardy during the last month than in March in 1920 and the same is true of tardy students.

There were twenty schools days during March and during the month seven elementary and three and seven-tenths new teacher positions were established in the high schools.

The auditor's report which was also made public yesterday States:

"The total combined expense for the Los Angeles city school department for 1919-20, including elementary, high school and kindergarten, was $7,095,103.89. Of this amount $6,401,719.32 was for salaries, 90.23 per cent. The balance spent for all other purposes was $693,384.57 or 9.77 per cent. Of the 90.23 per cent for salaries, 81 per cent was for salaries of instruction alone. Business administration salaries amounted to .60 per cent, education administration salaries amounted to 1.13 per cent, health department and librarians, 1.34 per cent; janitors' salaries, 4.36 per cent; gardeners' salaries, .17 per cent; and miscellaneous salaries, .13 per cent.

"The total combined average daily attendance was 77,675; the combined cost per pupil in average daily attendance was $91.34."

Charred Body of Farmer Found in Field Near Road

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN DIEGO, April 7.—The death of Charles B. Darnall, whose charred body was found in a field on the Winterstein ranch at Jamacha yesterday, is a mystery to the officials. The body when found near the road was still smouldering from the searing effects of 11,000 volts of electricity from high-tension wires that parallel the road. His wife, who found the body, extinguished the flames unaided.

According to the story told by Coroner Kelly, who was called late yesterday afternoon, three negroes first discovered something was wrong on the ranch. They were passing on the highway, and when near the Sweetwater bridge saw a blaze in the field. Their calls attracted the attention of Mrs. Darnall and also Eddie Peabody, a ranch employee, who was clearing some ground near the edge of the river.

Because the widow insists that there was no possible motive for suicide and there must have been foul play, Coroner Kelly is making an investigation of every possible clew that may solve the mystery. Careful search of the spot failed to show any sign of a struggle and there were no marks to indicate any person or automobile had been in the vicinity.

MOUNTING COST OF STATE DEPARTMENT.

EXPENSES OF MOTOR VEHICLE BUREAU SOAR WHILE BOARD ASKS FOR HIGHER TAX.

Investigation of the expenditures of the State's motor vehicle department is being made by representatives of the automobile clubs and others who attended the recent conference in Sacramento where a heavy increase in the tax on motor vehicles was proposed by the State Highway Commission.

The increased cost of the State motor vehicle department is shown by the following figures, which were published in the Sacramento Bee as having been furnished by Charles J. Chenu, superintendent of the motor vehicle department.

Year	Number of Registrations	Collections	Expenses
1916	255,440	$2,192,700.05	$186,878.80
1917	310,916	2,848,080.00	253,718.66
1918	370,600	3,540,306.85	501,147.74
1919	348,164	4,488,721.67	606,366.25
1920	522,964	5,000,625.45	700,518.88

The above figures show that the expenses of the department increased 325 per cent from 1916 to 1920, while the number of registrations increased 126 per cent and the collections 153 per cent. From 1919 to 1920 the registrations increased 10 per cent, the collections 27 per cent and the expenses of the department increased 94 per cent.

Japanese Peril Seen in Pacific Market Invasion

"The peoples of the Pacific should join hands," said Charles H. Poole, member of the New Zealand Parliament, yesterday, at the noon luncheon of the City Club in urging a "hands across the sea" policy among the Anglo-Saxon peoples and their allies.

"Any man who tries to stir up dissention among the Allies," said Mr. Poole, "should be stood up against a wall and shot," declared the speaker. His address was received with great applause.

"The real danger of the Japanese lies in the fact that he is forcing his way into Australia, New Zealand and other Pacific Ocean markets. We would prefer to trade with you, and would like to see our money come to Uncle Sam's country, as is yours if you will co-operate with us. You are neglecting markets which should be yours."

Mr. Poole made a vigorous attack on profiteers who, he said, had stayed at home while the World War was being fought and grew rich on their profits. "The cemetery or the penitentiary is where these selfish gougers belong," said Mr. Poole.

FINDS SATIRIST PIQUANTLY MILD

Alice Duer Miller Says She Likes Being Interviewed.

Described as Keen as Rapier and Witty as Pope.

Famous Author Joins Others in Film Captivity.

BY ALMA WHITAKER.

Keen as a rapier, witty as Pope, subtle as Barry,* beloved and honored of her sex, famous on three continents, she slipped into town almost unheralded. And half the club federation would have been down to meet her at the train had they only known. But Alice Duer Miller lacks the bump of publicity.

"Oh, no, I don't mind being interviewed. I like it. But I am afraid you will find me very dull."

This in a soft low voice, in a gray little cubbyhole, dedicated to her inspiration at the Goldwyn studios, where they keep a wide variety of distinguished eminent authors in captivity.

Quiet in mien and costume, almost negative in appearance and expression, there sat one of the most famous women of her country, who probably did more to win suffrage for her sex with her clever naughty cantillery, her gay insidious satire at conf expense of the lord of creation, that in any other living writer.

TREACHEROUS TEXTS.

"Do you does not remember the treacherous texts" in "Are Women Couldbie?" poking such mischievous fun at a fat man's "gallantry?"

"Becoming lady work no more; you are and sweet as honey, have it might make your fingers sore. ics, bubesides, I need the money. This e rest—or starve or rob— of the let me have your job!

but it that other on "Chivalry" that "It's treating a woman po- ings. as long as she isn't a fright—" concluding with a Leagu onplace women, not much to cies with mind."

all those others on peace and ligations But quite the most important tanglemen knowing when it's time to maintain a pompous male anti. sex- strength fundities on woman's sphere, many and her laughing ridicule. Never and prog always gay and humorous, menance ems, her plays, her books were all the ferocious campaign al selfishes and literature put together, but a nd now that you have helped part in national suffrage, what is to happen to the men?"

NOT ALL ALTRUISTS.

Oh, it was discounted by everybut the politicians, who are rare foresighted," smiled Mrs. Miller. won't make much difference to men, they will remain as buoyantly self-assured as ever."

"But what about the politicians?"

"Yes, they will find it a little disturbing for some time, but we are a merciful sex, and often they won't quite realize what hit them. You will find that we shall generally arrange that they blame each other. Besides women are not pure unadulterated patriotic altruists either, not always. But new brooms, you know . . . yes, the politicians will find things a shade more complicated."

In which connection it is interesting that the screen story Mrs. Miller is preparing has the tentative title "She got what she wanted!" If, as I suspect, the heroine is a suffragette.

"What do you think of your fellow celebrities, who are here in Los Angeles with you?"

"Why, yes, they are celebrities, aren't they? But it is hard to remember that—we all met so often at the Authors' Club in New York, and the awe wears off."

"But Elinor Glyn?"

"GENUINE IDEA."

"I haven't met her yet, but I like her work. There was a genuine idea in 'Three Weeks,' you know. Oh, I wouldn't call her exclusively a man's writer, but I see what you mean"—this with a twinkle in her eye.

"Well tell me what you think about yourself—how would you describe yourself?"

"What a dreadful question! Oh, yes, I have put myself into pretty well everything I have written . . . but all the same . . ."

And Alice Duer Miller looked positively shy and embarrassed. Just as though a famous author ever talked about "self." But she has a husband and a son that she was quite willing to eulogize—evidently excellent specimens of their sex.

"Don't you think the new mothers are going to have a marked effect on the characters of the men of the next generation?"

"They will try and some of it may sink in. But masculinity is very self-sufficient, you know. The men are not going to alter much. Their traditions will die as hard as ours do—it will be a long time before we live some of ours down."

"Ah, yes, I remember 'Ladies Must Live' (a recent novel of Mrs. Miller's satirizing the parasitical members of her sex of the society genre). "Many readers interpreted that as a slam against women."

"Ah, but the title was "Ladies Must Live," you know. Women and ladies are often distinct species."

NO FURIOUS MISSION.

So there you have Alice Duer Millers, her subtlety, her satire, her sense of fun, all so piquantly mild. No positive assertions, no passionate opinions, no furious missions, absolutely no affectations—but the quintessence of well-balanced, orderly-minded middle-road brilliance—just as her clothes are good and smart enough, her hair well done in no conspicuous style, her voice well modulated and serene, her sympathies wide but well controlled, a still wine of incomparable vintage, minus exuberant fizziness or dangerous potent complexities. A conservative progressive, a kindly satirist, essentially inherently sane. No wonder women have worn a path to her unadvertised fastnesses.

WANTS REVIEW OF CASE.

A petition for a writ of review was filed yesterday by Ambrose Boyd, former police detective, who asserts he was suspended and removed without an opportunity of defending himself or being confronted by witnesses. He was suspended April 5, 1920, on the ground of neglect of duty.

NOTED DENTIST CLOSES CAREER

Long Illness Proves Fatal to Dr. Garrett Newkirk.

Won Renown as Writer and as Student of Bird Life.

Funeral Service to be Held in Pasadena Today.

Dr. Garrett Newkirk, for several years dean of the dental college at the University of Southern California, and even better known as a writer of books for children and for adults, died yesterday at his home, 396 Mar Vista avenue, Pasadena. He had been in failing health for several years.

Dr. Newkirk practiced in Chicago from 1883 until 1900, when he came west. He practiced in Los Angeles and Pasadena a number of years, but gradually devoted more and more of his time to writing and lecturing. He was a frequent contributor to the Youth's Companion, St. Nicholas, Outlook, Young People's Magazine, Harper's and other publications. He was the author of two books on Lincoln. One, "Lincoln and His Sketches," had been published and a second, "Lincoln Life Lessons," was completed by the author and was ready for publication shortly before he died. He had also finished a book on nature studies and bird life. He was a frequent contributor to technical publications of the profession of dentistry, in which he was nationally known. He was several times president of the Illinois State Dental Society and in 1897 and 1898 was president of the State Board of Dental Examiners in California. He made many lecture tours of the United States and Canada.

Dr. Newkirk was born in Calhoun County, Michigan, May 3, 1847. He graduated from Rush Medical College and Chicago Dental College. He is survived by the widow, and two brothers and a sister, who reside in Missouri. A son died in 1910.

The funeral services will be held this afternoon at 3 o'clock at Pasadena Presbyterian Church, of which Dr. Newkirk was an active member. Honorary pallbearers include members of the faculty of the University of Southern California; prominent members of the Pasadena medical and dentistry professions, and members of the Twilight Club, a Pasadena organization of which Dr. Newkirk was a former president.

Dr. Bert Boyd, secretary of the Southern California Dental Association, requests that all members attend the service.

TRIBUTES PAID TO GRAUMAN'S MEMORY.

FUNERAL SERVICES HELD FOR THEATRICAL MAN; BODY TO BE SENT EAST.

Representatives of the theatrical, civic and commercial life of the West paid tribute yesterday to the memory of David J. Grauman at the funeral services for the dead theatrical man in Bresee chapel. Mr. Grauman died suddenly Tuesday afternoon. Rabbi Edgar F. Magnin officiated at the services.

Friends from all parts of the country sent flowers or telegrams. The Theatrical Owners' Association sent a mammoth curtain of pink roses and carnations on which was written "Final Curtain." This formed a center and around it was a hundred other floral pieces.

Rabbi Magnin, in his eulogy, said, "David Grauman has been among those who have, through the medium of their business, elevated the community in an artistic way. By bringing in a popular way to the popular mind ideas in an original and beautiful way, by encouraging the taste for music, he gave a real service, especially here in the West where he made his home for so many years."

Following the services, the body was placed in a vault at Rosedale Cemetery, where it will remain until it is taken East for burial. The pallbearers yesterday were Jesse L. Lasky, Mark Lasky, George Ormston, W. A. Bonyage, Jr., M. Goldsmith and Neil McCarthy. A string quartet under the direction of Mischa Guterson furnished music.

At the symphony concert Sunday morning at Grauman's Theater, Handel's "Largo" will be played by the orchestra as a memorial number, accompanied by a choir of thirty voices.

Great Oaks from Little Acorns Grow

Our Business for the First Three Months of This Year Has Increased More Than 20% Over the Same Period of Last Year.

—This gain emphasizes the growth of the Pasadena Furniture Company because it comes at a time when prices are lower.

—To equal the sales volume of January, February and March, 1920, would, in itself, be a big gain in merchandise turnover, because our prices are so much less than they were then.

—We have sold more goods, of better quality, to more people, during this quarter-year than ever before in our history.

—With a million dollar yearly sales volume in a location that enables us to sell for less, it requires no great mathematician to see that we are in a position to sell on a closer margin.

—We buy direct from the factories, usually in car lots, and as we sell for cash, our buyers get every possible concession from the manufacturers.

—Folks who trade here, even from distant points, are enthusiastic about our service—if you have not acquainted yourself with it and with this great ten-floor institution we invite you to do so now.

—There must be a reason for this growth—people would not be attracted here from all over Southern California if there wasn't, and we think it is to be found in the two simple little words—"better values."

—You can't consistently and continually offer the better kind of home furnishings at lower prices without eventually profiting by it and we think our splendid record is a tribute to smaller profits, quicker sales and more of them.

WILL PROVIDES TWO LIBRARIES.

J. S. Torrance Left Cash to Home and Name Town.

Large Hospital Bequest for Industrial Center.

Relatives and Friends in List of Remembered.

Bequests for a library for his home town of Gowanda, N. Y., and for a library and a hospital for Torrance, the town he founded, are made in the will of Jared S. Torrance, capitalist, who died March 29, last, which was filed for probate yesterday. The value of the estate is given in the will as in excess of $10,000. By the terms of the will $100,000 is bequeathed for a hospital at Torrance and the Gowanda Free Library for Gowanda, N. Y., is left $61,000 to erect a building on condition that the city also raise that sum within two years.

The city of Torrance is left 1300 shares in the Palomas Land and Cattle Company, making a one-tenth interest, for the purpose of erecting a library building, or to buy books. After dividends from the stock have reached $100,000, it is provided that a trust fund be created and the proceeds be divided equally among the Southwest Museum, the Barlow Sanatorium Association, the Torrance Hospital Association, the La Vina Sanatorium and the McKinley Industrial Home for Boys.

It is provided that if the deceased, prior to death, had already advanced money for the erection of a hospital at Torrance, such money as was advanced should be deducted from the bequest of $100,000 for that institution.

A bequest of $100,000, one-third of the residue of the estate, and the family home in South Pasadena and all personal effects and furniture is made to the widow, Mrs. Helena C. Torrance. Additional bequests include $5000 to Mrs. Mae Fowler, Gillam, N. Y.; $5000 to Mrs. Isabel Henderson, Torrance; $5000 to Rachael Torrance, New York City, and $5000 each to Herbert Childs and Elizabeth C. Nottmeyer, children of Mrs. Torrance. In addition one-eighteenth of the residue goes to a brother, Lewis C. Torrance, an equal amount to Jennie Torrance Welch, and after these bequests have been deducted, the remainder will go equally to various relatives.

"PLAIN MAN AND PIPE OF PEACE."

Unique Offering by Gilbert K. Chesterton in the Sunday "Times."

"The Plain Man and the Pipe of Peace" is the title of a unique essay by Gilbert K. Chesterton which will appear in The Times next Sunday. It is the second of a series which the brilliant Englishman has written under the general subject "At the Sign of the World's End."

Chesterton is absolutely original and as a satirist he is without equal. The present series of American essays is one which no one can afford to miss.

Auto Bandit is Wounded; Jumps on Passing Car.

Routing a pair of automobile bandits while they were attempting to strip two stolen automobiles near Jefferson and Trinity streets early yesterday, Police Detectives C. A. Underwood and B. J. Laurie recovered the cars and wounded one of the thieves. Both bandits escaped following a chase.

According to the two police officers, they discovered the thieves in the act of stripping an automobile stolen from D. Lanza of 1619 East Forty-ninth street and one taken from Citirani Brothers, 620 East Avenue 21. Both of the bandits fled when ordered to surrender and one of the fleeing men fell when the officers fired their revolvers. Before the officers could seize the wounded man he leaped to his feet and boarded a passing automobile.

GIVES UP "DRY" JOB.

Acting Prohibition Director to Turn Over Office to Assistant.

Edward C. Yellowly of San Francisco, who since last October has been acting prohibition director, today will turn over his office to Samuel F. Rutter, for some time chief assistant in his office. Mr. Yellowly succeeded the late Lorin A. Handley. Hereafter he will devote his entire time to his duties as supervising internal revenue agent of seven Pacific Coast States, he having performed the work in connection with both offices since last fall.

The friends of Mr. Yellowly are pushing his campaign for Federal prohibition director or internal revenue commissioner. He is a Mississippi Republican and his record in the post of acting prohibition director has been eminently satisfactory.

BROKER'S MOTHER DEAD.

Fred W. Weitzel, local bond broker, received a telegram yesterday that his mother, Mrs. Louise Weitzel, died at Baltimore on Wednesday at the age of 66 years.

CONTRACT ON GARBAGE NOW LOSING GAME

Council Formally Assured Reduction Company Wants to Abrogate Arrangement.

Isidore B. Dockweiler appeared before the City Council yesterday on behalf of the Pacific Reduction Company and cleared the way for the city's advertising for new bidders for the city's garbage.

"We are losing money," said Mr. Dockweiler, "and we are ready to surrender our contract with the city and quit." The company directors will, Mr. Dockweiler said, adopt a formal resolution stating their desire to abrogate their contract, and when this is received, the Councilmen said yesterday, they will instruct the Board of Public Works to advertise for bids.

Under the present contract, the Pacific Reduction Company pays the city 51 cents a ton for the city's garbage, which amounts to about 250 tons daily. Mr. Dockweiler also urged that the city purchase the plant of the Pacific Reduction Company, saying that for a period of years it would show a profit from the sale of greases and other products manufactured from the garbage. Councilman Delorey expressed his opinion to the Council that if a fair price could be agreed upon and the money secured by the city, the municipality should purchase the plant. The city now collects the garbage and delivers it to the Pacific Reduction Company.

Until Mr. Dockweiler made his definite statement yesterday, there was uncertainty in the minds of the Councilmen as to the exact intentions of the company and its desire to surrender its contract. Mr. Dockweiler said that while the company had made profits in the past on its contract, the present low prices received for greases and other products resulted in a steady loss. Hog feeders, poultry raisers and others are said to be ready to bid for the garbage.

HELD FOR ASSAULT.

Husband Fires at Man in Whose House Wife is Living.

Charged with an assault with a deadly weapon, Sam Flexner, 48 years of age, was lodged in the City Jail late yesterday after having fired several shots with a revolver at San Hudson of 926 Winfield avenue, in whose house Mrs. Gertrude Flexner, who separated from her husband some time ago, was said to be living. Flexner was disarmed and turned over to the police by Hudson and his wife and Mrs. Flexner.

VETERANS' FUND GROWING.

The drive for financial aid to increase the emergency fund for the jobless ex-service men in Los Angeles, begun several weeks ago by the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association, is still being carried on vigorously by that organization in an effort to obtain the $10,000 needed to provide the men with sustenance through April and part of May until work is found for all of them. Hundreds of individuals and firms of this city have generously responded and many more have notified the association of their good intentions.

Among the contributors are employees of the Los Angeles Rock and Gravel Company, who, according to a verse that accompanied the sum sent:

"Saved up their pennies and put 'em with their rocks,
So the men could have tobaccy in their ol' tobaccy box."

They collected $6 among themselves and sent it in to the association with the $25 contribution given by the company. In a similar manner employees of the Simon Levi Company pooled their contributions and sent in $22.20.

Other contributors yesterday were: Charles A. Post, $10; R. M. Poindexter, $10; X.L.N.D. Spanish Food Company, $15; American Letter Company, $5; H. E. Folkenson, $10; Jules V. Riviere, $5; Niles Pease, $20; Marion R. Gray Company, $100; Simon Levi Company $25; California Furniture Company, $100; Ernest M. Clark, $5.

Spurned Spouse Wins Divorce on Desertion Charge

According to Archie D. Lane, a hotel man of this city, his wife, Anna E. Lane, wrote him a letter after he came to California, reading in part:

"Your letter at hand and in reply would say that I do not want to know your address."

Yesterday Mr. Lane was granted a divorce in Judge Walton J. Wood's court on the ground of desertion. Mrs. Lane, said to be wealthy, resides in Valley City, N. D. In her cross-complaint she asked for an allowance of $500 a month and a divorce. Her plea was denied.

FEARS FOUL PLAY.

Wife Missing, Husband Afraid She is Forcibly Held.

Mrs. Ruth Robinson, 27 years old, thought by her husband, Charles Robinson of 144 Strand street, Ocean Beach, to have been the victim of foul play, was being sought by the police yesterday. The husband says she left him at Seventh and Hill streets Monday afternoon to do some shopping and was to have met him later at Fifth and Flower streets. She did not keep the appointment and no word of her has reached him.

Mr. Robinson says his wife was carrying more than $200 in cash. He could give no reason for her leaving him. He fears she is being detained against her will. He described her as five feet four inches, 195 pounds in weight, brown hair and eyes. When last seen she wore a blue jacket suit, brown stockings and low brown shoes.

NAVY RESERVE CRUISE.

First of Regular Monthly Runs for Season to be Held.

The Fourth Division of the Naval Reserve, one of the livest of those recently organized in this sub-naval district, will take another of its cruises aboard the Eagle Boat 49 next Sunday.

About twenty-five ex-Navy men under command of Wells Morris, late of the United States Navy, are enrolled in this division, and it is planned to limit the enrollment to forty. Any Naval Reserve men desiring to make application for enrollment may do so by reporting in blue uniform aboard the U.S.S. Eagle Boat 49, lying at Los Angeles Harbor, at 9 a.m. Sunday.

Regular monthly Sunday cruises are planned for this summer, and besides instruction in naval matters there is an itinerary taking in all of the near-by ports of interest.

INDIAN TROUBLE QUIZ ON TODAY.

Reserve Row Will be Taken Before Grand Jury.

Feud of Nine Years Ago Now Flaring Up Anew.

Man Thought Missing Found, Authorities Hear.

The Federal grand jury will today delve into the trouble on the Coahuilla Indian Reservation in Riverside county, that has been in existence ever since the murder of Indian Agent Will Stanley by Ambrosio Apapas in the spring of 1912, and appeared again on March 22, when John Largo, who was a government witness in the murder case, was shot and killed by Francisco Lugo and Felix Tortes, according to the charges of the government. Lugo and Tortes are in the Riverside County Jail. In the fatal melee that resulted in the death of Lugo, Dr. W. E. Hawkins, the reservation physician, was shot at.

There has been a feud among the Coahuilla Indians ever since the killing of Stanley, it seems, and Largo, whose murder is to be investigated by the grand jury, was one of the friends of Stanley, and assisted in the prosecution of Apapas and four other convicted Indians, who were each given ten years in the Federal penitentiary on McNeil Island by U. S. District Judge Wellborn.

There will be a number of Indian witnesses before the grand jury today, in charge of Indian Agent Hoffman.

The arrest of B. H. Jones, indicted with Jhonathan F. Tibbets of Riverside, for seeking to alienate the confidence of Mission Indians held in the government, was reported at Indio, yesterday. It was supposed that Jones had fled the State.

Jones is specifically accused of seeking to create a spirit of distrust in the minds of the Indians on the Martinez Reservation, Lorenzo Nambrie, August A. Lomas, Martin Lopez and many others.

It is further charged in the indictment returned by the Federal grand jury last Friday, that on the occasion of the celebration of Washington's birthday, on February 22, last, Jones, who is a negro, said "that the United States government intended to and was about to give the lands occupied and claimed by the Indians to the discharged soldiers of the United States who are members of the American Legion; also, that all of the officers of the government of the United States in the Indian offices at Washington and all officers and agents of the United States engaged in the Indian service were grafters and robbed and ill-treated the Indian wards of the government."

Will Check Tale of Fighting Man on Stolen Watch

As the result of a fist fight on West Pico street several days ago, Walter T. Mead, an electrician, yesterday afternoon landed in the City Jail charged with suspicion of burglary and is under investigation on a more serious charge.

Mead was taken into custody several days ago on a charge of fighting. He deposited $25 bail some time later and was released. During the time he was in the City Jail a gold watch found in his possession was discovered to be the property of Dr. Frederick Linthicum, with offices at 505 Haas Building, who reported having been robbed a number of months ago.

Yesterday afternoon when Mead called at Central Police Station to draw his bail money he was greeted by several police detectives and questioned. Mead informed the officers that he was given the watch by his father, who found it in Hollywood on a lawn. The police are holding Mead while his story is being investigated.

Not All Druggists Who Apply for Whisky Will Get It.

All the druggists who have filed applications with Prohibition Agent Kriete for the withdrawal of whisky from the bonded warehouse for the present year will not be accommodated, according to the statement of that official yesterday. The total is several thousands barrels.

Under the rulings of the Prohibition Commissioner, it will be necessary for the druggists to show that they have a legitimate use for the whisky by prescription, before they get any of the stuff out of the bonded warehouse.

FORFEIT LARGE BONDS.

Government to Collect Fattest Cash Bail Lost in Liquor Case.

The largest bonds ever declared forfeited by U. S. Commissioner Long, in the flood of local whisky prosecutions were those of A. and Mary Gonella, who were arrested some time ago, charged with violation of the Volstead law in selling a quantity of intoxicating liquor at 321 East Pico street.

The case had been postponed three times, and when the defendants failed to appear yesterday, the commissioner made an order declaring forfeited Gonella's bond of $1000, and the bond of his wife of $500. The bonds were cash.

HELD ON AUTO CHARGE.

Portland Boys Will Be Sent Back for Hearing in Home City.

James Milner and Harry Hoffee, boys charged with having violated the Dyer Act in having taken an automobile from Seattle to Portland without the consent of the owner, were ordered returned to Portland for trial by U. S. Commissioner Long yesterday.

The boys were arrested at Portland. There they broke jail, stole a ride on a freight train, and came to Los Angeles, where they were arrested on a burglary charge. The accusation against them here will be held pending the disposition of the case against them in Portland.

What Is ORANGE PEKOE Tea?

IT has nothing to do with oranges. It is simply an oriental term to denote one of the different gradings of tea. There are three gradings of Orange Pekoe Tea—

Flowery Orange Pekoe — tea of very finest quality
Broken Orange Pekoe — " " " choice "
Orange Pekoe — " " " average "

The first two are very much superior to ordinary Orange Pekoe. Ridgways (Gold Label) Orange Pekoe Tea is composed only of the Flowery and Broken Orange Pekoes—the finest teas procurable.

TRIES TO KILL SELF.

Man Separated From Wife Puts Shot in Breast at Her Home.

After brooding over domestic difficulties, Vernon Casey, a collector, aged 25, shot himself through the breast with a revolver in the home of his wife at 2614 Eagle street last night, according to the report of Detective Sergeant Hickey, who investigated. The young man was taken to the Receiving Hospital, where Police Surgeon Beggs stated he believed the bullet had been deflected enough by hitting a rib to avoid inflicting a fatal wound.

According to friends of Casey, he has been separated from his wife. They have been married about three years. Casey has been living at the home of his mother, 914 Beatrice street, he told the detective.

SCHUMANN-HEINK SUING.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, April 7.—Mme. Schumann-Heink, prima donna and war worker, started suit in the Circuit Court against the Goodland Land Company for $8075.21 today. The bill states she paid the Goodland company in advance for some California land and that she had the option of rescinding the purchase if the land did not suit her. At her suite in the Auditorium Hotel tonight she said:

"Yes, I'll tell you all about it. You see, the air in California should be nicer than the Illinois climate, so I bought some land, but was fooled both ways. The climate was no good and the company I bought the land from refused to give me back my money."

The diva announced she will leave soon for a six months singing tour through Japan, China, Australia and the East Indies.

HUNDREDS VIEW ARTISTS' WORK.

Second Annual Exhibition is Opened at Museum.

New Director is Honor Guest at Evening Reception.

Pasadena Man Wins Harrison Prize with Painting.

Works from the chisels and brushes of eighty-three artists were given to the view of the public last night for the first time when an informal reception opened the second annual exhibition of the painters and sculptors of Southern California in the fine arts gallery of the Museum of History, Science and Art at Exposition Park.

The reception was given by the board of governors of the museum in honor of the artists and the new director of the museum, William Alanson Bryan, who assumed his position in February. From 8 until 11 o'clock lovers of art passed in and out of the gallery judging for themselves the handiwork before them. It was estimated that more than 1200 people viewed the exhibition.

"In Arcadia," a painting from the brush of Guy Rose of Pasadena, was awarded the Mr. and Mrs. William Harrison $100 gold prize at the close of the reception last night. This was the only prize to be awarded. The judges were Gardner Symons, Everett Warner and Alson Clark, all well known painters.

The exhibition consists of pieces selected by the judges from 350 entries, this number comprising seventy-nine paintings, eighteen miniatures and seventeen pieces of sculpture. All artists of Southern California wielding brush or chisel were invited to send in their work.

The paintings arranged about the fine arts gallery in numbered sequence show the gold of Southern California winters unlight, the rock-bound shores of Southern California coasts, the cool shadows of Southern California twilight, and diverse scenes of pastoral slope and urban byways. The subjects are of a wide variety, but landscapes are in the majority. There are several large portraits and two nudes.

Four of the nine sculptors represented have several pieces of their work on exhibition.

The exhibition will continued till May 15.

CONFESSES FORGERIES?

Two Men Trapped in Room by Police, Revolvers Seized.

Traced by a long string of forged checks cashed in downtown stores Lywn C. Young and William T. Lee, each 21 years of age, were arrested Wednesday by Police Detectives Cante and Vernand and operators of the Pinkerton detectives. Both confessed, the police say.

Most of the checks passed were for small amounts, the total being only about $500. When the two were trapped in a room in a downtown hotel, three loaded revolvers were seized by the police and the presence of the weapons caused the officers to attempt to connect the prisoners with recent highway robberies.

RUSH TO TAKE TESTS FOR POSTAL PLACES.

The rush of applicants to take the civil service examination for clerks and carriers at the local postoffice is now on. Secretary Tynan of the Federal Civil Service Board is conducting a series of examinations, and will do so almost daily until the 19th inst. There are more than 600 applicants on the list, most of them women, who may qualify for clerks, but not carriers. It is impossible to handle more than fifty applicants each day, and this examination has been in progress for almost a week. Until recently it has been almost impossible to get a sufficiently large class to take the examination.

CONCERNED OVER LOST PRISONERS.

Three Men Permitted to Go to Bakersfield Unescorted, but Haven't Arrived.

U. S. District Judge Trippet is trying an experiment in allowing three convicted men to proceed unescorted to the Kern County Jail at Bakersfield. James Irvine had been sentenced to fifteen months, Riley C. Collins to twelve months and Leonard Vawter to five months in that jail for breaking into Southern Pacific freight cars.

No word of the men's arrival had been received yesterday, although the judge's order was issued March 31. It is the law and the custom promptly to notify a court of the arrival of prisoners.

So Judge Trippet is wondering whether Messrs. Irvine, Collins and Vawter have not lost their way or perhaps been kidnaped by desperadoes.

HOLDS LAND DESPITE WRONG PRECINCT VOTE

IGNORANCE OF REAL BALLOTING PLACE NOT BAR, SAYS INTERIOR SECRETARY.

An important question has been decided by the Secretary of the Interior, involving the issue raised by an entryman claiming land in another precinct than that in which he is a registered voter, according to word received here yesterday.

It was in an action brought by the Forest Service against Melvin Phillips, involving seventy acres of land in Sespe Canyon, Ventura county, on which Phillips had made homestead entry in 1915. At the end of three years he made his final proof. The Forest Service then filed a protest charging that Phillips had not established a residence on the land. The main contention was that he lived in one voting precinct and was registered as a voter there, while the land was located in another.

The Secretary of the Interior, in an opinion received yesterday by Register Groves and Receiver Mitchell of the local Land Office, held that, even if it be admitted that Phillips registered as a voter and voted outside of the precinct in which the land is located, the fact does not call for the cancellation of the entry, because he swore he did so under the belief that the land covered by the entry was in that precinct and did not know of a voting place in an adjoining precinct in which his land is located until a short time before the hearing.

The case was prosecuted by Assemblyman George R. Wickham for Phillips, and the Register and Receiver decided in favor of the entryman. This view has been affirmed by the Secretary of the Interior, and Phillips gets the land.

GENERAL PROSPERITY DUE, SAYS JEFFRIES.

AFTER TOUR EAST DECLARES SOUTHLAND'S CONDITION TO BE ENVIABLE.

Southern California is in an enviable position industrially, says W. P. Jeffries, who bases this opinion on his recent inquiry into business conditions in the East and Middle West. Mr. Jeffries, who is president of the Angeles Mesa Land Company, while on a business trip East talked with leading business men and bankers in New York, Chicago and other cities. The fact that a Los Angeles national bank recently was one of the three in the country to show an increase in deposits is not accidental, he thinks, but evidence of a sound business condition here more important than it would seem.

The East enjoyed swollen profits during the war to an extent not found here. For this reason the return to normal conditions produced more unemployment and business depression in the East than in this district, and by missing the "silk shirt period" Los Angeles also has missed the reaction, Mr. Jeffries said yesterday. He declares, however, hard times in the East are due to a frame of mind more than to actual economic conditions and that general prosperity is about due. The manufacturer must forget his war-time profits, warns Mr. Jeffries, and labor must realize the necessity of wages in harmony with the changed conditions.

PEEK AT THE STARS.

Mt. Wilson Observatory to be Open to Public.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

PASADENA, April 7.—Mt. Wilson Solar Observatory of the Carnegie scientific institution is to be thrown open to the public on Friday nights, beginning April 15, so that laymen may peek at the moon and stars through the observatory's sixty-inch reflecting telescope.

This is a new departure for the observatory. Announcement of it was made by Dr. George Ellery Hale, the noted scientist, who is director of the institution.

Admittance to the Friday night peeks will be free, but in order to prevent confusion tickets will be required. These may be obtained by addressing the secretary of the Mt. Wilson Observatory, Pasadena. The Friday night viewing will be from 7:30 to 11 o'clock.

Dr. Hale also calls attention to the fact that the observatory's astronomical museum is open to the public free every day from 1:30 to 2:30 o'clock. Visitors are shown the 100-inch telescope. It was found impractical to make this telescope available for the public's gazing at the Friday night affairs.

FOR LIBRARY BONDS.

Business Men's Co-operative Body Indorses Large Bond Issue.

The Business Men's Co-operative Association, in resolutions read to the City Council yesterday, indorsed the request of the Board of Library Directors for the placing before the voters of a $3,750,000 bond issue for a central public library site and building and for the building of branches in the Wilshire and Hollywood districts. The association urges the bond issue be presented to the voters "so that the people of the city may have an opportunity to meet a very great need, and to secure for the citizenship, not only a beautiful and centrally located main library building, but the several branches for which there is such urgent need."

The bond issue requested by the library directors as well as the one of $4,800,000 urged for the development of the harbor are being considered by a special committee of the Council.

REJECT SKEETER BOAT.

City Engineer's Request for Motor Vessel Refused by Council.

City Engineer Griffin's request for $400 to purchase a motor boat for municipal mosquito hunters at the harbor was rejected yesterday by the Finance Committee of the City Council.

"What's the idea of Maj. Griffin's engineering department chasing these mosquitoes?" asked Councilman Criswell, at yesterday afternoon's meeting of the committee. "Health Commissioner Powers is the official mosquito exterminator of the city government.

"Now about this boat. Is it to be used to sneak up on the mosquitoes in the dark? Nothing doing! Let Doc Powers kill 'em."

Divorce Trial Versions on Ship Row Different.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN DIEGO, April 7. — Capt. John A. Tregelles, formerly an officer of the Royal British Marines, a hero of Gallipoli, gave his testimony today against his wife, Margaret Tregelles, in the divorce suit brought by him in the "triangle case" of the British officer, his wife and Mrs. Amy Ernestine Bertha Shute, a wealthy English woman, Capt. Tregelles is suing for divorce on two charges, cruelty and infidelity, and names Attorney Benjamin C. Strang of Pasadena as corespondent. Counter-suit for divorce has been filed by Mrs. Tregelles, on a charge of cruelty. Previous to that a suit was filed by Mrs. Tregelles against Mrs. Shute for asserted alienation of affections of Capt. Tregelles. This suit has never been tried.

This morning Capt. Tregelles told of numerous occasions when he said he was humiliated by the "ungovernable temper" of his wife. He described an incident on board ship when they were coming from Colombia to New York when she called the ship's surgeon a "swine" and her husband was forced afterwards to apologize publicly to the officer.

He told of another time she insulted the officials of the Dupont Powder Company, at Cincinnati, where Capt. Tregelles was employed. She called the officials "vile names" he said. On another occasion he testified that she raised such a disturbance in their room at the Waldorf Hotel in this city that other guests called the clerk to quiet the noise. At that time he said she spat in his face and threw things at him.

Mrs. Tregelles flatly denied most of the charges made against her this morning by Capt. Tregelles when she testified this afternoon. She explained the story of the apology to the officer on the ship on the way from South America to New York in an entirely different way. She said a man with a loathsome disease and running sores on his face and eyes had been examined by the ship's surgeon who had then examined her eyes. She said she objected to the surgeon touching her face after he had touched the diseased man referred to. She told him this and the matter was enlarged upon and reached the ears of the captain of the ship. Her husband then explained the matter to the ship's captain who agreed with her and her husband that the surgeon should have washed his hands before touching her face.

She denied that she had called the Dupont Powder Company's officials vile names and said she did often go into a rage but on provocation. She denied that she met Capt. Tregelles as he had said, through an advertisement, and said she had been introduced to him by a friend.

Two private detectives who had been in the employ of Capt. Tregelles, Walter Shambley and Albert George, testified that on Oct. 28, 1920, they had watched Mrs. Tregelles and Benjamin Strang drive up to Mr. Strang's house at 4:30 in the afternoon and remain there until after 11 o'clock. The detectives said the curtains of the house were pulled down and that after 10 o'clock the lights went out.

W. H. Joyce of San Bernardino, a friend of Mr. Strang's, testified that on October 17 and October 24, two of the dates on which Capt. Tregelles had charged in his complaint his wife and Mr. Strang with misconduct, he had been with both Mrs. Tregelles and Mr. Strang. Capt. Tregelles was asked by Attorney Delong if he based his charges on the evidence of the two detectives who had watched the Strang house for several weeks in October, and he said, "Yes."

At 5 o'clock the testimony was not finished in the case and it was continued.

The trial will occupy several days, it is said. Charles Delong of this city is conducting the suit for Mrs. Tregelles in addition to Mr. Strang, who did not take part in the proceedings today. George F. Rankin of Los Angeles and Wade Garfield of this city represent Capt. Tregelles. The case is being tried before Judge Andrews.

"Mandate" Reduced to Request Enables Attorney to Get Court Halt.

"Justice Follette sends a mandate for this court to adjourn to enable me to appear as attorney in the Guida murder case today, Your Honor," stated Attorney Joseph Ford to Judge Hewitt yesterday.

"I don't know about a mandate," said Judge Hewitt. "Now, then, if it was couched as a request—"

"Pardon me, Your Honor, it was a request," interrupted Mr. Ford.

"That's different. Court will adjourn until Monday," replied Judge Hewitt.

The case on trial in Judge Hewitt's court is the Simons Brick Company's controversy.

LIVE ARTICLES FOR FARM MEN.

College Work in Making of Agriculturists Discussed in "The Times."

"Can a college make a farmer?" is the question that has been asked by more than one thoughtful student of agricultural conditions. It is brought up again for serious consideration by a writer in the Farm and Tractor section of the next Sunday Times. This question is most pertinent at this time because of the fact that large appropriations are being asked for enlarging the work of the University of California's agricultural department. Whatever you think about agricultural college work as a means of furthering agricultural progress, you will be interested in this discussion.

The experiences of home gardeners, as narrated in the Farm and Tractor section, have been among the most interesting and helpful features appearing in the agricultural department of The Times from Sunday to Sunday. There is one of these personal experience stories in the next issue that should prove a real inspiration to intending gardeners. Read "Jurisprudence and Jujubes on a Suburban Acre" and see what a busy Glendale lawyer finds time to do mornings and evenings and odd times by way of cutting down the cost of living.

The Times Farm and Tractor section was the first agricultural publication to report in detail the interesting investigations being made by the State's "bug men" along the lines of scale control by means of that voracious little insect, the Aphycus lounsburyi. It will, therefore, be of interest to all citrus growers to read an article in the forthcoming issue by Harold Compere, of the Plant Pest Control Service, detailing the results of a year's careful observations of the Aphycus under orchard conditions. This little bug, imported from Africa via Australia, may be the solution of the serious scale problem in California and hence the latest news about its work is most timely.

FACES MURDER TRIAL.

Asserted Co-conspirator with Mrs. Maybelle Roe in Court.

A jury was selected in Judge McCormick's court yesterday and Oscar A. Bowers, an engineer, went to trial on the charge of murder. Mrs. Maybelle Roe was recently tried and convicted of the charge of shooting McCullough Graydon, a real estate operator, at Venice. The shooting was the result of an altercation arising from a dispute growing out of the use of a bungalow in Sherman Way. Mr. Bowers was in Mrs. Roe's party on that day. He is purported to have been a co-conspirator.

Attorney Jud Rush, representing Mr. Bowers, declares that his client did not shoot Mr. Graydon, did not want him shot and was not a conspirator. Mrs. Graydon, the widow, was on the stand yesterday and gave practically the same testimony as in the Roe case, detailing the events that led up to the slaying of her husband.

Dep. Dist.-Atty. Keyes is conducting the prosecution. It is said that he will produce new evidence in rebuttal.

The jury is composed exclusively of men.

DIVISION IS SOUGHT.

Community property of an unknown value has been accumulated and the court is asked to determine its value and divide it. Dr. Dunton is charged with having a wife from whom he was not legally separated at the time he remarried.

Charges Police Told Witnesses to Shun Lawyer.

Asking for a court order for witnesses in the case of Edna Duval, accused of manslaughter, to talk to him regarding the case, ex-Judge O. N. Hilton yesterday charged in Judge Reeve's court that police officers had instructed such witnesses not to converse with him as defense attorney. The defendant is charged with responsibility for the death of Richard A. Spann on February 10 in an automobile accident. She pleaded not guilty and her case was set for June 3 for trial.

The defense attorney charged that the police officers took a list of witnesses furnished by the defendant, and then told them not to discuss the case with the defendant's counsel. The court stated that the witnesses would be subpoenaed, would testify and if anything was wrong, it would be placed before the grand jury for investigation.

WHAT COLLEGES ARE DOING

A special course in industrial management and executive development has been started in the evening division of the college of commerce and business administration of the University of Southern California. The class was organized and is conducted by Clayton R. Rogers, director of the Pacific Coast division of the Emerson Institute of New York City. He is now giving a similar course in the day division, which is proving popular. The new class will meet each Thursday evening for fifteen weeks.

The personnel of the debating squad of women students of Pomona College who will clash forensically the latter part of this month with Occidental College, has been chosen. The freshman team also has been selected which will compete with Redlands University soon. They include Lillian Asher, Helen Newkirk, Zelma Langdon, Mary Blaisdell, Erle Simon, Kenneth Goodale and James Carter. The women debaters have already participated in two other debates and have been successful each time. The question to be argued is whether or not the public school-teachers should affiliate with the American Federation of Labor.

Opening of the summer session of the University of Southern California has been scheduled one week earlier than planned, that those already registered may participate in the festivities of commencement and the dedication of the new $600,000 George Finley Bovard Administration Building, June 19. Commencement week will include a recital on the new pipe organ, which is one of the largest in the State. The summer session faculty will include prominent educators from all parts of the United States, as well as the regular faculty of the university.

With the greater part of the college year nearly past, students at the California Institute of Technology are planning for the coming summer vacation. Many are arranging to replenish their financial resources, while several hundred others are expecting to attend the military training camp at Humphreys, Va., for a six weeks' training in military tactics under the direction of the Reserve Officers' Training Corps.

INDICTED AS REDS.

Criminal Syndicalism Is Charged Against Two by Jury.

As a result of a grand jury investigation of the charge that R. Bendig and Louis Allen had 353 pounds of I.W.W. literature in their possession ready for distribution, indictments accusing the two of criminal syndicalism were returned yesterday before Judge Reeve by the inquisitorial body. The two are in the County Jail. Their bail was fixed at $5000.

DOG AIDS CAPTIVE.

Hold Man for Trial Who was Taken With Spaniel's Help.

How a spaniel defeated the well-laid plans of two robbers was told Wednesday in Justice Follette's court by C. H. Wellington of 400 South Rampart Boulevard, during the hearing of Frank P. Carlson, accused of being one of the bandits. The defendant was held to answer. Mr. Wellington testified that he opened his front door to accept a hat box supposed to be for his wife, when he felt a revolver thrust against his side. At that time, according to testimony adduced by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Hill, Mrs. Wellington arrived at the door and was struck by one of the would-be robbers. A spaniel attacked the bandits, causing them to flee. One man escaped, but Carlson was captured and accused.

COURT TO HEAR "LURE" CASE.

Whether the lure of Mabel Pinkston led H. R. Green and John Garrity into a dark alley on December 25, last, resulting in both of them being robbed by Harry O. West and W. C. Morgan, will be placed before a jury in Judge Willis's court. The case went to trial yesterday, and will be resumed today. The defendant and Madge Rhodes were accused of luring the two men to a place where the other two men are said to have held them up. Dep. Dist.-Atty. Heinecke is prosecuting the case.
